Astoria, Oregon, Sunday Morning, March 23, 1879.

No. 69.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Pacific Coast Dispatches.

—Ex-Governor Bradley died at Elko on the 21st, aged 74 years and 3 weeks. The funeral will take place to-day.

—A fire broke out in the Palace hotel Thursday evening, and damaged the contents $5,000. Most of the guests were at dinner and not aware of the fire till all was over.

—The end of the Southern Pacific is now 112 miles east of Yuma. Eight thousand six hundred feet of track was laid on Thursday. The average for the last six days is a little over one and one half miles per day. Grading will be finished to Maricopa summit next week.

Eastern News.

—The New York Tribune interviewed Mitchell, of Oregon, on Thursday, who said: "We shall carry the state next year without the slightest doubt. The democrats have got into a family quarrel that will be fatal to them. They are in a great stew over the recent report on executive expenditures and in bad condition to make a fight. My preference is decidedly for Blaine for next president and so is that of most of Oregon republicans."

—Pacific coast senators will introduce during the extra session a modified scheme for the restriction of Chinese immigration, and it is probable Senator Blaine will take occasion to explain more fully his position in regard to the question. The measure, however will not be pushed to final action and is only designed to keep the subject before the country and in position in which it can be reached early next winter.

Foreign News.

—Many more corpses have been recovered at Szegedin. A fearful smell of decomposed bodies comes from the ruins.

—The rivers Szanior, Maros and White Koros are rising. The dykes at Szentes have been repaired. It is doubtful whether the dykes at Tittel can resist the floods.

—Stanhope, under secretary of state for India, gave notice in the house of commons on the 21st, that he would move a bill on Tuesday authorizing a loan in England for service in India.

—Western newspapers call Talmadge's church the Brooklyn Jabbernacle.

—The Honora met the Oregon at the automatic buoy. She came in in six hours from Tillamook.

—It is understood that the Oregon Central railroad extension will be pushed rapidly to completion. Mr. Koehler is using his best endeavors. The entire west side country is in high spirits and picture in the near future bright prospects and increased prosperity. Their hopes will be fully realized.

—Chief Moses is in Portland, on his way to Washington to see Joseph, and "his accidency." The Oregonian says: "Chief Moses, who was here more than thirty years ago, before there was a house built where Portland now stands, says this river is Wallamet. Judge Dendy has a powerful ally now against Judge Strong."
