TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Pacific Coast Dispatches.

—Thursday night fire was discovered in Jackson's theatre, San Bernardino. It was found that the stage, side scenes, and a portion of the main floor were sprinkled over with coal oil. A pile of rags saturated with oil, was found in one of the dressing rooms and under the stage. The fire was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

—British Columbia feels that she is being trifled with by the Dominion government in the matter of the Pacific railway. Secession is freely talked of in consequence. The representatives of British Columbia at Ottawa in their appeal to the government insists on knowing immediately what is to be done. They demand that work shall be commenced in British Columbia without further delay.

—The district court at Seattle has been occupied two whole days with the famous Bell-town scandal case, in which a young married woman named Lazeau, recently parted from her husband, institutes a suit against the wife of a prominent wealthy citizen named Harkins, to recover five thousand dollars damages for alleged slander. No case ever tried in the territory has created such intense excitement, and the court room is crowded during the entire course of the trial. Many leading families are dragged into it, including the pastor and a prominent member of the Methodist church. The testimony throughout is a perfect storm of filth. The only recourse left was to impeach the character of plaintiff and a certain other young lady who appeared as witness against her, and drag them down to the lowest depths of womanly degradation. The suit will demoralize, ruin and damn all concerned in it. During Judge Burke's argument for the plaintiff Friday evening, the mother of Mrs. Lazeau was carried fainting from the court room. The case went to the jury at 7 o'clock, and in an hour they returned with a verdict for plaintiff, damages three cents. The county must pay the costs, amounting to between four and five hundred dollars.

Eastern States.

—In the Oliver-Cameron suit on the 28th, the defense rested the case and Mrs. Oliver was recalled. She testified that she never slept in a room with Mrs. Henriques; had no conversation with her about Cameron, and never told her, or any other person, that she intended to blackmail him.

—The rival medical schools have entered into a fight over the composition of the national board of health. The president has nominated five allopathic physicians and two homœopaths, and in the senate the former were confirmed, but the latter were objected to, and no action taken.

—The New York Sun of the 28th, says: The cost of Congressman Whiteaker's hurried trip from Oregon to attend the opening of congress including a special palace car from San Francisco to Ogden is estimated from $1,500 to $4,500.

Who is to pay the expenses of this extraordinary trip has not been stated, but is not Mr. Whiteaker.

—The secretary says it is no discredit to the silver dollar that it is not popular. Neither is gold popular. The vaults of the sub-treasury in New York are filled with gold that any body can have in exchange for greenbacks by simply asking, yet but few ask. There is virtually no demand for gold or silver. We have some six millions of subsidiary silver coin in the treasury, which we will pay out when called for; yet there is no demand, or next to none, for that. The fact is, people have become educated in a school of paper money, and they want nothing else if they can get it, that is at all times equal with gold.
