Leave orders at the counting room.

C. A. May has lots of fresh fruit. Handel and Haydn society tonight. Mr. Leinenweber has a very sick child at his house. Norris has added new attractions to his beautiful gallery. Councilman McGuire is getting ready to move to Clatsop. The best seat in the hall can be had for 75 cents at Canfields. Councilman Runey was present at the last meeting of the council. Capt. Wilson has finally obtained a patent for his "feathering" paddle. The picnic excursion to Puget-sound will be almost wholly a failure. Remember that on Saturday evening next another railroad meeting will be held in this city, at the courthouse. Coos bay and Foulweather will have delegates to go before the Board of Engineers personally in the interest of the harbor of refuge. The Iron Queen left Victoria for Astoria on the 3d. So says dispatches to the Gem Reading Room. With the present favorable weather she ought to get in to-day. The Stillman B. Allen is at Geo. W. Hume's dock to-day taking on salmon for Europe. She came down the river taking fish all along. She took 2,500 cases at Badollet & Co.'s. Rev. O. Parker has been offered, has accepted and has been appointed to the Missionary stations at Pendleton and Weston. Mr. Parker will enter upon his new duties on the 1st day of July. This week has been devoted to commencement exercises and closing examinations by a large number of educational institutions of the state. The Astoria schools will make a very excellent showing. The State of California made the "boss" trip from Astoria to the dock in San Francisco in 39 hours and 40 minutes. The Oregon's best trip was 39 hours and 30 minutes from the Columbia river bar to dock. The Sea Waif was not sold in San Francisco. The Sea Waif is 276 tons register, and was built at Nantes, France, in 1873. She stranded in the Columbia river a few years ago, was hauled off, purchased by American citizens, repaired and placed under the American flag under the present name. She still belongs to Mr. G. W. Hume. Gus Sprague writes a splendid business hand. He sent us a letter by the sheriff yesterday telling us that our informant was mistaken as to the charges upon which he was committed to jail. He is there, however, and judging from his hand writing he ought to be in better business, he has apparently had some advantages of education which should have fitted him for other purposes.

Harper's Magazine.

The June number of Harper's Magazine gives the readers of that attractive periodical a pleasant surprise. The pages have been increased in width and the type is larger and handsomer than the old. No change is made in the external appearance of the magazine, the tint and the design of the cover having been retained. The increased size of the page affords better scope for illustration—a feature for which Harper's is distinguished—both for the quality and the number of the wood engravings that adorn its pages. With this beautiful and attractive number the magazine begins in its fifty-ninth semi-annual volume.

The Wildwood Gone.

The ship Wildwood went to sea yesterday. She entered this port one year ago on the 8th; went up river on the 10th and returned laden on the 3d inst. She is the deepest draft that ever passed down the river, but not the deepest that has crossed the bar, by twenty-four inches.

Captured a Bear.

We are informed that on Saturday last Mr. C. F. Thomes and Mr. F. M. Bartholow, at Bay-View, flanked a large black bear, and captured it within five hundred yards of Mr. Thomes house. They now have his skin as a memento of the fun. There are one or two more bear in the same vicinity, whose interest they are watching.

For Tillamook Head.

Col. Gillispie, Major of U. S. engineers, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Brunell, and other gentlemen connected with the engineering and light departments will leave Astoria to-day on board the steamer Shubrick for a trip of observation, to Tillamook head as we understand incidentally, with a view of looking out the site for the proposed light-house in that vicinity.

Sam Levy has letters for Alfred Froustrum. Bergman & Berry have two new boats for sale very cheap, 26 foot keel.

Mother Shipton.

There are so many strange freaks in the weather this year that we have been requested to reproduce Mother Shipton's prophecy. It was originally published in 1448, and republished in 1641. It is as follows:

Carriages without horses shall go, And accidents fill the world with woe; Around the earth thoughts shall fly, In the twinkling of an eye; The world upside down shall be, And gold be found at the root of a tree, Through hills man shall ride, And no horse be at his side; Under water man shall walk, Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk; In the air man shall be seen, In black, in white, in green; Iron in the water shall float, As easily as a wooden boat; Gold shall be found and shown, In a land that's not now known; Fire and water shall wonders do, England shall at last admit a foe; The world at an end shall come, In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

Swallows Homeward Fly.

"One swallow does not make a summer." But many do. One can see hundreds of them twittering over a moist spot in the roadway and alighting to collect mortar for their nests. The swallow is a mason. He gins his nest under the eaves of a house, and if there is a knot-hole or open window, he goes inside and chooses a rafter where the couple build and rear their young. One may see along the sea-shore the soft chalk rock, perforated with holes which these swallows had made for nests. Sometimes a dry bank is chosen for the same purpose. But when the June days come the horizon towards evening is flecked all over with sailing swallows. The whole insect tribe is alive and astir, and they go upward with the warm columns of air. He takes his supper as he sails. Every one of his motions at that time is controlled by his desire to "whoop 'em up!" He opens his mouth like the mouth of an India rubber bag, and on the wing himself, takes his game on the wing, and has one long frolic at supper time. By the millions of swallows sailing over head at evening, know that summer has come. The fly, the mosquito, the juncbing find it out to their cost every evening. Summer has come at last.

Mr. Wieman has recovered his boat loaned on the 20th ult., in the goodness of his heart, to a pair of "honest looking" thieves. It was advertised on the 25th, but this did not prevent a man named Dickson from purchasing it of the thieves for $27 00. The boat was well worth $150 00, and Dickson repainted it so that Nick scarcely knew his own. It is a trifle suspicious in our mind, whether if it had been our boat, sold under such circumstances, we should not let the purchaser follow the thieves awhile.
