A PERILOUS RIDE. Mr. P. L. Cherry, agent at Astoria The Pertions Ride of a Party of Engineers Down the Columbia River.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Henry Thielson, assistant engineer of the railroad division of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, with a party of four men, left the mouth of the John Days river for the pupose of going down to Celi-Raven, that the place may be marked lo. Shortly after starting a dense rendered it impossible for the men in the boat to distinguish the shore line, and the increased swiftness of the current of the river carned the boat along at a speed not realized by the occupants until the barsh, dull roar of the water as it dashed over the head of the cascades below Celilo was heard, and an awful fate seemed inevitable. It was useless to endeaver to bring the boat out of the whirling eddies that now encircled it and the rushing waters seemed to be but playing with the frail bark, as every moment it was drawn near-Tillamook rock on Friday last, landing er and nearer to an almost certain doom, while the wild roaring of the waters as they dashed down into the seething abyss below seemed to hiss and sputter and laugh in a perfect carnival of terror as the terrified inmates of the boat approached the fatal spot. Like a flash, the boat suddenly darted out of the eddy straight to the fall-one minute and the boat would be dashed to pieces, but as if guided by the hands of Providence, the boat caught on a sunken rock just on the verge of the fall, and lying there swinging with the motion of the waters, but leaving the men powerless, facing death, and while saved from it still unable to escape. It was at this one that made the certainty of being carried over the falls inevitable now presented itself. Coming down the river and almost on top of the boat was discovered an immense floe of ice. Notes of a Trip to Astoria in 1868.

We passed on to Astoria, arriving there just before dusk. We were delighted with the improvements gained during the two years we had been absent. Here was a splendid hotel built by Captain Flavel, and rented by Arrigoni as soon as completed, going up close two churches and an elegant hall built by the friends of progress. The streets are very much improved, and everything about the place looks thrifty. The town evidently has a healthy growth. The community is much excited here as elsewhere on the subject of railroads. There is a railroad company to build a railroad from Astoria to Salem already incorporated. There has been an exploration and survey of it as far as Forest Grove in Washington county. It is found every way practicable. The distauce from Astoria to Forest Grove on a straight line is fifty miles. and less than a hundred miles from Astoria to Salem. The route strikes the valley of the Nehalem river about fourteen miles frem Astoria, and follows the valley of that river about twenty miles to where it interlocks with the Tuala tin river. There is no portion of the whole route that will require over sixty feet of rise to the mile. The people of Astoria are very sangaine of accomplishing the work in the next few years. The Nehalem valley is from three to six miles wide, affording some of the rickest and best land yet to be settled near the coast, and is said to abound with groves of the finest timber. We must close, but will write more next week respecting this thriving place. We must not forget to mention the Astoria hotel, kept by the Megler Brothers. It is a first-class house and everyone that goes there once will go again. May their shadows never grow less.

Dg. B. J. Kendall. & Co., Gents .—In reply to your letter I will say that my experience with Kendall's Spavin Cure has been very satisfactory indeed. Three or four years ago I procured a bottle of your agent, and with it, cared a horse of lameness caused by a spavin. Last season my horse became very lame and I turned han out for a few weeks when he became better, but when I put him on the road he grew worse, when I discovered that a ring-bone was forming. I procured a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and with less than a bottle cured so that he is not have, neither can the bunch be found. Respectfully yours.

B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentls:—In Justiceto you and myself, I think I ought to let you know that I have removed two none spavins with "Kendadis Spavin Care," one very large one; don't know how long the spavin had been there. I have owned the horse eight months. It took use four mouths to take the large one off, and two for the small one. I have used 10 bottles. The horse is entirely well, not at all stiff, and no bunch to be seen or felt. This is a wonderful medicine. It is a new thing here, but if it does for all what it has done for me its sale will be very great.

DR. R. J. KENDALL & Co., Sirs :—I tried your Kendall's Spayin Core and it had the desired effect. It cared the spayin which offier treatments failed to do. Statement Made Under Oath. To Whom IT MAY CONCERN.—In the year 185 I treated will Kendall's Spavin Care, a bone spavin of several mouths growth, nearly half as large as a hen's egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard, and he never has been fame nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the hock joints since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure. R. A.
