

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY FEB. 24, 1881. D. C. IRELAND Editor.

Dissatisfaction Among English Farmers.

As the world grows older, people are beginning to discover that they pay high taxes for government luxuries that could easily be dispensed with. In England, a movement is on foot among the farmers to have the church tithes abated or entirely removed.

Farming Under the Sea.

Everywhere upon the coast of eastern New England may be found, ten feet below the water mark, the lichen known as carrageen—the Irish moss of commerce. It may be torn from the sunken rocks anywhere, and yet the little seaport of Scituate is almost the only place in the country where it is gathered and cured.

Oysters Seven Feet Long.

For many years New York has held the palm for its oysters. The term "saddle rock" has become synonymous with extreme excellence and size; but these oysters are dwarfed by a recent discovery made by some scientific gentlemen in the west, but this new bed will not be available to our metropolitan epicures, as the animals have long since been devoured, perhaps by the Adam of the New World.

A Mania for Murdering.

A man with a mania for murdering may be well set down as an undesirable member of society. At least that is what eighteen of Porter Stockton's neighbors thought in New Mexico. Porter Stockton had been all his life an eccentric character.
