—Miss M. E. Whipple, principal of the Astoria public schools, was the recipient of a very pleasant surprise on Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mrs. C. Brown. On returning home from a meeting of the Good Templars she was thoroughly surprised by a number of friends who had taken possession of the house, and merriment was the order until a late hour. The evening was highly enjoyed by all, especially by the fair recipient, who most acknowledge that this party on principal was a decided success.

—Lieut. Fred Schwatka, who is in New York, wrote on the 12th of February that he was able to go around on crutches and expected to start for Salem some time in March, on a visit to his relatives and friends.

—On Wednesday the farmers of the Willamet valley, the warehousemen and wheat buyers of western Oregon met at Salem in convention for the purpose of taking some steps in regard to the buying and selling of wheat and to regulate traffic in the same.

—The appeal of Harry Wintzingerode, found guilty of murder and sentenced to be hanged, was taken up in the Supreme-court at Salem on Tuesday. The general impression prevails that the result of the appeal will be a life imprisonment for young Wintzingerode.

—Stock in Baker county has suffered very little. Ranchers put up hay enough each year to feed their stock six weeks if necessary, hence the slight loss. Hay in Powder river valley is plentiful at present, and can be had for $6.75 per ton in the stack.

—A large transfer boat is being built at Celilo for the purpose of transferring cars of the North Pacific railroad across Snake river at Ainsworth. A horse disease in Washington county has also broke out of a fatal character, and which is prevailing to a considerable extent. G. W. Coggin, of Dilley, has lost eight valuable animals, including the racer Jack Minor, for which he paid $3,500. The disease appears to be of a paralytic character.

English Coffee Houses.
 The English temperance people have long been fighting hot liquor with hot coffee. They very sensibly rely on this more than on lectures for the prevention of drunkenness. A cup of good coffee is furnished for two cents and a hot roll for a cent. This forms a formidable competitor to a glass of hot whisky at a little more than half its price. The coffee houses are furnished with plenty of papers, and the man who sips his coffee may stay as long as he likes to read or talk. The independent laborer who is fed at these coffee houses has the knowledge that he is no recipient of charity, for these coffee houses are among the best paying investments in Britain. Most of the English companies pay a dividend of ten per cent. on the money invested, and many of them more, while all are self-supporting.

—A total of 30,020 acres of land was sold in Baker county last year under the various acts of congress, divided as follows. State lands, 17,800 acres; under pre-emption laws, 2,640 acres; homestead, 3,000 acres; timber culture, 1,440 acres; desert, 4,800 acres; timber lands, 280 acres.

—A Baker city pauper applied to the county judge recently for relief and was promised two sacks of flour on representing that his family was suffering for food. On presenting his order to a dealer the latter set out the two sacks called for, when the man refused to take them because they were only fifty pound sacks. He claimed that his understanding was that he was to have hundred pound sacks, and he loudly objected to being swindled in that way.

—The Bank of British Columbia has brought suit against George Marshall and J. M. Ten Bosch to recover $12,100. Marshall & Co. had an immense amount of grain stored on Pacific dock, Portland, which was damaged by the flood. They had advanced about ninety per cent. of its value to the farmers who owned it. The bank in turn carried Marshall & Co., receiving the warehouse receipts as collateral security. The damage made a deficit in the account to the amount sued for by the bank. Marshall & Co. claim that the bank has recourse to the wheat alone.

Y. M. C. A. Notice.

Syphon Study Lamp.
 Hon. I. W. Case, of Astoria, in placing the new Syphon study lamp on the market, would call the attention of the trade to some of its merits. Its illuminating qualities are not equalled by any study lamp in use. It gives a steady, brilliant light; is free from unpleasant odors, does not drip either when burning or not burning; easily lighted and trimmed, and is without exception, the most convenient lamp to fill ever made. Directions accompanying each lamp. Call upon Mr. Case and buy one. He sells them at remarkable low rates.

From a Prominent Physician.
 Washingtonville, Ohio, June 17th, 1880.
