The Weekly Astorian
Is a mammoth sheet, exactly double the size of the Daily. It is just the paper for the fireless, containing in addition to all the current news, choice miscellany, agricultural matter, market reports, etc. It is furnished to single subscribers at $2.00 per year in advance. A limited number of small advertisements inserted at established rates.

THE CITY.
THE DAILY ASTORIAN will be sent by mail at 75 cents a month, free of postage. Readers who contemplate absence from the city can have THE ASTORIAN follow them, DAILY or WEEKLY editions in any post-office without additional expense. Address may be changed as often as desired. Leave orders at the counting room.

Our regular March weather has begun.
Miss Mary Jewett returned from Clatsop yesterday.
The Melancthon went to sea Thursday evening.
The steamer Sam made a special trip up Youngs river yesterday.
What's got into the weather? Colds and sore throats are quite prevalent at present.
The regular class nights of the Olympic gymnasium, are Tuesdays and Fridays.
The steamer Oregon sailed from Astoria for San Francisco at one o'clock yesterday.
In another column is offered a rare inducement for French immigration by Sheriff Twombly. See notice of land for sale.

Numerous flags were displayed from staffs throughout the city yesterday in honor of the inaugural of President Garfield.
Capt. Brann, formerly master of the revenue steamer Corwin, was a passenger to San Francisco by the outgoing steamer yesterday.

Messrs. Suprenant & Ferguson were awarded the contract for Mr. J. Wm. Welch's building near the Oregon Railway and Navigation company's dock.

The large amount of tin and other material, arriving by each steamer from San Francisco and by ships direct, indicate that the fishing season of 1881 will be unusually lively.

Regular communication of Temple Lodge No. 7, F. and A. M., this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Sojourning brethren in good standing are specially invited to be present. Work in the F. C. degree.

At Wm. Hume's cannery, Mr. F. Gutchell with a force of twenty-nine men is making twenty thousand cans per day. This is the largest day work of this description that we have ever witnessed and is very creditable to the foreman.

The steamship Columbia arrived off the bar yesterday morning at four o'clock and crossed in at six. Although drawing only sixteen and one-half feet she was compelled to remain in Bakers bay six hours on account of the shoalness of water in the river, delaying her arrival at the dock at Astoria until one o'clock.

We are informed that portions of the wreck of the steamer Clatsop Chief and the barge which was in tow at the time of the disastrous collision, lie stranded above St. Helens. The name of the fourth unfortunate man has not yet been ascertained. None of the bodies, so far as known, have yet been recovered.

Capt. B. B. Tuttle, of the postal railway service, received a dispatch on Thursday, from Mr. McKusick, the general agent in San Francisco, in relation to sending the mails overland. Mr. McKusick stated that he had commenced to send the mails overland from San Francisco and instructed Capt. Tuttle to send the mails from Portland by the same route.

Seal fishing near Cape Flattery is thus far recorded as a failure. The schooners return with very few, and report bad weather and strong north-west winds. The Indians could not be persuaded to take their canoes on account of wind and cold. Seals, however, were very plentiful.

The Planetary Relations.
Four planets are now congregated in the western heavens at sunset, Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The last named three form a triangle, Saturn constituting the apex and Venus and Jupiter the extremities of the base. Only a few days ago these three planets were in a line, Venus occupying a position nearest the Sun, Jupiter the central position and Saturn nearest the zenith. Jupiter and Venus have since changed positions. The latter, is pushing her course eastward, has passed to the east of the great belted planet, which is also hurrying westward. Jupiter, consequently, now lies nearest the western horizon. Venus will appear stationary for several days before starting westward, having completed half her course as evening star. Saturn and Jupiter continue on their westward course toward conjunction with the solar orb. The former will be in conjunction with the Sun on the 21st of April; the latter on the following day—the 22d of April. Mercury has also reached his greatest eastern elongation, and is now in the most favorable position for observation. He may be seen immediately after sunset, a little above where the Sun disappeared. It is easy enough to find him, as Saturn and Jupiter act as pointers. Draw an imaginary line through these two planets, continue it toward the horizon, and it will intersect Mercury. Two nights ago his relations with the planetary trinity mentioned above, was more interesting than it is at present. These four celestial bodies then formed a beautiful celestial cross, inclining against the western sky. Mercury marked the foot, Saturn the top and Venus and Jupiter the extremities of the arms. On a clear and cloudless night this planetary congregation attracts universal attention. Venus is queen of the gathering, owing to her great brilliancy. This beautiful planet is so bright that she may be detected in the heavens during the day. Jupiter comes next, and the hours may be divided between Saturn and Mercury, whose brilliancy is about equal. One peculiar feature about these planets is drawn out more strongly than usual now, owing to their nearness to one another—that is, their difference in color, no two being alike. Next to this quartette of planets, the matchless Sirius (not less brilliant now than the giant planet Jupiter), in the southeast, at sunset; the glittering belt of Orion in the south and the Great Dipper in the northeast, claim the unscientific observer's attention.

A Thorn-y Joke.
Love laughs at locksmiths, and it also defies sundry other things, and though it is sometimes delayed, it always proves triumphant. It was so with Will Thorn, the well known mail agent, who has laid off this week to get married. On the night before last he was on his way from East Portland to the home of his intended bride in Portland when a large fire caught in the cable of the Stark street ferry thereby detaining him a full hour and a half. The height of aggravation was reached as he was on his way to be married at the hour when he was suspended, as it were, between the two cities. The speed he made when once freed and ashore is not to be recorded because it was not timed, but it is supposed that he beat the fastest time of his mail steamer.

The following item appeared in the Standard of Thursday: "On Monday night the dwelling of I. Morris, at Salem, was entered by burglars and completely ransacked. Mr. Morris' pants, which were laying on a chair by the bedside, were taken into the front room and $65 and a post-office key taken from the pockets. From his vest they took a silver watch and a gold chain, and a meerschaum pipe. Mr. Sam Dangigler, brother-in-law of Mr. Morris, a resident of Astoria, was sleeping in an adjoining room, and from the pockets of his clothing the thieves took $35, a bunch of keys, silk handkerchief and a pocket knife. A gold watch and chain, valued at $175, in his vest pocket, was overlooked. No clue to the thieves has been found." The gentleman from Astoria, who was robbed, was Mr. S. Dangigler, not Mr. Sam Dangigler, as the Standard has it. He has since returned to Astoria and has received information from Salem that no clue to the robbery has been found.

Marvel not that I say unto you, ye must pay the printer. Whosoever neglecteth to pay the printer, hath not eternal life abiding in him. Who hath sorrow, who hath woe, who hath the nightmare? They who forget to render unto the printer his just dues. If a man live many years and payeth not for THE ASTORIAN, behold he shall not die in peace till he hath restored to the printer that which he hath withheld.

Great Coal Fields of the North.
Puguet-sound Cor. Chicago Times.
The coal mines of Puget-sound are the most extensive and valuable of those of any state in the Union, and it is only recently that a large traffic in that commodity has been created. All the various rivers running into Puget-sound pass over immense coal fields of most excellent quality, bituminous and anthracite. The largest of these fields is on the Skagit river, which is navigable for 100 miles from its mouth, and only partially explored on either of its shores. The next two largest coal fields are on the Stillaguamish and Black rivers. These mines are only imperfectly worked, yet they afford a large revenue to their owners, who have a line of ships to freight the product of their three mines to San Francisco at all seasons of the year, beside what is sold to foreign vessels of other nations. Here, then, is a vast wealth for which Washington territory never got credit; yet it is of greater value and duration than that of Pennsylvania and Ohio combined.

There is a man in Astoria so thin that he had a row of buttons put on his umbrella cover and wears it for an ulster.

The state teacher's association will convene at Portland on the 12th of July, continuing in session for three days.

Some enterprising citizens of Olympia are about forming a company to purchase an artesian boring machine, the object being to find whether they have salt, oil or coal in paying quantities.

The Seattle Daily Post says: "There is no doubt the Indians are becoming civilized. They are gradually leaving old customs and superstitions and accepting the belief of the white men, so that by the time they become thoroughly civilized they will all be dead. We often see a return to the old cheerful customs of their fathers, as the following a short time ago at an Indian village on the coast of Vancouver's island. A native woman was seized with a low fever, and while she was yet alive a consultation of Indian medicine men was held and it was decided to bury her alive, the tribe thinking by that means the spread of the fever might be prevented. So a box was prepared, the living woman forced into it and buried. At the village of another tribe a medicine woman prescribed for a sick Indian who died, whereupon a son of the dead man shot the woman."

To Let.
Several furnished or unfurnished rooms at Mrs. Munson's lodging house. Also, a few persons can have board if required, either ladies or gentlemen.

J. W. Munson
Is getting impatient waiting for some of those promises to pay balances due on account of steamer Magnet. He don't want to make costs, but is liable to do so.

Mallets, Gaff and Copper Handles.

Cannerymen work will be done in good style by Henry Gallon, Astoria, Oregon. If you will give him your orders now he can be doing the work in full times, making it advantageous to all parties.

Auction or no auction, Adler's large stock, recently brought up by him from San Francisco, has so rapidly sold that he was compelled to leave again for San Francisco by the last steamer to replenish his store with all the latest novelties in his line. He is agent for the standard makes of pianos, organs and all kinds of musical instruments of which he will continue to keep a full stock.

The new improved Franconia range, kept by Magnus C. Crosby, stands at the top of the market.

Mr. John Rogers, of the Central Market, has made arrangements to keep all the finest fresh fish, etc., in their season.

A full assortment of counter and grocers scales can be found at M. C. Crosby's, at bottom prices.

Magnus C. Crosby has a first-class workman, and is prepared to do all kinds of jobbing in tin, sheet iron and copper, plumbing and steam fitting. Full satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Oh say! young man if you want to take your girl for a ride, and can't on account of the lameness of your horse you should procure a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure at once, for nothing is better for man or beast. See ad.

Mr. Frank Young of the I. X. L. store, will leave on the Columbia, for San Francisco on the 9th inst., to purchase spring stock. Orders left with him will receive careful attention.

For a first-class oyster stew, fry, pan-roast or fancy roast, go to Roscoe's on Main street, opposite N. Loeb's. Families supplied by the hundred or the sack, opened or in the shell.

Fresh leaf lard at Warren and Eaton's.

Syphon Study Lamp.
Hon. I. W. Case, of Astoria, in placing the new Syphon study lamp on the market, would call the attention of the trade to some of its merits. Its illuminating qualities are not equalled by any study lamp in use. It gives a steady, brilliant light; is free from unpleasant odors; does not drip either when burning or not burning; easily lighted and trimmed, and is without exception, the most convenient lamp to fill ever made. Directions accompanying each lamp. Call upon Mr. Case and buy one. He sells them at remarkable low rates.

From a Prominent Physician.
Washingtonville, Ohio, June 17th, 1880. Reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure and having a valuable and speedy horse which had been lame from spavin eighteen months, I sent to you for a bottle by express, which in six weeks removed all lameness and enlargement and a large splint from another horse, and both horses are to-day as sound as coals. The one bottle was worth to me one hundred dollars. Yours truly, H. A. Bertolotti, M. D. Read advertisement.

Central Hotel.
The Central hotel, near the steamship dock is now open for the reception of guests, where the well known caterer, Mr. Anton Deleh will always be found ready to wait on his patrons. He has had the above named house thoroughly refitted by Messrs. Pike and Stockton, our well known artists, Call and see him, as he has the finest brands of liquors and cigars to be had in the city.

Tin Plate, Pig Tin, Etc.
Geo. W. Hume keeps constantly on hand, and to arrive a full line of fishermens and cannery supplies, at prices which defy competition. Parties wishing groceries and those intending to run mess houses should inspect goods and obtain large discount from regular price.

AMUSEMENTS.
HILL'S VARIETIES.
Geo. Hill, proprietor and manager. Fred Gore, stage manager. A. Ostrander, leader of orchestra. Geo. Lambert, leader of brass band. Tonight new first part, new acts, and new olio. Mr. Nickerson in his funisms. Mr. Staley in his champion eel dance. Mr. Morice in new songs. Miss Morrison with her beautiful localities. Look out for our bill of March bill when Hayes will march forth. The first part of the entertainment will conclude with "a trip around the world in twenty minutes" and a beautiful ballad. Continued success of Miss Lou Baldwin in her excellent songs, and dances, and beautiful ballads. We now have fourteen excellent musicians in the brass band and an orchestra of five. Mr. Hill has proven himself a very popular caterer to the public tastes and will continue to exert himself to do so in the future. Price of admission remains the same. Nine people on the first part, and an exhibition equal to any on the coast. Mr. Hill invites criticism. Come and see for yourself. New orchestral selections and new music on the grand stand under the leadership of Mr. George Lambert at 6:20 P. M. The entertainment will begin at 7:20 P. M. Entrance on Benton street. Private boxes on Chenamus. To-night, our new play the "Auction Store." Scenarii, Chas. Nickerson; Squelcher, Henry Staley; Buster, Chas. E. Barnes; policeman, Morrice. Other characters by the full company, buyers, capers, buns, etc., etc. First appearance of Miss Lou Baldwin, also the wonderful child artist Little Ida.

Barnett's Cocaine.
The best hair dressing in the world. Barnett's cocaine always irritates, removes all tendency to dandruff, invigorates the action of the capillaries in the highest degree, and has earned a deserved reputation for promoting the growth and preserving the beauty of the human hair. Ladies dressing their hair elaborately for the evening will find that it imparts a healthy natural gloss to the hair, and will cause it to retain its shape for hours.

Barnett's flavoring extracts are used and endorsed by the best hotels, confectioners and grocers throughout the country. They are perfectly pure.

A cough, cold or sore throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable lung disease or consumption. Brown's Bronchial troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in asthma, bronchitis, cough, catarrh and the throat troubles which singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's bronchial troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.

When you want a dish of nice Eastern Oysters done up a la mode, or a good steak, or a fragrant cup of coffee, call at Frank Fabres on the roadway, and he will accommodate you. Open at all hours.

Gray's wood yard is now fitted up on the wharf foot of Benton street, and prepared to deliver wood to any part of the city sawed to any length, and full measure.

Since the Chinese started to brew "cheap San Francisco beer" there is little or no demand for that article any more. Call for the Columbia brewery beer, if you want something good.

Frank Faber has removed into Dr. Kinsey's building on Water street. On the road to the steamer dock from down town, before breakfast, it will now be handy to drop in and get a cup of coffee.

HORSE
And his Diseases, by
B. J. KENDALL, M.D.
Full of Valuable and Practical Information, and containing an INDEX OF DISEASES.

Which gives the symptoms, cause and the best treatment of each; a table giving all the principal drugs used for the Horse, with the ordinary dose, effects, and antidote when a poison; a table with an engraving of the Horse's teeth at different ages, with rules for telling the age of the Horse; engravings showing the important points in the structure of the horse, also illustrating positions assumed by sick horses in different diseases. A valuable collection of receipts, many of which would cost a horse-owner three to five dollars each.

EVERY FARMER SHOULD OWN THIS BOOK.
Thousands who have seen it commend it, and many good horsemen have extolled it in the highest terms, even stating that they prefer it to books which cost $5 or $10. Do not throw away your money in the purchase of costly books on the Horse, which are so full of Latin phrases and technical terms as to be unintelligible to the average reader but.

BUY KENDALL'S TREATISE.
A book of 100 pages, in paper covers, giving you more practical information than is contained in some large volumes at far higher cost. Having examined this book thoroughly we are satisfied in.

HORSE-OWNER
Would hesitate a moment about investing 25 cents in its purchase, if he did not know the value of its contents. Recognizing the desirability of having such practical information as our farming friends daily need in their business, provided at reasonable cost instead of being obliged to pay the enormous profits demanded by the Publishers of most Agricultural Books, we have secured
Several Hundred Copies
Of this valuable little Treatise on the Horse, single copies of which we shall be pleased to mail to any reader of this paper, postage prepaid by us, on receipt of 25 CENTS.
