Max. Wagner is making extensive preparations at the Great Eastern for a grand opening of his Bowling-alley on Saturday evening. Lookout for a grand time.

The telegraph reports that the City of Peking brought 990 Chinese passengers to San Francisco. Why didn't they say a thousand—no harm to lie for one Chinaman.

Mine host Al. Zieber, of the Clarendon, Portland, and Chas. Kuhn, etc., are in the city, stopping at the Occident. They return to Portland to-morrow.

The sailing of the steamship Columbia from Portland has been postponed from 3 o'clock this morning to 9 o'clock a. m. This is to take advantage of the tide.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen lodges of Salem will give an excursion to Independence this (Thursday) evening, March 24th, in which every one, with their sisters and their cousins and their aunts are invited to join.

The Oregonian says: On account of high water and strong currents in the Columbia this winter, instead of low water as usual, the expense of towing logs to this city from down river points has been nearly double the customary price. Tugs are engaged by the hour, and they can make very little progress against the tide. A prominent lumberman paid yesterday for towing one raft of logs from the neighborhood of Oak point, $442.

Funeral of Henry H. Jackson.

The services at the funeral of the late Mr. Henry H. Jackson yesterday were largely attended. A short preliminary service was held at the family residence of the deceased, after which the casket containing the mortal remains was escorted to Grace Episcopal church by the following named citizens as pall bearers: Messrs. J. W. Robb, I. W. Case, D. K. Warren, A. P. Anderson, Columbus Brown, C. W. Hanson and Capt. G. Reed. At the church the coffin was met by the rector, Rev. A. T. Perkins, who, assisted by the choir, conducted the beautiful and impressive prescribed burial service, commencing "I am the resurrection and the life, etc." after which the reverend gentleman preached to the large audience present, a most earnest, instructive and consolatory discourse from James, first chapter and third verse, "The trying of your faith worketh patience." At the close of the sermon the congregation joined with the choir in singing what was announced to be the favorite hymn of the deceased, "Nearer my God to thee," after which the funeral procession wended its way to the cemetery on the hill, where the Rev. Mr. Perkins read the closing portion of the burial service, after which all that was mortal of our dear friend and fellow citizen Henry H. Jackson, was left to mingle with its kindred dust. It is needless to add that the stricken and bereaved widow and her five fatherless children have the deepest sympathy of this community in this their day of affliction. It is with grateful pleasure we can add that by the provident care of the deceased, those whom he has left behind are not left destitute, he having carried a policy for $3,000 in the New England Life Insurance company.

Our New Game Birds.

The Mongolian sand grouse, eleven in number, sent from China by Consul Denny, were taken over to Skipanon yesterday by Mr. H. Carnahan and set at liberty between that place and the Sea-side. These birds were greatly admired by all who saw them, and if they are not destroyed, no doubt we will have an entirely new breed of game birds. Great care should be taken by hunters not to kill any of this species of game. They may be readily distinguished from any other game bird at present in this vicinity, being about the size of a quail, of a brownish-yellow color and have a foot resembling that of a mole, as described in Mr. Morgan's letter. We would like to see every resident at Clatsop and vicinity and keepers of seaside resorts keep this matter strictly in mind and caution their guests against destroying them.

Clatsop Races.

On Saturday next, weather permitting, a race will take place on Clatsop beach between Capt. Flavel's Tillie W. and Mr. C. A. McGuire's Nellie, for a purse. The distance to be run will be three-quarters of a mile. The beach is in splendid condition for a track of any length. The steamer Sam will make two trips to Skipanon, conveying people to and from. The race will take place about two o'clock p. m. If the weather is unfavorable the race will be postponed to take place on the first pleasant day thereafter.

In Bidgetts valley, about fourteen miles from Corvallis, on Monday, Amos Wood shot and fatally wounded John Hutchinson. The cause grew out of a long existing feud.

More recent advices from Lieut. Schwatka report him en route home, but he will make several stoppages on his way. We understand that the Presbyterian church at Salem has taken time by the forelock and has already secured his services for his initial lecture in this state.

The Wall-walla Watchman, speaking of the loss of cattle, says: "John Bush, out of 300 head, lost fully 200 head. Martin Luckenbill, out of 300 head, has about seventy-five left. Schuler & Bachman, out of 150, saved forty head. Harvey Shaw, in horses, lost twenty-five out of 100. How much he lost in horned stock is yet unknown, but $3,000 will not pay for it. Others along the Touchet lost in proportion, and the loss to the country is incalculable."

Have you seen Prof. Adler's musical wonder, the Organina, if not do so; it was admired by hundreds of our citizens since its arrival.

Another Steamboat Line.

The steamer Fleetwood, now in course of construction in Smith Bros. lumber yard, received her boiler yesterday and will be finished within thirty days. She is 120 feet long and is modeled very much like the State of California. It is thought that she will steam seventeen miles an hour. Her owner, Capt. U. B. Scott, informed a representative of the Oregonian yesterday, that as soon as finished she will be run as a passenger and light freight boat between this city and the Cascades. The launch Gold Dust which is now being enlarged will run from the upper Cascades to The Dalles in connection with the Fleetwood. Transfers over the portage will be made by two four-horse Concord coaches. The boat will leave Portland from Morrison or Alder street deck at 7 a. m., and return at 5 p. m.

For thirty years Brown's bronchial troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction.
