Our list of tonnage is increasing apace.
The Signet arrived down yesterday from Portland.

Capt. Davis, of Ilwaco, is in the city making purchases for his store.

The Mary Blundell sailed from Rio into this port in ninety-two days.

Jon. Day of the Portland detective force arrived down yesterday evening.

Mrs. Winch and Mrs. Atwood, of Portland, are at the Occident for a few days.

The ship Ringlander, from this port, arrived at Queenstown on Wednesday.

Mr. Holden will do the selling tonight, "assisted by Frank Keeler with a license."

Mr. John Badollet enjoyed a luge-ride to upper Astoria yesterday, in company with Mr. John Hobson.

The Knights of Pythias will soon have a lot, and will then immediately commence the construction of a hall upon it.

Mr. W. W. Ward of Ilwaco has the dead shot for ague chills. He also has a positive remedy for inflammatory rheumatism.

The advertisement of Mr. Keeler in THE ASTORIAN to day is an indication of the stock which he has to sell—a big one.

The cargo of the Clan Grant comes to Rodgers Meyer & Co., and is being discharged at Capt. Hiram Brown's Main street dock.

We shall begin to think after a while that the Ledger man actually believes that Tacoma has sea-port pretensions, as preposterous as is the idea.

Mr. J. B. Stevenson, of Fort Clatsop, called yesterday. He says all are busy "making hay while the sun shines" over that way, burning coal, getting out wood, bark, etc.

Temple lodge, No. 7, A. F. and A. M. meet this evening. As work will be done in the F. C. C., all brothers in good standing, and all sojourners, are specially invited to be present.

Mr. Alex. Campbell has just received from Arizona a pair of beautiful red bats which are a curiosity worth seeing. Alex. takes pleasure in showing these wonderful animals to any who may call.

Keelers auction puts in mind of those good old days of yore when Sally Brown and I slid down old Grimes' cellar door. The goods are a little different from those represented in the cut, but all are attractive.

In the Swedish Lutheran church at Upper Astoria divine services will be held on Sunday, May 8th, at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Also preaching on Saturday evening at 7:30. All the Scandinavians are cordially invited. J. Vender, pastor.

Thus far this season, as many cases of fish have been put up on the Sacramento river as were put up in all of 1880. The reason assigned for the extraordinary run there this year is: that propagation pays. Here the slack run is an evidence of the fact that non-propagation does not pay.

Officer Riley's dog chased Auditor Cardwell home night before last, and if Dick had not closed the gate just as he did behind him there is no telling what the consequences might have been. To appreciate the escape one should see the gate which Cardwell so suddenly closed. A parallel bar on top of the fence.

Mr. C. S. Dow of fort Clatsop called yesterday. We remember well Mr. Dow's first call when he came out an emigrant from Quebec about two years ago. He's not the least bit sorry that he came to Oregon; and would not return to Bromo county to-day if guaranteed a whole township of land free from debt. That's the way we like to hear the new comers talk. They know how it is there—and here as well.

Jupiter.
Through all past wonderful winter, with its anachronisms of water in April and snows in January, the steadfast heavens have kept their daily blue and gold untarnished. Yesterday, today and forever, the planets hold on their way, and the stars rise and set as they have risen and set since the world began. Buffeted about as the people of the world have been by fitful storms and tempests, in perils oft by water, with temper worn threadbare by weary weather, and heart made sick by the hope of spring deferred, one turns with a sense of relief from earth to sky. Happy is the astronomer who can escape through his telescope into the measureless fields of upper air. Very much of his valuable time during the past half year has been bestowed upon Jupiter. Something has been the matter with Jupiter. Not even the astronomer knows what, but the signs of agitation are unmistakable. His atmosphere, Jupiter's, seems to have been in a state of unquiet activity; a huge red spot, evidently running on schedule time, has swung round him every ten hours, while smaller spots, of varying sizes and colors, have appeared at irregular intervals. Just now Jupiter is so far from us, and is so obscured by the rays of the sun that it is impossible to make successful observations; but the almost daily changes in the weather tell of his numerous changes.

On the 5th Capt. John D. Merriam, of Astoria, was continued by the senate as collector for the district of Oregon.

The Clan Grant arrived yesterday in tow of one of Capt. Flavel's tugs, with an opposition pilot on board the vessel, Mr. Field.

Messrs. Geo. H. Hudson and John S. Laidlaw of Fisherton, and Mr. Geo. T. Myers of Rainier, were at the Occident last evening.

Dr. J. M. Dixon, of fort Vancouver, is in the city. He comes for the purpose of breathing the pure air of the coast, and general expansion.

Among the arrivals at the Occident yesterday from the forts, were Maj. Throckmorton, Lieut. Sol E. Sparrow, and J. E. Gaudy and wife.

The Harrisburg Nucleus informs us that Mr. Ben Holladay, the original proprietor of the Oregon and California railroad, is expected in Oregon this month.

The vacancy in the family of Mr. E. C. Holden, and in the Presbyterian church choir, by the marriage and removal of Miss Esther Holden, is well supplied by the presence of Miss Lizzie B. Norris.

Four Pullman sleepers for the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, now in San Francisco, will be forwarded by sailing vessels. It is expected that Walla-walla sleeping cars will be running by June 1st. Mr. W. F. Shields has been appointed manager for Oregon and Washington.

The lumbering business of Puget-sound is so rapidly increasing that the number of tug boats engaged in the business of towing lumber laden ships, barks of logs, and coal vessels, is not large enough and another tug is to be built at Seattle. The machinery will be made by the Seattle iron works. This tug will have a condensing engine of 125 horse power. Both the boat and machinery will be put up as rapidly as possible.

At the meeting of the bondholders of the Oregon and California railroad in Frankfort, on the 5th, President Villard's plan for reorganization of the road was adopted, 580 to 19. Messrs. Villard, Bretherton and R. D. Peebles were appointed trustees of the road. Villard, Endicott, R. B. Pullman, Horace White, W. H. Starbuck, Bretherton and T. F. Oakes were appointed directors, with power to nominate four others at the next general meeting to be held in October.

The following bill, if it could become a law in every sea-board state would give new life to our merchant marine. It has been submitted to the tax commissioners of New York for consideration: 1. All vessels registered at any port in this state, and owned by an American citizen or association, or by any corporation incorporated under the laws of the state of New York, engaged in ocean commerce between any port in the United States and any foreign port, are exempted from all taxation in New York state for state or local purposes. 2. This act takes effect immediately.

The mail between Lewiston and Walla-walla is called a daily mail and it ought to go through in one day, instead of occupying the better part of two days. The Teller thinks that the postal agent could have all mail matter from below Walla-walla destined for north Idaho, distributed on board the cars and placed in sacks so that they can be immediately transferred to the stage at Walla-walla on the arrival of the cars and the stage push through to Lewiston that day, then the mail carrying would approximate to what is wanted. In 1861-2 the stages made their regular and through trips between Lewiston and Walla-walla in one day, and why should they not now?

Flashes from the Wires.
BY MAIL AND TELEGRAPH.
Victor Hugo will be the next great man about whom to write extensive funeral notices. He is quite ill.

The Whitaker trial gives experts a fine chance to experiment in the detective business upon handwritings.

News from the Transvaal is disquieting. A large meeting of the Boers was held a few days ago, whereat extreme views relative to terms of ultimate settlement.

The ratification of the Chinese treaties was finally accomplished on the 5th, after a short debate and with much greater approach to unanimity than had been expected.

There is no disguising the fact that the worlds fair is as good as dead, and the commission is considering the most suitable means of closing it up. All subscriptions do not exceed $1,000,000. Money received will be returned.

Mr. Villard pronounces the Shurtz story, in connection with the Northern Pacific railroad, void of any truth whatever. He has never been invited to become president of the Northern Pacific railroad when the latter should come under control of the Villard combination.

Carlyle's niece sends to the press a copy of Carlyle's instructions dated 1866, solemnly prohibiting the publication of his reminiscences, without the strictest editing. She adds that she never understood that he had revoked these instructions by oral declaration, as Fraude alleges.

Horse Education.
In something written we have an indistinct recollection of having made reference to a general disposition among boys in their teens, as well as boys of maturer years, to enlighten and bless the world with their profound knowledge of the horse and his history. Our books and newspapers are full of this kind of literature, and it varies in style from the production of the child at school, commencing with: The horse has four legs and a tail; up to the eloquent tribute of the scholar when he quotes from Job: That his neck is clothed with thunder and the glory of his nostrils is terrible. He smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains and the shouting. Between these two extremes of the child at his first school composition, and the professional literature, we have every grade of pretension, and each professing to have mastered the whole subject. As we approach the close of this nineteenth century, we begin to look for something better in this department of knowledge from those who assume to instruct. And it is to be found in Kendalls Treatise on the horse, sent by mail to any person for twenty-five cents, postage paid. Apply to THE ASTORIAN office, or address D. C. Ireland, Astoria, Oregon.

—Carl Adler will sell his entire stock of wall-pockets, brackets and picture frames at a great sacrifice as he has determined to close out and quit that line of trade.

—Since the Chinese started to brew "cheap San Francisco beer" there is little or no demand for that article any more. Call for the Columbia brewery beer, if you want something good.

—All bitters are whiskey in a disguised form. It is far better and more honorable for a man to "brace up" to a bar and call for whiskey than to sneak in the back door of his house with a bottle of bitters under his coat. It's whiskey in a bottle "all the same." No whiskey in Pfander's Oregon Blood Purifier.

—Get your legal blanks at THE ASTORIAN office. A full line of over two hundred styles.
