Young America rejoices that the Cornell boys of New York have got their oar in for the Hanlan regetta in English waters, without concession; and that Lorillard's colt won the derby at Epson Downs on the 1st. We soon will know now, whether Hanlan is a the style of Iroquois the victor.

The treasury department has issued a circular letter relative to tion of officers of the inspection by the owner service in general, as well as for information of the traveling pubproofs of violations of the steamboat laws, in order that offenders may be prosecuted. Inspectors Home Cured Hams and will be required to exact from captains and owners strict compliance in all cases with instructions.

The method of treating political publican partizan journals, is very queer. They seem delighted in exposing to public gaze only the offals of the party, and show by so doing that their brains are as full of trichina as American pork was said to be by that blasted foreigner to whom Secretary Evarts addressed his regards officially a few months since. But, lest some of these scholarly and classical writers presume that we are meddling with their personalities, and come back at us with quotation marks: "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," etc., and as this is no squabble of ours, we'll just stand

He then withdrew the nominations, apparently not because he had discovered that he was deceived, but because he supposed that another nomination might be defeated. The withdrawal of these nominations throws doubt and suspicion upon the executive action. It suggests that they were not made for the benefit of the service, but for some other purpose, and it damage raises a question whether all other nominations have been determined by the same considerations."

A terific hail storm extended from New Hackensack to Fishkill plains, New York, on the 1st. Grain everywhere was destroyed;JUNE 4, 1881 corn and young fruit killed. The storm lasted three-quarters of an hour. Some of the hailstones were two inches in diameter. In places hailstones were a foot deep.
