

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: SUNDAY, JUNE 12, 1881.

D. C. IRELAND Editor.

How, Where, When.

Remark upon the dull times at Astoria, the wide awake correspondent of the Oregonian says: Notwithstanding all of which, we are endeavoring to be jolly under creditable circumstances, patiently waiting for something to turn up which will usher in the good time coming, and therefore shout with the sanguine and irrepressible editor of THE ASTORIAN, Vive la Villard, simply on general principles, and without much inquiry as to the appropriateness of the exclamation, as applied to the interests of Astorians.

If the Oregonian correspondent, or any other man; has a better person for Astoria than Mr. Villard, why just trot him out? THE ASTORIAN considered the fitness of the thing when it exclaimed Vive la Villard, but if anybody can do better, let us know how, where, when.

Diphtheria is an epidemic in Ludington, Michigan. One hundred and twenty children have died out of a population of 4,000. The schools are closed and the police guard houses where cases are known to be, to prevent communication.

The Turk is beginning to suspect Italy of designs on his dominions, and fears that the Italians may pursue the same course in Tripoli as the French did in Tunis. There was much marveling at Italy's complacency over the operations of France in Africa, but the riddle seems to be clearing up. As usual in European complications it is a case of gobble.

Anxiety is the poison of human life. It is the parent of many sins, and of more miseries. In a world where everything is doubtful, where you may be disappointed, and be blessed in disappointment; what means this restless stir and commotion of mind? Can your solicitude alter the case or unravel the intricacy of human events? Can your curiosity pierce through the cloud which the Supreme being hath made impenetrable to mortal eye? To provide against every important danger by the employment of the most promising means is the office of wisdom; but at this point wisdom stops.

The San Francisco Examiner declares that the eastern press has an exaggerated idea about the cost of the residence of the railroad men of San Francisco. As a matter of fact, there is not a single residence in San Francisco that cost, ground and all, $1,000,000 or one half of it. The most costly one is that of Mrs. Mark Hopkins, and that cost, furniture, decorations and all, a trifle more than $400,000. Governor Stanford's house, adjoining it, of which so much has been said, cost less than $250,000. Mr. Crocker's cost $300,000 or thereabouts.

Physiologically, soup has great value for those who hurry to and from their meals, as it allows an interval of comparative rest to the fainting stomach before the more substantial beef and mutton is attacked. Rest before solid food being as important as rest after it. Let a hungry and weary merchant or professional begin boldly with roast beef, and what is the result? The defeat is often as sudden as was the attack. When the body is weary, the stomach cannot stand the shock of an ill masticated half pound of beef. But if a small plate of soup be taken, nourishment will soon be introduced, and strength to receive more substantial material will follow.

The Supreme-court of the United States has decided that parties buying policies of insurance upon the lives of individuals can only claim the amount of money actually due to them out of the policy. Any excess collected from a company can be recovered in a court of law by the heirs of the person insured. This decision, recently rendered, is a matter full of interest for parties who are in the speculative life insurance business. This little game, it would seem, has its limitations as a matter of profit. If the heirs of deceased persons whose lives have been heavily insured, do not take advantage of their opportunities they are not the style of heir to which the country is accustomed.

Some horrid brute has discovered that the difference between a woman and an umbrella is: that there are times when you can shut an umbrella up.

A cheerful countenance is nearly as good for an invalid as healthy weather. To make a sick man think he is dying, all that is necessary is to look half dead yourself.

The heathen Chinese is learning the adulterating practices of his christian neighbor. It is reported 53,000 pounds of willow leaves were recently collected at a single port of China, to be mixed with teas. Things are coming to a bad pass when even the honest heathen can't be trusted.

Letter From Mr. Davidson.

Astoria, May 26, 1881. EDITOR ASTORIAN: It is with pleasure that I call the attention of your readers to the fact that I have established a branch photography gallery in Astoria, opposite the Court-house. I earnestly invite every citizen of your town and vicinity to visit it and examine the display of pictures, firmly believing that the result of each one will be that my work is not only of the best but that the prices are reasonable. All the finishing will be done at my home gallery in Portland and mailed direct to the customer. The operator in charge is an accomplished artist and has an abundance of patience with children and nervous people. I am prepared to do all kinds of viewing, coloring, copying, and enlarging to any size. In all departments, I will see that my customers go away satisfied, and respectfully solicit their patronage. Very truly, J. G. DAVIDSON, Photographer. Corner First and Yamhill streets, Portland.

Pleasure Gardens.

Good healthful exercise improves and makes one healthy, consequently it would be well to exercise more and thereby be assured of good health. Dr. Wilson (of circus fame) are about to fill a want long felt in Astoria, during the summer season. They have now in course of construction all the machinery and appliances necessary to the carrying on of a pleasant family summer resort or pleasure gardens, consisting of dancing, swinging around the circle, by motive power or a whirly-gig, ten-pins on a new principle, etc. Refreshments will consist of all the delicacies of the season. Admission free. Location central. No intoxicating drinks sold on the grounds. Further particulars hereafter, as they propose to advertise.

To Live Men.

THE ASTORIAN has now reached a circulation which places it at the head of the list of Oregon dailies, and insures to advertisers thereof a more benefit for the amount paid than may be secured elsewhere. To those who wish to reach the largest number of readers at the smallest expense, we offer the columns of an attractive daily, the success of which from the very start has been far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

S. Danziger, San Francisco clothing store, has the largest and best selected stock of clothing in the city. Also, goods, furnishing goods, boots and shoes, trunks and valises, hats and caps.

Ask your druggist to show you a large bottle of Ammonia Cough Syrup, and read the label. We can honestly recommend it as the best. Try it.

Dr. Welch has arrived in the city for the practice of dentistry. His rooms are No. 10, Occident hotel. He will remain in Astoria about ten days.

J. H. D. Gray is now selling Wheat, Bran and Feed of all kinds at reduced rates, and has also a fine lot of Ash and Veneer Maple Wood on hand for sale.

In nine cases out of every ten, the cold, coughs and catarrhs proceed from and originate in the stomach and bowels. Pfunder's Blood Purifier is a certain cure.

Before purchasing goods of anybody else, call on Inspector S. Danziger. You are welcome. I will gladly show my goods, no matter whether you buy or not. New goods by every steamer. S. DANZIGER.

Peter Wilhelm has established a first class saloon in C. H. Page's building, on Squemoque street, near the bell tower, and has appointed Messrs. Wm. Bock & Co. his agents. The best of everything in the line of wines, liquors, beer, cigars, etc., will be kept on hand.

Prof. A. L. Francis, the experienced and popular piano tuner, arrived last evening, and will remain in the city one week. He is prepared to furnish the best pianos and organs now made in the east. All orders left at the Occident hotel will be promptly filled.

Capt. J. H. D. Gray is now prepared to supply the best qualities of fir, hemlock, vine maple, spruce limbs, etc. Leave orders at the wood yard, foot of Benton street.

For a first-class oyster stew, fry, pan-fry or fancy roast, go to Rose's on Main street, opposite N. Loeb's. Families supplied by the hundred or the sack, open or in the shell.

F. Sherman & Co. begs leave to notify the public of Astoria that they have sold out their entire meat and vegetable market to S. Glaser & Co., and would recommend their successors to their customers in Astoria. F. Sherman & Co. will pay all debts and collect all accounts to date.

S. Glaser & Co., successors to F. Sherman & Co., having bought the meat and vegetable market of F. Sherman & Co., would respectfully ask a continuance of the patronage bestowed on the former proprietors.

NEW TO-DAY. PICKED UP.—June 11th, one piece of jet about forty fathoms in length. One can have same by paying costs. BOOTH'S CANNERY, 117-119.
