An object in advertising is thindace people to lary them and test them. If goods speak for themselves, a good advertisement may also speak for the goods. 28 Some man can see things only retrospectively. Instead of looking forward to what they might do they only took back to what they might have done. They learn from experience, after it has become a little late in the day. Such men are the non-advertisers. "Book-farmers" were once despised by the self-called "practical" farmers, but when the latter saw the former's crops, they changed their minds. business without advertising." No doubt you are doing well enough for your present needs, but do you forget the panies, the exciting elections, the times of war or pestilence, or any of those many causes which create dull terms of business? These must be calculated for and discounted if you would bridge them over. One must make more than he needs, to make a fortune, and adverting is a powerful auxiliary in moneying is a powerful auxiliary in money-28 No man should deprive his wife and family of a good local paper. They do not get out from home to learn the news as does the husband and father. the news as does the husband and father, and the paper serves to relieve the other-wise lonely house of his absence. It is the worst possible enconomy to deprive the family of a pleasure so easily and cheaply procured. And yet there are those who say that they are too poor to take a paper; but they are not to poor to spend twenty times the price of a paper every day for whisky and tobacco. MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.
