THE CITY.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN will be sent by mail to subscribers a month, free of postage.

Show in the Cascades. Have you seen those cards at Adler's?

A jury has been selected in the Gaitan case.

The Alice towed the Gleaner down yesterday.

Fresh oysters in every style at Mrs. Arrigo's.

An eleven pound potato excites the Puget Sounders.

The police force was reduced twenty-five per cent, yesterday.

The British ship Alga Bay arrived in yesterday from New Zealand.

Max Wagner's San Francisco National brewery beer can't be beat.

Frank Henness, twenty-five years old, was drowned at Corvallis last Tuesday.

The American bark J. C. Minroe cleared from Portland last Wednesday with 19,543 cts wheat aboard.

The largest stock of holiday goods ever brought to Astoria are now being opened at Adler's.

The WEEKLY ASTORIAN, in wrappers, on the counter this morning.

Get a copy and send to the folks on the other side of the Rockies.

The Resources of Oregon and Washington, for November, is at hand, and full of most interesting information respecting the Northwest.

Lieut. Kilbourne of the U. S. Signal Service is on a tour of inspection with a view to making a separate and independent signal department on the Pacific coast.

Any one wishing to get winter hoods, or any kind of sewing done, will do well to call on stairs over the Gen saloon, on Mrs. Alex. Campbell.

The Bellport arrived at Liverpool on the 8th with 25,000 cases salmon, 7,955 barrels flour and 2,564 cents wheat.

Without the slightest desire to be an alarmist, it may be suggested that small-pox is in many communities east of us and is rapidly spreading.

Picture frames in blue and silver; picture frames in mahogany and velvet; picture frames in every style and finish at Adler's.

Mr. Franklin, who returned from Clifton last evening, tells us that the body of Vincent Cook's child, lost at Clifton on the 9th of last July, was found by Messrs. Lowery and Overton, nine miles this side of Clifton last Wednesday.

The New Testament authorized edition revised, for twenty-five cents at Charles Stevens and Sons City Book store.

The following vessels cleared from this port yesterday for the United Kingdom: The American ship Harry Morse with 42,623 cents wheat, valued at $71,260; the British bark Inveresk, with 23,417 cents wheat, worth $46,910; the British bark Tromgate, with 32,919 cents wheat, valued at $54,002.

Warren & Eaton have moved to the corner of Hamilton and Chenamus streets, in the building formerly occupied by Trenchard & Usher.

Any person desirous of securing a homestead or of speculating in real estate in this growing town, will have a favorable opportunity to do so at the real estate auction sale by E. C. Holden, at 11 o'clock this morning, at his auction rooms.

Mr. J. M. Shively, the owner of the eligible lots advertised, has, we understand, put them in the market to be disposed of in this manner, because in his present state of health he needs coin, and it may be a long time before such another opportunity occurs.

Sale commences at 11 A. M.

Go Slow!

The Astorian ignorantly prints the following paragraph, and a Portland paper as ignorantly copies it:

It costs 65 shillings to take a ton of wheat from San Francisco to Liverpool. It costs from 85 to 92 shillings to take a ton of wheat from the Columbia to the same port.

There can be no excuse for this gross misstatement. Oregonian 17th inst.

In a hasty attempt to get in a lick at the Standard over our shoulders, the Oregonian accuses us of ignorance.

The Bulletin, a newspaper published at San Francisco, Cal., and the Oregonian, an alleged newspaper published at Portland, Oregon, are our authorities for "this gross misstatement."

The issue of the latter for Nov. 1st, contains among its shipping items the following San Francisco shipping news: "San Francisco, Oct. 31st, chartered for wheat to Cork."

* British ship Munster, 1499, 628 6d. British ship Drumperk, 1551, 60s." The same issue of our courteous contemporary says, under the head of "Finance and Commerce," "a British bark of 650 tons, iron - is held at 85s. direct, but finds no taker."

Now, personally, we have no objection to the Oregonian and Standard adjusting their respective liver pads and going for one another, but we most decidedly object to any attempt to ring us in.

The Oregonian has got into a habit of sneering at and sitting down upon its up-country exchangers, and wants to try it on down here. We won't have it.

We want to be set right in common with the rest of mankind, when mistaken; but please don't start to pick us up before we fall down. The Oregonian assumes an air of infallibility that to any man who ever spent a few years in a newspaper office is amusing in its appearance and absurd in its effect.

The point THE ASTORIAN made in the publication of the item was this: that while fully recognizing all the facts in the case, the novel, come state exists that by reason of the present state of the Columbia river bar the freights for the Columbia are at entirely too high a figure.

Ship captains have told us the present season that there is "big money" in taking wheat from the Columbia to the United Kingdom at 60s a ton, even under the present disadvantageous condition of affairs.

"A Palpable Error." The Oregonian ignorantly prints the following statement:

The Olive S. Southard, "wooden and American," is disengaged in this port.

There can be no excuse for this gross misstatement. For the special benefit of the publication which attempts to usurp the prerogatives of the Pope, we report the American ship Olive S. Southard, 237 days from Philadelphia, outside, with a pilot on board.

Another of those fine A. B. Chase organs at the City Book Store.

A Republican stockholder in the O. R. & N. Co. informs the Standard that he asked Mr. Villard the question "plump and plain," whether he intended, on behalf of his corporation, to interest himself in the Oregon election, and that although the magnate's answer was evasive, he conveyed very palpably by his manner that he would take a very considerable part.

A large and well selected stock of the latest books, now on exhibition at Adler's book store.

Post-office authorities have decided that publishers of matter admitted into the mail as second class, may print upon the side of a postal card intended for communications, bills, receipts and orders for subscriptions to their publication or publications, and may also print the address of such publisher on the address side of the card and enclose the same in the second-class matter.

Adler's new stock of goods, now being ingested, is enormous. To enumerate the styles and varieties would be impossible. Take a look at them yourself.

The first national tariff convention convened in Chicago last Wednesday. The intents of the convention are "purification of the public service, restoration of the national flag upon the ocean, advancement of the interests of the shipbuilding industry and regaining our lost place in the carrying trade of the world, discussing the advisability of an early and progressive reduction of internal taxes of the general government and discussion of means to naturalize new industries upon our soil."

The first item is rather an extensive piece of work in itself.

Owing to the stormy weather, the daily express between here and San Francisco failed to connect; but instead we have filled our case with a choice lot of creams and other candies of our own make, at the Astoria Candy Factory.
