Card of Thanks.

ASTORIA, OREGON, NOV. 28, 1881. EDITOR ASTORIAN: SIR: Please allow this method of expressing many thanks to the citizens of Astoria for their cheerful and liberal contributions toward the erection of the Union (limited) Mission chapel at Ilwaco, during my few days sojourn in your city. On account of my being an invalid, I have not been able to call upon all the citizens, but hope to be able to do so by the time the edifice is completed. I desire only free-will offerings, as the object is for the religious and moral well-being of our struggling little community of families, citizens, fishermen, seamen, U. S. soldiers, officers, and sea side visitors, until denominational strength and numbers will require other and more pretentious structures. Our citizens have just finished a comfortable public school building, and have it well filled with Young American. I cross over to Ilwaco to-morrow and may return the latter part of the week, and will be pleased to see our friends at the Occident. J. D. HOLMAN, Agent.

- Small pox in Umatilla. -Salem has a skating rink. -Steamer day: Columbia up, California down. -The State of California was to leave Portland at 7.30 this morning. -Max Wagner's San Francisco National brewery beer can't be beat. -Alfred Stanley, a deserter from the Oracle was brought down yesterday afternoon and turned over to the proper officials. -Macaulay's History of England, complete, at Adler's book store. -Col. J. L. Long, of Kentucky, has been engaged by the Executive committee of the G. S. of I. O. G. T. of Oregon, to lecture in this state on temperance. Commencing about December 1st. -Fresh oysters in every style at Mrs. Arrington's. -The last number of the New Tacoma Ledger to hand has a long account of steamboat competition on the Columbia and Willamette, showing the true inwardness of the business. -The City Book Store has an exhibition one of the finest selection of holiday goods ever opened. Call and examine for yourselves. -Linn stands fourth as a wheat growing county. Marion produced 1,058,488 bushels; Yamhill, 957,816; Umatilla, 915,670; Linn, 911,411; Polk, 815,896. The whole product of the State amounted to 7,480,910 bushels. -Julius Halbsguth, teacher of vocal and instrumental music, piano and organ tuner. Orders left at Adler's book store promptly attended to. -In an outburst of enthusiasm the Rev. Talmage said that "the cylinders of the printing press will be the front wheels of the Lord's chariot." Press cylinders, says the N. O. Picayune, are well in their places, but they must make very clumsy wheels when used for road wagons. -A splendid lot of Eastern Oysters just arrived by the State of California at Tom Smith's Oyster Saloon, Main street. -From Capt. White of company E, 1st Artillery, we learn that a detachment of the present force will, upon the arrival of Capt. Taylor, who is on to-day's steamer, be transferred to Fort Stevens. That lonely fortress is now in charge of Lieut. Sparrow. -Whips, curry-combs, brushes; new stock: first class goods, cheap for cash. N. GRAY. -They sat together in the lamplight and read the advertising columns of their local paper, when he suddenly exclaimed: "Look, only $15 for a suit of clothes!" "Is it a wedding suit?" she asked. "Oh, no," he replied; "it is a business suit." "Well, I mean business," she replied. That settled it. -The New Testament authorized edition revised, for twenty-five cents at Charles Stevens and Sons City Book store. -It is stated on good authority that all the northern branch of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's business has been sold to the O. R. & N. Co. Goodall, Perkins & Co. neither admit nor deny the sale, but it is considered to be an accomplished fact. -Owing to the stormy weather, the daily express between here and San Francisco failed to connect; but instead we have filled our case with a choice lot of creams and other candies of our own make, at the Astoria Candy Factory. -At a meeting of the Portland Board of Trade last Saturday night, an amended resolution was carried that the committee appointed be instructed to see if two stations could be established, one by the Government at Tillamook to this place, and one by Portland merchants from Cape Hancock to here.

"HERMANN'S" LETTER.

He Gossips About the Republican Candidates for United States Senator.

(Regular Correspondence ASTORIAN.) PORTLAND, Nov. 24th. -In this city reside three gentlemen whose names are prominently before the people of Oregon as candidates for the United States Senatorship at the election to be held next October. They are Hon. Joseph N. Dolph, Judge Geo. H. Williams and Ex-Senator John H. Mitchell. Besides these may be mentioned half a dozen others who would not object to the honor, but who are not generally known as aspirants for the position.

HON. J. N. DOLPH is the busiest and hardest working lawyer in the State. He is head of the firm of Dolph, Bromagh, Dolph & Simon, who have a very large civil practice and are seldom found in criminal cases. He is attorney for the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, the Oregon Improvement company, the valley railroads on both sides, the new street railway company, and a number of minor corporations. Not alone is he the lawyer to prosecute and defend suits, but he is the chief adviser in all new steps, great and small, about to be taken. It is said that his personal income, aside from his interest in the firm and from real estate, is not less than $15,000, and he earns every penny of it. He is estimated to be worth $200,000, mainly in property which he has held for years and which, until recently, has been unproductive. He is completing a residence at a cost of $20,000.

JUDGE GEORGE H. WILLIAMS Ex-senator and ex-attorney general will not, so his friends say, make a fight for the office which he once so ably filled. If the position be tendered by the next legislature, he will not refuse, but those intimate with him affirm that he will not accept the honor at the cost of soliciting the vote of a single representative. Shortly after his return here last year, he formed a law partnership with W. Lair Hill, Geo. H. Durham and H. Y. Thompson. He stands at the head of his profession and the firm is the greatest combination of legal ability in Oregon. Next year he will build an elegant residence near Bishop Scott's grammar school.

EX-SENATOR J. H. MITCHELL is popular with a considerable portion of his party, but has incurred unconcealed opposition from the Independents. His power in securing the support and best efforts of strong political workers throughout the state, and bending their will to his own, with nothing but his individuality to attract them, is simply wonderful. His friends claim that he can carry Multnomah county, which elects eight representatives next year in the face of all opposition even if it takes the form of open warfare. He is strong in eastern Oregon, but no county beyond the mountains is likely to send a Republican to the legislature. Politicians unfriendly to Senator Mitchell assert that if he is put forward as a candidate, enough Republicans in Washington, Yamhill, Benton and Linn counties will stay away from the polls to insure the election of Democratic legislators. He has been in Washington since March 1879, and his law practice here is looked after by Mr. Ralph M. Dement, a young man of much promise and considerable ability.

OTHER ASPIRANTS. Mr. Henry Fading, one of the most successful merchants and afterwards banker, of the metropolis, is mentioned as a compromise candidate. Though not a public man, in the strict sense, he has no little knowledge of national affairs, is a good parliamentarian, broad and liberal in his views, and as far as Oregon's commerce and material development in concerned, would make a very useful senator. Hon. W. D. Hare, ex-collector of customs at your port, and Judge John Burnette, of Corvallis, are also spoken of as candidates. But Oregon gave only 665 majority for Garfield, when six months before Congressman George carried the state by 1397, a falling off of 732: With the split between stalwarts and half-breeds, who can say the next legislature will be Republican? Certainly not.

HERMANN. -Saturday night the skies that had gleamed through the week in the gray and gold of morning and the purpling flush of sunset, became overcast, and all day Sunday the low hung clouds sent down occasional showers; but yesterday morning the cloud ships on that upper aerial sea floated off unwearyed by bars, and the warm sunlight made all things radiant.

What pleasure it is to pay one's debts! In the first place it removes that unpleasantness which a person feels from dependence and obligation. It affords pleasure to the creditor, and therefore grants our social position. It promotes that future confidence which is so interesting to an honest mind. It opens a prospect of being readily supplied with what you want on future occasions. It leaves a consciousness of our virtue; and it is a measure we know to be right, both in point of justice and sound economy. Finally, it is the main support of simple reputation. Pay us, that we may pay others.

Found Drowned. About 12 o'clock yesterday, the body of Peter Grant was found in the water in front of the Knights of Pythias building. A coroner's jury found a verdict of death by accidental drowning. He was last seen at eleven o'clock Saturday evening, and the supposition is that he walked off the roadway and becoming imbedded in the mud at ebb tide was unable to extricate himself. He had come down from Portland on Saturday with six men for the Oracle. He was well known in this place, having kept a boarding house here in former years. His wife will be down this afternoon and will take the remains to Portland for interment.
