SAYINGS OF MANY AUTHORS.

Who most examine, most believe.—Young.
The fewer words, the better prayer.—Luther.
Solitude is the audience chamber of God.—Landino.
Not one false man but does unaccountable evil.—Carlyle.
The truest wisdom is a resolute determination.—Napoleon.
On the day of victory no weariness is felt.—Arabic Proverb.
It is not death that makes the martyr, but the cause.—Canon Dale.
Men, like bullets, go farthest when they are smoothest.—Richard.
None but the guilty can be long and completely miserable.—Goldsmith.
It is not calling your neighbors names that settles a question.—Bacon's Field.
The heart is the only thing that is better by being broken.—Peruvian Proverb.
The wisest man may be wiser to-day than he was yesterday, and to-morrow than he is to-day.—Colton.
Economy is half the battle of life; it is not so hard to earn money as to spend it well.—Spurgeon.
If we will rightly estimate what we call good and evil, we shall find it lies much in comparison.—Locke.
Nothing depresses man's spirits more than self-conviction of self-conceit.—Bacon's Field.
Christianity is intensely practical. She has no trait more striking than her common sense.—Charles Buxton.
Good taste rejects excessive nicety; it treats little things as little things, and is not hurt by them.—Penelon.
Blessedness consists in the accomplishment of our desires.—Augustine.
It is better to say, "This one thing I do," than to say, "These forty things I dabble in."—Washington Gladden.
There is no place where weeds do not grow, and there is no heart where errors are not to be found.—J. S. Knowles.
A fear of becoming ridiculous is the best guide of life, and will save a man from all sorts of scrapes.—Gladstone.
Communism possesses a language which every people can understand. Its elements are hunger, envy, death.—Heinrich Heine.
If every person would be half as good as he expects his neighbor to be, what a heaven this world would be.—Luther Norris.
The world abhors closeness, and all but admires extravagance. Yet a slick hand shows weakness, a tight hand strength.—Charles Buxton.
Society is a more level surface than we imagine. Wise men or absolute fools are hard to be met with, as there are few giants or dwarfs.—Hazlitt.
Those who gain any excellence commonly spend life in one common pursuit; for excellence is not often gained on easier terms.—Johnson.
Be wary of the man who tells you there is a fortune in some speculation. He may want to get your fortune in there, also.—Cincinnati Saturday Night.
Very few men are wise by their counsel, or learned by their own teachings; for he who was only taught by himself had a fool for his master.—Ben Jonson.
It is better to meet danger than to wait for it. He that is on a lee shore, and foresees a hurricane, stands out to sea, and encounters a storm to avoid a shipwreck.—Colton.

If a man, or woman either, wishes to realize the full power of personal beauty, it must be by cherishing noble hopes and purposes, by having something to do and something to live for.—Prof. Upham.
I feel a profounder reverence for a boy than for a man. I never meet a ragged boy in the street without feeling that I may owe him a salute, for I know not what possibilities may be buttoned up under his coat.—James A. Garfield.
If its colors were but fast colors, self-conceit would be a most comfortable quality. But life is so humbling, mortifying, disappointing to vanity, that a man's great idea of himself gets washed out of him by the time he is forty.—Charles Buxton.
Are not the signs of the heavenly kingdom distinctly visible in the nature of a little child? Love, simplicity and faith are the characteristics of little children. How simple and touching is their faith! Imitate little children, and trust.—N. L. Frothingham.
A sermon in six lines; A penny makes more noise in a contribution box than a $5 bill, and the man who gives the penny usually makes more noise than the giver of the bill when it comes to say "amen" or voting on church management.—Christian at Work.
It is private life that governs the world. The world talks much of powerful sovereigns and great ministers, and if being talked about made one powerful they would be irresistible; but the fact is, the more you are talked about the less powerful you are.—Lord Beaconsfield.
Neither Madonna worship, nor lady worship of any sort, whether of dead ladies or living ones, ever did any human creature any harm, but that money worship, wig worship, cocked-hat-and-leather worship and pipe worship have done and are doing a great deal.—Ruskins.
Man reconciles himself to almost any event, however trying, if it happens in the ordinary course of nature. It is the extraordinary alone that he rebels against. There is a moral idea associated with this feeling; for the extraordinary appears to be something like an injustice of heaven.—Humboldt.
Grain Statistics.
A compilation from the census returns, just issued, shows the grain product of each State for 1880:
Illinois stands first among the wheat producing States and has done so since the last census in 1870, and increases her product from 30,000,000 bushels in 1870 to 51,900,000 in 1880.
Indiana stands second on the list in the census of 1880—while in 1870 she stood fourth on the list, with 27,700,000 bushels then as against 47,000,000 in 1880.
Ohio stands third, just where she was in 1870, with 28,000,000 bushels then as against 46,000,000 in 1880.
Michigan stands fourth, instead of eighth, as she was in 1870, with 16,000,000 bushels, against 35,500,000 in 1880.
Minnesota stands fifth, but was seventh in 1870—with 16,600,000 bushels then, as against 34,600,000 in 1880.
Iowa stands sixth, instead of second as she did in 1870, with 29,000,000 bushels then, as against 31,000,000 in 1880.

California stands seventh, having gained one step since 1870, when her rank was eighth, with 16,676,000 bushels, as against 29,000,000 in 1880.
Missouri stands eighth, having also advanced from the ninth place in 1870, with 14,300,000 bushels then, as against 25,000,000 in 1880.
Wisconsin stands ninth, having dropped back from the fifth place in 1870, with 24,375,000 bushels then, as against 24,884,000 in 1880, showing its product of grain as remaining nearly stationary.
Pennsylvania stands tenth, instead of sixth, as she did in 1870, with 19,500,000 bushels then, as against 19,300,000 in 1880, being a falling off of 200,000 bushels.
Kansas stands eleventh, but in 1870 was nearly down to the foot of the list, with only a little over 2,000,000 bushels then, as against 17,000,000 in 1880—1.
Nebraska stands twelfth, and like Kansas, was low on the list in 1870, with about 500,000 bushels then, as against 14,000,000 in 1880.
New York stands thirteenth, instead of tenth as in 1870, with 12,200,000 bushels then as against 11,600,000 in 1880, thus showing quite a falling off in amount.
Kentucky stands fourteenth, with 11,356,000 bushels in 1880.
Maryland fifteenth, with 8,000,000 bushels in 1880.
Virginia sixteenth, with 7,800,000 bushels in 1880.
Oregon seventeenth, with 7,500,000 bushels in 1880.
Tennessee eighteenth, with 7,300,000 bushels in 1880.
None of the other States produce over 4,000,000.
Louisiana is the lowest, with only 5,000 bushels in 1880.
A summation of the whole shows that the wheat crop of 1880 was 60 per cent greater than in 1870, the whole number of bushels being 459,479,000 in 1880, as against 287,745,000 in 1870, showing a gain of 171,734,000 bushels.

English the Telephonic Tongue.
The London Truth is a recent issue says: Although the English language is the most absurdly spelt tongue in the world, it permits much more terse composition than any other, and telegraphic clerks have specially noted that English telegrams, as a rule, contain fewer words than those expressing the same ideas in any other language. I was reminded of this subject the other day by noticing the directions for an electric bell in my room in a foreign hotel. They were printed in French, German and English, viz: "On est prie de pousser le bouton jusqu'au fond."
"Man ist gebeten den Knopf so viel als moeglich zuruckzustossen."
"Please press the button to the bottom."
There are ten words each in the French and German to seven in the English. The number of letters is thirty-seven, fifty two and thirty one respectively. The note at the foot of the bill of fare was similarly interesting:
"On remet la note chaque jour au controle voyageurs."
"Um Irrungen zu vermeiden, wird taglich die Rechnung zur Controle vorgelegt."
"Bills are given daily to avoid errors."
Here again we have ten, eleven and seven words with forty-five, sixty-three and thirty-one letters respectively. Another common "notice" affords corroborating evidence of the preceding examples of superior terseness of our vernacular:
"On est pre de ne pas fumer."

"Es wird gebeten nicht zu rauchen."
"Please do not smoke."
Here we have seven and six words to four, with twenty-two, twenty-seven and sixteen letters respectively.

Arizona Lodging House, Portland, Oregon.
New house and first class in its appointments. Third street, in R. R. Thompson's block, opposite Capt. Ains worth. Rooms by the day, week or month.
Mrs. E. A. HARTMAN.

Buy the Weekly.
THE WEEKLY ASTORIAN for this week is full of just such information and news of the country as your friends in the east want to see. It has very few advertisements, and is, in fact, a maze of information that no family can successfully squeeze along without. Two dollars will buy the whole year for a year, $1.50 for six months, or ten cents per copy.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winkler's Sorely's Syrup. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. It is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and especially so in those where the description of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere, 25 cents a bottle.

Peruvia Bitters.
Cinchona Bitter.
The Countess of Cinchona was the Spanish Viceroy in Peru in 1630. The Countess, his wife, was prostrated by an intermittent fever, from which she was freed by the use of the native remedy, the Peruvia Bitter, as it is called in the language of the country, "Quinquina." Grateful for her recovery, on her return to Europe, in 1635, she introduced the remedy in Spain, where it was known and used by the name of Cinchona, in honor of the lady who had brought them that which was more precious than the gold of the Indies. To this day, after a lapse of two hundred and fifty years, science has given us nothing to take its place. It effectually cures a morbid appetite for stimulants, by restoring the natural tone of the stomach. It attacks excessive love of liquor as it does a fever, and destroys both alike. The powerful tonic virtue of the Cinchona is preserved in the Peruvia Bitters, which are as effective against malarial fever to-day as they were in the days of the old Spanish Viceroy. We guarantee the ingredients of these bitters to be absolutely pure, and of the best known quality. A trial will satisfy you that this is the best bitter in the world. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and we willingly abide this test. For sale by all druggists, grocers and liquor-dealers. Order it.

Xmas, New Year's, and birth-day cards, the finest ever in the city, at the City Book Store.

Have Wistar's balsam of wild cherry always at hand. It cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, whooping cough, croup, influenza, consumption, and all throat and lung complaints. 50 cents and 25¢ a bottle.

THE WEEKLY ASTORIAN is an independent newspaper, devoted wholly and solely to the commercial and material interests of Oregon, and will be sent on trial six months to any address in the United States on receipt of $1.00.

What pleasure it is to lay ones' hands in the first place, to realize that measure which a person feels from dependence and obligation. It affords pleasure to the creditor, and therefore gratifies our social affection. It promotes that future confidence which is so interesting to an honest mind. It opens a prospect of being readily supplied with what you want on future occasions. It leaves a consciousness of our virtue; and it is a measure we know to be right, and in those cases of emergency where a prompt and convenient remedy is demanded, Constipation, liver complaint, dyspepsia, indigestion and other troubles are overcome by it. For sale by Druggists and dealers, to whom apply for Hostetter's Almanac for 1882.

To Live Men.

THE ASTORIAN has now reached a circulation which places it at the head of the list of Oregon dailies, and insures to advertisers thereof more benefit for the amount paid than may be secured elsewhere. To those who wish to reach the largest number of readers at the smallest expense, we offer the columns of an attractive daily, the success of which from the very start has been far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates, has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.
