

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA OREGON: WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11, 1882. J. F. HALLORAN, Editor.

Retributive.

MEN who have given the matter attention, say that bribery in the English elections has been far more extensive, open and brazen than in the most corrupt parts of this country. It has generally been in small constituencies, and consisted in giving money to people directly for their votes. The high standing of those who have been in the habit of disbursing corruption funds has heretofore been a shield against punishment, but there have lately been some convictions which may have a salutary effect. The "respectable" criminals were not pardoned before they went to jail, as the Cameron crowd did it in Pennsylvania, but will have to serve out the terms for which they have been sentenced. In large constituencies the British will learn to follow the American plan. The government will judiciously distribute offices among the more active politicians and will buy up stump speakers and petty leaders. It is a vulgar bribe to gain the vote of a man by giving him money, but it is all right, according to many politicians, to use offices as rewards. The British method has one advantage; the fellows who sell themselves, are not placed in positions which ought to be filled with honest and capable men.

Presidential Succession.

THE ever present knowledge that the assassination of our chief magistrate is likely to change the political complexion of the Government, reversing the solemn verdict of the people, suggests the need of some legislation which will make it impossible to effect such a change by the destruction of a single life. It is almost universally the case that vice-presidents go contrary to the implied policy of their predecessors. Indeed if the place could be abolished by constitutional amendment, an element of great danger would be removed. The natural line of presidential succession should be through the cabinet. It is the personal history of a presidential candidate that is the most potent cause of his election, for that gives general assurance of his future policy. In selecting his cabinet he selects men that are in accord with him, and therefore with the majority of the voters of the country. His death could cause no political changes. It would be necessary for future Guiteaus to kill the president and the entire cabinet before they could overturn the nation's affairs. And the execution of Guiteau will not prevent a recurrence of regicide, if by such murder minority factions may renew a lapsed lease of power. The great temptation to such a crime can best be removed by changing the present manner of the presidential succession.

An Indian Empire.

THE recent purchase of a right of way across the Indian Territory by a railroad company reveals rather a curious state of affairs in that part of our great republic. The company in question asked for the use of a strip of land two hundred feet wide with additional strips at places where stations were to be built. To secure this privilege the Government of the United States had to send an ambassador to the Choctaw nation and ask it as a favor from the dusky government for the railroad company. After much diplomacy, intrigue, and circumlocutory negotiation the boon was granted, the railroad company being obliged to pay a high rent. The two hundred feet so secured across that isolated spot is a sort of dead line. A United States citizen going beyond on either side does so at his peril. As far as safety or protection goes, he might as well be in Kamschatka for all the good our Government would be to him. It is rather a singular state of affairs to exist right in the heart of the nation.

ABRAM S. HEWITT says that a certain American steel rails mill, having a capital of $2,000,000, made a profit in one year of $2,000,000. This was done by availing itself to the utmost of the tariff of $28 per ton, amounting at present prices to about 98 per cent. of protection. Mr. Hewitt thinks the steel rails men could get along well enough with $14 per ton or about 50 per cent.—Alto. That forms a very pretty one-sided argument for the protectionists, but the purchasers, out of whom the company, having a capital of $2,000,000, made a profit in one year of $2,000,000, might have a different argument.

THE General Association of the Congregational Church of California has had Judge Davis, President pro tem. of the Senate, present to that body a series of resolutions urging recognition of the rights of the Southern California Mission Indians. No more wretched record of injustice exists than the history of those unfortunates and their treatment by their white conquerors and present exterminators.

IT is positively stated that ex-Senator Sargent will be appointed Secretary of the Interior after February 1st. There is enough business under the generic title "Department of the Interior," to take up the time of half a dozen heads of departments. The growing wants of the industries necessarily neglected renders some additional secretaryships unavoidable.

THE Rev. Dr. Woolfolk has a neat plan lately presented to the Polytechnic society of Louisville to "clothe all the Arctic region in living green, and make the wintry world blossom as the rose." The Rev. doctor's plan for thus clothing and blossoming the northern latitudes, is to explode $1,000,000 worth of powder on the extreme western verge of Alaska.

THE Washington grand jury have summoned witnesses in the star route cases, and it is claimed that even yet sustainable indictments will be found against the guilty parties and that they will be punished.

"WHAT'S in a name," is being exemplified in New York, where the editor of a paper called "Truth" is being tried for perjury.

THE question after the Guiteau trial closes will be what Judge Cox shall do with his acquired reputation.

EADS is in Washington seeking governmental aid for his isthmus ship railway.

THE SUN.

NEW YORK, 1882.

THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining as always for all big and little, men and grannies, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, dejected and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. The SUN's light is for mankind and woman-kind of every sort; but its general warmth is for the heart, while its rays do not discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1882 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconvoluted way all the news of the world, omitting an event of human interest, and commencing a new era in the history of newspaper journalism.

Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modeled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN'S example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, trailblazing, and interesting newspaper. It is a liberal and free means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or in Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.

THE WEEKLY SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Colossus of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose, every line worth reading, news, humor—matter enough to fill a good-sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows: For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, is $1 a year, postage paid, is 53 cents a month, or $6 30 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7 75 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1 50 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.
