—Repentance is the discount of remorse.
 —The Frith of Tay was towed down yesterday.
 —The Reporter is outside with a pilot on board.
 —It does look so funny to see an eighteen year old youth chewing gum.
 —Carl Adler is swinging round the circle. When last heard from he was at Eugene City.
 —The Baker City paper prophesies boom times up there before long. "Boomy" is good.
 —Attention is directed to the ad. of E. Detrick & Co., who advertise goods that are in use in this locality.
 —The State of California went down to the bar at seven yesterday morning, and presumably went to sea.
 —Do a man a favor and he is your enemy. This may not sound Christianlike, but its true all the same.
 —Maria had one piccolo agnus. Son fleeces it all bianca as snow; And every where she Maria went, Cet agneau went, comme il faut.
 —Several canneries are getting ready for the seasons work. We notice they have begun making cans in Hume's.
 —The Beecroft, drawing 21½ feet was accidentally omitted from the list of vessels that were towed out on Monday.
 —The Walla Walla Statesman chronicles the passage of a load of corn fodder through the streets of that blooming burg.
 —"Why you didn't say anything about it in this morning's paper: now I could have told you all about it." Then why in the dickens didn't you.
 —"History is a dice-box; God shakes it and events roll out." So says the Walla Walla Statesman. What are you going to do with your kismet?
 —Captain Doig showed us yesterday a telegram he had received from Ohlsen, the pilot on board the Yess-uis. That vessel went to the Sound simply because the crew were sick.
 —The Walla Walla Statesman man has got a neat point on locals. He comes out one morning with a four-line item, and two days after has two stickfuls explaining away any allegation that he meant to hurt any one's feelings.
 —The New Northwest proprietors brought a charge against a Polk county postmaster which subsequent evidence and investigation failed to sustain. There you have the gist of 137 columns of rot that has been poured out in the exchange list for the last six weeks.
 —If any one of our readers have mislaid a packet of photographs they can get them by calling at this office; they having been left here yesterday by a gentleman who modestly desires that we withhold his name. Each photograph is, severally, "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."
 —Mr. J. B. Lewis, a passenger on the Emily Stevens which arrived in yesterday, informs us that they passed the Yaquina while crossing the bar. The weather was fine with a light northwesterly wind. The Emily Stevens is loaded with hides, butter and sixty bushels of Yaquina bay oysters.
 —A novel boat race took place at Onasatta, Yaquina bay, recently, the contestants being Mr. Dougherty and a lady of that place. During the night previous to the race some boys nailed a coal oil can to the bottom of Dougherty's boat, and he not discovering it until he had begun the race, he of course was badly beaten.

Notice.

Mr. Acton's Lecture.
 A fair audience met at the new M. E. church last Monday evening to hear Rev. J. H. Acton lecture on "Turchin's thieves." The peculiar verbiage of the title was explained at the start by the lecturer who said that owing to a certain element in their brigade whose ideas on the acquisition of property were somewhat vague, the whole command was known as "Turchin's thieves." Turchin being the name of the commander. Mr. Acton's narrative was a series of pictured reminiscences; a recollection of scenes and incidents that occurred twenty years ago. The familiar names of Stones River, Forts Henry and Donelson, Pittsburg Landing, etc., recalled the men and memories of '62 to the minds of many present. His delineation of camp life showed that he'd "been there," and when he (figuratively speaking) "shouldered his crutch and showed how fields were won," he elicited the heartiest approval. We were unexpectedly pleased in hearing him make emphatic mention of what we have always maintained, viz: that General Geo. H. Thomas was the general in that campaign, was the man for the place and contributed as no other man could to set the seal of victory upon what threatened to be a disastrous rout. That he was not more highly honored was due to his disposition; to others was left the tinsel and the glory, to him is delegated praise and admiration from thousands who saw his merit. At the close of the lecture which was listened to with attentive interest by all present, Mr. Acton said a few words in his own behalf in reference to the paper he edits and which he is trying to make a power for good. Like all newspaper men he likes to have a good subscription list and is to be commended for his efforts in that direction. The next lecture of the course will be delivered next Tuesday evening in the same building, when Rev. J. A. Gray, of Portland, will discourse upon "The swing of the pendulum."

—In the police court yesterday there were three forfeits of $2.50 each and one of $5.
 Four hundred and fifty tons of coal is being discharged at Gray's dock from the bark Alert.
 —The Argonaut is on the beach next to H. B. Parker's dock, where she will receive a new brass propeller.
 —The musk rats and beavers are the enemies of the reclaimers of land on Clatsop. They cut holes through the dikes and the beavers build their houses in the embankments and dam up the ditches.
 —We call attention to the ad. of the Oregon meat market, in this issue. The proprietors, Humbel & Co., succeeded J. F. Nowlan. Mr. Humbel has been a resident of this country for seventeen years, and deserves a share of patronage.
 —On Monday the pilot schooner J. C. Cousins, let go her lines from Brown & Co.'s dock, in order to get into the stream, but she drifted down and collided with the bark Alert, at Gray's harbor, the anchor of the latter tearing away the bulkheads of the Cousins and the bowsprit fouling of her rigging, so that her shrouds had to be cut to get her off.
 —It takes all kinds of people to make up the sum total of humanity, but what a putty and molasses sort of a man the squirming, conscienceless caricature of humanity that God in his inscrutable providence permits to live, is that index of meanness and exponent of contemptible rascality who will try to beat a newspaper but of money honestly earned and actually due.
 —Mrs. Oats, while cleaning house for L. W. Case last Monday, met with a serious accident. While engaged in cleaning some windows she set a stool on the roof of the conservatory and on stepping on it, the roof, which was of glass, of course gave way, she falling to the ground a distance of ten feet. She was badly shaken up, but not seriously injured.
 —The regular turtle story comes from Tulare, Cal., of the finding of an ancient saurian with "1797" cut on his back. Generally the five crop alfalfa stories come from there about this time of year. The turtle story was due Nov. 25th. About Feb. 1st we should hear of bees that buzz and build in beehives, and from March 1st to 15th come tales of marvelous vegetable growth from that shiny shore.

A Memory.
 Sitting in the M. E. Church last Monday evening, listening to war reminiscences, the one recurring thought in our head was, "How long ago all this seems!" The events of the civil war are fast becoming memories, remembrances, recollections that but seldom leave to the surface. They are an under stratum over which the silt and flow of twenty years has superimposed a new soil. The field, dungeon and escape, the life and death in gloomy prisons, the march and counter-march, the bivouac, the charge, the cheer of victory or the sullen retreat are for those who participated in them, but a tale to be told of winter evenings. To those who stayed behind, the women and children, (and the brave home guard) who read in the papers the list of killed and wounded and suffered pangs of torturing suspense that equaled in patriotic merit the suffering of husband or son or brother upon the battle field, it was indeed a weary time; and it is cause for thanks and gratulation that no probable cause for internecine conflict need rise for many years to come.

—That portion of the flume lately constructed at Fort Stevens which extended on to the beach, has been torn up by the waves and thrown high on the sand.
 —Spotters are employed on the O. R. & N. Co.'s trains to see that the conductors do not knock down. The reason of that is that some time ago two belligerent individuals, getting into a discussion on a train near The Dalles, one threatened to knock the other down. The conductor happened along just then and said that if there was any knocking down to be done on that train he was the man to do it, and the company are determined to put an end to the practice.

 From the Standard we learn that there will be four tunnels between Corvallis and Newport, and it is said that the entire line from the bay to Corvallis will be ready for the graders by the middle of February. The gap between Corvallis and Albany will not be surveyed until it is determined where the bridge is to be located. A surveying party, 24 strong, in charge of Engineers McMullan and Brown, are surveying from Albany east, and another party, under Mr. Piehl, will start for the Cascade mountains next week to find a route into Eastern Oregon.
 The following is said to have been taken from the pocket-diary of an old vagrant at a police station:
 "Drinking bad whiskey because it is offered free is like getting in the way of bullets purchased by an enemy."
 "Honesty is the best policy, but some folks are satisfied with second best. It is hard to be honest on an empty stomach."
 "A dry plank under a rain-proof shed is better than a feather bed in jail, and one isn't annoyed by the jailer bringing in a square breakfast."
 "Pay as you go. If you haven't anything to pay with don't go. If you are forced to go record every indebtedness and let your heirs settle bills."
 "We should have charity for all. When the winter winds blow cold and drear we vags should pity the poor fellows in India who are having red-hot weather."
 "Politeness costs nothing, but it is not expected that you will wake a man up at midnight to ask permission to go through his hen-house. It is more courteous to let him enjoy his needed repose."
 "When you pick up an apple-ore do not find fault because it is not the apple itself, but be satisfied with the grade of descent.
 Do not be ashamed of your occupation. We cannot all be lords, nor can we all be vagrants. As I cannot be a lord I should not lament at being a vagrant. Be truthful and outspoken—that is, tell 'em you are a Chicago sufferer. Keep reasonable hours or some other vag will get your plank first. Be hopeful, cheerful and good-natured. Growling won't cure a sore heel."

The inhabitants of Northwest and Western Oregon, including twelve counties of the State, and embracing the great valley of the Willamette and its "forks," enjoy seven months of spring, summer and autumn weather that are almost equal to southern or eastern Oregon for bright and cheerful weather and a bracing and healthy atmosphere. The five winter months, from November to March, bring a beautiful rain that produces, in due season, un-failing crops. These rains retard, but scarcely prevent, labor outside, in any department, and of 150 days of winter, at least a third of them are dry and bright.

Merchants or others finding inaccuracies in our shipping list will confer a favor by reporting the same to this office.

HOLMAN'S PAD. FOR THE STOMACH, LIVER, AND KIDNEYS.

In all cases of biliousness and malaria in every form, a preventive and cure of chills, fever and dumb ague, Dr. Holman's Pad is a perfect success. And for dyspepsia, sick headache and nervous prostration, as the pad is applied over the pit of the stomach, the great nervous center, it annihilates the disease at once.
 It regulates the liver and stomach so successfully the digestion becomes perfect.
 Prof. D. A. Loomis says: "It is nearer a universal panacea than anything in medicine." This is done on the principle of ab sorption, of which Dr. Holman's Pad is the only true exponent.
 For all kidney troubles, use Dr. Holman's Renal or Kidney Pad, the best remedy in the world and recommended by the medical faculty.

Beware of Bogus Pads.
 Each genuine Holman's Pad bears the private revenue stamp of the Holman Pad Co. with the above trade mark printed in green. Buy none without it.
