Leave orders at the counting room.

—Snow!

—Where's your sled?

—Pull down your vest Dearin.

—Thermometer at the freezing point.

—Potatoes are $1 50 a bushel and hard to get.

—Managers Howe and Stechhan go to Portland this morning.

—Small pox is spreading all over the Eastern and Southern states.

—The grain shipping business is lively at the O. R. & N. Co's dock.

—It brings a laugh every time Dearin gives his "chin music."

—It is rumored that Gen. Pope will soon be assigned the command of the division of the Pacific.

—Forepaugh's circus in distress at Liberty Hall last night was greeted with roars of laughter.

—The wreck of the Harvest Home was sold last Thursday afternoon to Martin Ford for $300.

—Judge McKenzie, the man who signalled to Gen. Sherman to "Hold the fort," died on the 16th.

—The boys did even better last night than they did on Thursday. 'Tis a good show and will be better.

—The County of Bute, Alert, Acadian and Clydebank went up the river yesterday. The Carnegie came down.

—Capt. Hustler gives notice that the Edderside begins discharging today. She has 10,000 sacks of salt aboard.

—The boys in the gallery help pay the show's salary, but that does'nt justify them in kicking up such a row as they do.

—The Levi G. Burgess is discharging railroad iron at Flavel's dock; it makes the dock look like a demoralized railroad depot.

—On the 23d inst., articles of the Seattle, Puget Sound and Gray's Harbor railroad company were filed at Seattle. The object is to build a railroad from Seattle to Gray's harbor.

—We are informed that the Sisters of Charity in charge of St. Mary's hospital intend to build an addition to their property this season. This speaks well for the success of that excellent institution.

—In the German language there will be divine services at the Baptist church to-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, by Rev. John Gantenbein, pastor of the reform church, Portland. All Germans are cordially invited.

—At 12, midnight, Saturday, in New Tacoma a cannon is fired, the saloons immediately close; the boys go home because they can't go anywhere else, and leave the world in possession of the temperance folks for twenty-four hours.

—Owing to the increase of his banking business and a desire to make assurance doubly sure, Mr. Case has bought a safe of latest make and finest quality. He is now doing extensive banking business in the way of deposits, drafts and transfers.

—The Edderside will discharge 750 tons of tin plate at this place. This is, we believe, the largest importation of this metal that has ever come here at one time. 'Tis only three years that Astoria commenced to ship tin plate direct, and in a few years at the present rate of progress that one item will be of considerable importancr.

Masquerade Costumes for Rent.

A fine selection of San Francisco mask suits for ladies and gents will be on exhibition and for rent one week before the mask ball, at M. D. Kant's merchant tailoring establishment. Any special suit will be ordered by telegraph at the lowest rates.

Howe's Minstrels.

The hall was comfortably filled last evening to see the second performance of the minstrels, whom, it was hoped had sufficiently recovered from their sea sickness to stand the strain that an entire change of programme entitled. The opening olio contained several new features, and several old ones. The "Sweet Evelina," by Gilbert was good, but something fresh would have been better. For several years we have heard the assurance that "my love for you can never, never die," but after one hears a song about one hundred and twenty times though encored as Gilbert was, he wants a change. The gags and puns were about average, and Dearin's "Biddy Magoon" was the principal feature at his end of the line. Miss Lottie Allen again gave the jig that requires such lively playing on the part of the orchestra to satisfy her quick step, and Thompson brought in the "Old Black Joe" delineation pretty well; his make up is good. If the stage were a little larger the jockey clog dancers could do a good deal better; their dancing is good and is a leading feature of the performance. A ballad by Gus Miller and some amusing specialties by Gilbert, were followed by Dearin in his comical performance on many instruments. He is a whole show in himself and is the leading feature of this troupe. The "Last Sensation" gave opportunity for some first class circus business, and the character sketch of "Who Broke the Clock" closed the evening's entertainment. The troupe go to Portland on this morning's boat. They are worth seeing, and will, no doubt do a good business through the interior.

—Gus Miller in "Leaf by Leaf the Roses Fall," was good last night.

—Planking on the I. S. N. Co's new steamer will be completed to-day.

—Miss Allen's jig dance formed a very enjoyable feature of last evening's performance.

—The Prince Patrick is ready for sea. She has 55,852 bushels wheat aboard, worth $55,293

—The Fleetwood leaves Portland for this place this morning, and resumes her regular trips as before.

—Salem has a man who whips his wife and turns her out of doors because she burns too much wood during these cold days.

—George Williams, a waiter on board the Emma Hayward, was severely burned last evening. He was standing under a hanging lamp when it exploded, setting fire to his clothing and the cabin and severely burning him about the head and body. Dr. Tuttle was immediately called.

—Last Wednesday morning John Wellington Long, a son of Jno. Long, of Knappa, was accidentally drowned at his father's place. The boy, who was fourteen years of age had gone to get some bark at high tide in his boat, and, losing his balance, fell over the side and disappeared. We are indebted to Mr. Crow, of Knappa, for the above.

—Mr. I. W. Case yesterday ordered per Mr. W. B. Wilshire, of the firm of Raymond & Wilshire, agents for the celebrated McNeale & Urban safes, a large fire and burglar proof safe, for his new banking room. The safe will weigh 7,600 pounds, will have a heavy drill proof burglar chest, and attached to this a Dalton dual time lock. It will be the largest and best safe in this county, and will cost $1,800.

—Mrs. Twilight and Mrs. Illsley have taken charge of the Pioneer Restaurant, which has been thoroughly renovated and refitted. Mrs. Illsley has charge of the cuisine. Good coffee a specialty.

—P. J. Goodman, on Chenamus street, has just received the latest and most fashionable style of gents and ladies boots, shoes, etc.

—A lodging house with bar-room, situated in the best business part of town, for sale or to rent. The house is doing a good paying business at present, and is in good running order. Apply to DEW DROP INN.

—A few more chances yet to be taken for that fine graphoscope at the City book store.

—Mr. John Rogers of the Central Market, has made arrangements to keep al the finest fresh fish, etc., in their season —Are you made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of appetite, Yellow Skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. For sale by W. E. Demeat.

—The Westport Shingle Manufacturing Company are now prepared to furnish A 1 sawed cedar shingles. Address all orders to them at Westport, Oregon.

—Rescue with Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar, before the baby strangles with croupe. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.

—Those writing desks at the City book store are the best in the city. They are something nice and durable, and just what most young ladies would appreciate from the giver.

HERMAN'S LETTER.

Something About a Field "Boom" Two Years Ago—Blaine—The Bane of Oregon Newspapers.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

PORTLAND, Jan. 24.

Frank Pixley, editor of the Argonaut, writes to his paper from New York as a bit of news that a systematic boom is being worked up for Mr. Justice Field, of the Supreme bench, for the Presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket in 1884, and announces Cyrus W. Field as the manager. This will not be news to a number of prominent Democratic politicians in Portland who are friendly to Judge Field. Unknown to the rank and file of the party, a good sized boom was started in Oregon during the spring of 1880, under the direction of Colonel W. H. Effinger, with Mr. Barney Goldsmith as business manager and Mr. A. Noltner, then editor of the Daily Standard, as advertising agent, and it was successful in a measure. Although the Oregon delegation to Cincinnati was supposed to be solid for Tilden, but not instructed for him, five out of the six voted for Field. If there had been any such contest as sprang up in the Chicago convention, they would have made a strong fight. But the Hancock cyclone on the second ballot swept everything before it, including the air castles built by the Webfoot delegates. Expenses of the boom—they were about $3,000—were paid by Cyrus W. Field.

The seeds planted in 1880 will blossom in 1884. Judge Field personally is very popular with all classes of Democrats in the State—as popular as any man occupying a station so far above the average citizen could hope to become. His record is spotless. A thorough organization in his behalf will be made, and I venture that he will receive the six votes of Oregon in the next Democratic National Convention. This prediction is based on the fact that he is the strongest man for Pacific Coast States—that workers in the ranks will have greater chance of preferment in the event of his election, and that pride in having a man from one's own section will direct a majority of delegates to the State Convention toward Judge Field.

That Blaine will receive the solid vote of Oregon at the next Republican Convention, is generally admitted. Every Republican newspaper in the State is outspoken in his favor, and it is a safe estimate that this is the sentiment of five-sixths of the voters. Those who will protest against his nomination are a few ultra Grant men and a few veterans who still worship the hero of Appomattox; a few capitalists who favor continued Chinese immigration and a handful of men a little too good for this earth and not quite good enough for heaven, who always wait until they read the Springfield Republican before forming opinions on national questions. Of this latter class, Bent. Killen, a well-known lawyer, remarked: "They can never accomplish anything because no two could agree on any one proposition, but as a crowd, they make a nice, easy "tonic" for the party, and I reckon they do more good in the end than harm."

Another disgrace has befallen Oregon journalism. Personal abuse of their mother carried beyond limit, necessitated two young men to castigate a publisher who probably did not know the meaning of an unfamiliar, horrible word which found its way into the columns of the Sunday Welcome. The New Northwest is not blameless. For years its senior editor has not spared bitter words for those who disagreed with her on any subject, forgetting that in these attacks—not in her battle for woman's rights—she descended from the high pedestal of respect on which men place women, and besmeared a shield and armor which, except for these undignified personalities, would have been kept bright in a worthy cause. In this particular instance the insult to Mrs. Duniway was too great to be borne in silence.

The people of Portland, and I may say the people of Oregon, are proud of those journals which are kept clean, and give all such hearty support. They hoped that the days of useless, uninteresting, senseless vituperation had passed; that the tragedy four years ago which caused the death of McDonald and the long imprisonment of his slayer—which had a far more trifling beginning than last Sunday's disgrace—would end the disreputable business; that editors would be able to discuss matters of real interest without having honest motives impugned by contemporaries; that a man conducting a newspaper would not forget that the public demanded of him the same gentlemanly conduct required from lawyer, physician, or minister. I am glad to note that THE ASTORIAN during the later years of Mr. Ireland's management, and particularly under its present editorial direction, has been free from this bane of Oregon journalism.

A cough, cold or sore throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable lung disease or consumption. Brown's Bronchial troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in asthma, bronchitis, coughs, catarrh, and the throat troubles which singers and public speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's bronchial troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cents a box everywhere.
