—The Yaquina is in port.

—The Abbey Cowper and Acadian came down yesterday.

—The Democratic State Central committee meet next Wednesday.

—The British bark C. P. D., Jones master, is on the way to this port.

—The editor of the Goldendale Gazette is superintendent of a Sunday school.

—The Klickitat Sentinel chronicles the arrival of "100 head of fat cattle for Astoria."

—"Courtesy opens many doors." Yes, and it always shuts the door after it when it goes out.

—No. 1, Vol. 1 of the Harrisburg Disseminator is on our desk, a patent outside hebdomodal.

—The State of California got down yesterday noon. She sails at eight o'clock this morning.

—The Transcript thinks that the Sunday law is proving detrimental to the interests of the Territory.

—The Columbia came in at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and after lying here two hours went up the river.

—Carl Adler announces his place of business as the place to buy books, musical instruments, variety goods, etc.

—The East Portland Vindicator gets some newsy letters from Astoria signed "Aetho," who is well posted and writes a good letter.

—Messrs. McCraken, Flanders and Ingersoll rcommend that seventy-five tons per day be called usual dispatch in discharging at Portland.

—He had been reading "The Moor of Venice," and, upon going over to Case's to pay a note, he exclaimed, "O tellah, Cash I owe, Desdemona, Iago."

—Ship captains and others interested in marine affairs, can find the New York Maritime Register on file in THE ASTORIAN office, for their convenience.

—Various little booms are being gotten up for various little candidates all over the state. This neck of woods hasn't been heard from yet, but there is no hurry.

—$22,000 was the price paid for the British Columbia Packing Company's outfit at New Westminster, B. C., by the new canning company recently organized here.

—We are in receipt of a big pack of flower seeds from D. M. Ferry and Co., of Detroit, Michigan. If they had sent along a consignment of hanging baskets or flower pots also, we could start in opposition to the Occident conservatory.

—Jorkins was in the office yesterday and got telling us what kind of a preacher he liked: says Jorkins, says he, "I don't like to see a man go to sleep in the pulpit, nor dwell too long on one word, I'd rather have him act as though he were fighting bees."

—The New York Maritime Register says that in discussing its recent article on the Columbia river system of towage and pilotage, the Oregon press "in one or two instances became quite hysterical." It is cruel to thus hurt the feelings of the Oregonian by publicly calling attention to its infirmity.

—They are having no end of fun in Oakland, Cal., over a trial in the police court for alleged infringement of the Sunday law. So far out of crowds who have been summoned six model jurymen have been found; men who don't read a newspaper, and who don't know whether this is the eighteenth or the nineteenth century.

Will be Built.

ASTORIA, Feb. 11, 1882.

EDITOR ASTORIAN:

I have noticed since I have been in this fine river port that a great deal of trouble has been had in, and by sea captains, as to how the bar is on their day of sailing, and also by pilots and incoming ships. So I propose that the government place a signal station out on the point, to be connected by telegraph with Astoria, and ships bound in will be sure to get a pilot, and outward bound ships can know with safety as to how the bar is conducting itself. And as I noticed in your paper that captains complain of having to lie outside for days for a pilot, by this means of which I speak we would not have any more of such humbug in our port. If the government should not heed this, there could be a line put up at small expense and owned privately by the tugs and river pilots. C. F. M.

(The line now being surveyed from Cape Hancock to Oak Point is designed to supply the want of which "C. F. M." speaks.—ED. ASTORIAN.)

Ship City of Lucknow Report.

Council Proceedings.

The city council met Tuesday evening and after hearing some petitions, receiving sundry reports, and referring divers claims, adjourned till last evening when they again convened.

—C. H. Bain's mill is running steadily on boat material.

—The Columbia brought up the usual "seventy-three tons of freight" for Astoria.

—The editor of the Pendleton Tribune is informed that the name of this paper is not "Ex."

—Buchtel, of Portland, is advertising himself as the "most distant sheriff of the nation." Where is Mack Twombly? What's our longitude? Where are we?

—The Sterlingshire cleared yesterday for Liverpool. She has a valuable cargo, the total value being $193,-048. The consignment of salmon that she takes closes out the catch of '81.

—Regular convocation of Saints John R. A. Chapter No. 14, this (Thursday) evening at 7:30. Work on P. M. degree. Sojourning companions cordially invited to be present.

—The Puget Sound Argus learns that the run of fur seal has already commenced at Cape Flattery, and that the seal are coming in great numbers. There will be tremendous opposition among local dealers, and lively times at the Cape.

—A letter from Glenn Patterson, of Gray's Harbor, says: "There is quite an excitement on the north side about gold. They are taking out $20 per ton, washing black sand. They have struck a lead 18 inches thick, running back into the beach. About twenty claims have been taken, and all expect to make fortunes."

—A San Diego, Cal., paper considers it a wonderful "phenomenon" because "last night was seen a large, clearly-defined ring around the moon," and being utterly unable to account for the occurrence, resignedly says: "We are drifting into that state of mind in which nothing can surprise us."

—The law of Washington Territory makes it unlawful "for any person to kill any deer for the purpose of selling the same or offering them for sale in the market from the first day of February to the first day of August of each year." The penalty for violating this law is a fine of not less than $12 nor more than $25 for each offense.

—No snow has yet fallen at Gray's harbor. Work on Simpson's saw mill at the mouth of the Hoquim, has suspended for the winter. The wharf is completed, and the mill timbers, machinery and everything necessary for putting up the mill will be brought around from their mill across the river when spring opens, and it is intended to have it in operation by the first of July. The lumber will be shipped in the company's vessels, and a steam tug will be put on the harbor and river to tow vessels and logs.

WE WON'T COUNT THIS.

The tide goes out and the tide comes in,
And gulls hang whitely about the shore;
Our ears grow used to the water's din,
And we heed the bird's quaint flight no more.
So, what does it count that the sun goes down,
That the waves roll out and the roses fall,
That eyelids close over smile or frown?
Ay! what does it count us, after all?

—Poet Who Forgot What He Started to Write About.

Masquerade Ball.

The masquerade ball given under the auspices of Astoria Engine Co. No. 1, last Tuesday evening, was an enjoyable event. At 20 minutes after nine the grand march took place. The hall was filled to its utmost capacity with spectators who all seemed to enjoy the fun. At 15 minutes to eleven the maskers were drawn into line after one and one-half hours dancing, for the purpose of unmasking and receiving the prizes. The following gentlemen acted as judges: A. W Berry, A. Hewett, John Hume, P. W. Parker, and H. W. Wetherby, who after careful consideration awarded the prizes as follows:

Finest costume, lady; ladies handsome dressing case, Mrs. Royce as Silver Shower.

Finest costume, gent; large cabinet album, Fred Krozel as Lord Leicester.

Best sustained character, lady; box of perfume and jewelry case, Miss Ella Campbell as Little Buttercup.

Best sustained gents character; handsome gents dressing case and brush, H. J. Hansen as Oscar Wilde.

There were several other characters and costumes deserving of special notice among which may be named the following: Knight of Pythias, Dashing Daisy, Hungarian Girl, Queen of Diamonds, Fire King, Knife Grinder and Bottle Champagne.

The committee on management tender their thanks to the gentlemen who acted as judges. The affair was both financially and socially a pronounced success. The following is a partial list of Maskers present:

Mrs. Royce, Silver Shower; Miss Emma Vaughan, Queen of Diamonds; Mrs. S. G. Ingalls, Senorita; Miss E. Calahan, Queen of Hearts; Miss Sarah Brown, Jockey; Miss Croank, Poor Girl; Miss Jane Hannah, Pink Domino; Miss Foster, Pink Domino; Miss Ann Trullinger, Pink Domino; Miss Ella Campbell, Buttercup; Mrs. Ilsley, Knight of Pythias; D. C. Ireland, Dashing Daisy; L. H. Grant, Hungarian Girl; Reuben Coe, Policeman; W. J. Coleman, Golden Gander; J Miller, Irishman; W. R. Vaughn, Dutchman; H. S. Vaughn, Hunter; Sam Miller, Hunter; H. Dunbar, Scotchman; F. Ferrell, Soldier; O. Wilson, Sailor Boy; F. Krozel, Lord Leicester; R. Welcome, Italian; H. C. Hipple, Fire King; H. J. Hansen, Oscar Wilde; J. P. Leathers, Oscar Tane; James Lidwel, Russian; F. Hyde, Forester; Geo. Cornell, Student; C. J. Trenchard, Louis XIV; Geo. Cruikshank, Scotchman; J. W. Welch, Polish Prince; L. E. Selig, Bottle Champagne; D. P. Ross, Bonaparte; Chas. Moffett, Chinaman; Capt. Douglas, Domino; Geo. Ross, Knife Grinder; W. H. Wood, French Captain.

—At the last meeting of the A. O. U. W. there was a committee of three appointed for the purpose of making arrangements for an anniversary ball, to be given on the first of March.

—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Olympic gymnasium, it was decided to give a "sheet and pillow case" party on Monday evening, February 20th. The committees are appointed and the boys expect a grand time.

Small Pox.

A case of what the physician in charge pronounces small pox is in Upper Astoria, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. Bell being afflicted. School has been closed and the house strictly quarantined. All that can be done to prevent the spread of the disease has been done, and 'tis thought can be prevented from being epidemic.

Lecture.

At the Congregational church this evening Rev. R. W. Hill, of Salem, will lecture; his subject being "Rienzi, the last of the Tribunes." The proceeds will be for the benefit of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church.

Red, White and Blue.

The local of the Salem Statesman is an æsthete. He wants that houses with residents afflicted by "measels" shall be ornamented with a blue flag, scarlet fever by red, diphtheria by white and small pox by yellow oriflammes. In case of sheriff's sales red flags are hung out; the auctioneer cries and the sheriff weeps his wiping eyes. The blue flag or calamus is to be eaten before breakfast, and the white flag is only hung out at the close of the conflict.

—Don't fail to hear the lecture at the Congregational church this evening at 7:30.

—It is thought that the burned wreck recently reported off Mendocino is the lost bark Rainier that has been fired to sink her.

Lost.

A large black dog—biggest dog in town—leather collar on neck. I will reward any one that brings him back.
