—This is Shrove Sunday.

—Services in all the churches to-day.

—Twenty-seven vessels in the harbor yesterday.

—Bishop Morris officiates at Grace church to-day.

—See the tableaux at Liberty hall to-morrow night.

—Steamer day to-morrow; Oregon up, Columbia down.

—To-day is the Jewish festival of Rosh Hodish Adar.

—Next Wednesday is Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent.

—Faith, Hope, and Charity," at Liberty hall to-morrow night.

—Ten inches of snow at Jewell and four feet on the divide this side.

—The late gale did considerable damage in the Chehalis country.

—Playing on the violin will cure nervousness; so will eating celery.

—The Josalfer went up stream yesterday; the Clydebank came down.

—Go to the sheet and pillow case party to-morrow night, and be happy.

—A child of Mr. Davis and another of Mr. Malins of Deep river died lately.

—Moy and Keller call attention to the fact they make a specialty of fine sausages.

—Capt. Gilman gives notice this morning of importance to any one concerned.

—The days are stretching out. To-day is ten hours and thirty-seven minutes long.

—The Alert is ready for sea with 29,957 bushels of wheat on board, worth $28,400.

—The Union blames the innocent Chinook for causing the numerous fights in Walla Walla.

—Methodist church—services at the usual hours to-day, J. Parsons, pastor. Sunday school at noon.

—Strangers and visitors tell us that this is "the liveliest place of its size on the coast." Of course it is.

—The Dochra, Merwanjee Framjee, C. S. Hurlburt, and Duke of Connaught, went to sea yesterday.

—Preaching at the Presbyterian Church by the pastor at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sunday school at noon.

—An explosion at a Chester, Pennsylvania fire, last Friday, killed seventeen men and wounded nearly one hundred others.

—The cold wave seems extensive. Up-river bulletins report cold weather at all points. At Alto it was ten degrees below freezo.

—The Band of Hope will meet at the Congregational Church at 4 this afternoon. New rituals, new badges, and election of officers.

—Under the new apportionment the House of Representatives will consist of three hundred and twenty-five members—a regular bear garden.

—There will be divine service on board the ship Jennie Landles, lying at the O. R. & N. Co.'s dock, at 4 P. M. Rev. J. M. McCormac officiating.

—Dan Rice, the once famous circus man, rests his claim to fame upon the fact that he received $1,000 a week for nine years and never saved a cent of it.

—The Western Belle and Reporter—the latter 232 days from New York, arrived in yesterday. The Reporter draws twenty-two and one-half feet of water.

The Small Pox Case.

We are informed by Dr. Kinney, attending the small pox case in upper Astoria in the family of James Bell, that all of the family, some ten in number, were vaccinated as soon as the case was discovered to be small pox. The vaccinations were all successful and consequently no other cases are expected in the same family. No one but the physician is allowed to go to and from the house. The doctor suggests that the proprietors of all the canneries examine their mess houses regulary, and whenever any Chinaman is found with a fever or eruption, that a physician be called to examine the case. This will be necessary as the Chinamen are now returning from various parts of the country where small pox has been known to exist.

A Sweet Surprise.

On Friday evening last, fifteen bright and sparkling school girls surprised Nellie and Lottie Levings, at the residence of Mr. W. B. Headington. Each girl brought a little parcel of sugar; and such another sweet party has not been for a long time, at least, on West-eighth street.

—It isn't pleasant to find the water pipes frozen in the morning; but, then it can't last long.

—Our exchanges these days are running serial stories, of great interest to delinquent tax payers, written by the sheriff, and of considerable cash value to all concerned.

—From advance sheets of next Wednesday's editorials from everywhere: "One hundred and fifty years ago to day was born the man who has justly been declared to be first in war," etc.

—The fact that yesterday was Saturday, fine overhead and delightfully slick under foot, made it pleasant for the juveniles who went out in force with sleds.

—The sheet and pillow case party to-morrow night is, we believe, the first entertainment of the kind ever gotten up here. "Everybody and his wife" will be there, and you'd better go than wish you had.

—The San Francisco Bulletin says it corrects its Columbia river shipping list by "Mail advices from Portland." It is remarkably authentic. In the issue of February 8th it has the Beecroft, Arctic, Glenpadam and others still in port.

—The newest thing out is an invention of Munson, the stenographer, by the use of which any person familiar with a type-writer can send dispatches which will print themselves through a type-writer at the other end of the line. A business man in one city can send a message direct to an other city by dictating to the operator of his type-writer. The manipulation of the keys of the writer in the office of a correspondent in a distant city in the same manner and at the same instant as the printing of the home instrument. It is all done on one wire.

—The attorney of the Northern Pacific Railroad company in this city, says the Seattle P. I., is in receipt of a dispatch from Henry Villard, dated Tuesday last, instructing him to obtain, if possible, a right of way along the Seattle water front for the Oregon and Trans-continental Railroad company and the Columbia and Puget Sound Railroad company, jointly. The dispatch also states that the Oregon and Trans-continental Railroad company will build a road from a point south of Tacoma to Seattle.

—The Standard reports that there has been a considerable decline in charters during the past week, and 62s 6d is all that is now demanded for iron ships, while the prospect is good for obtaining them for 60s. Singular to say the decline in charters has been accompanied quite contrary to the usual course of things by a fall in wheat. Very little is doing, and $1 57½ is all that is offered. One shipper was offered 10,000 bushels free on board for $1 60, but declined.

—There is now, says Bill Nye, a brand of fine-cut tobacco known as "Thistle Dew." When a man asks for a certain kind of weed and can't get it, he just purchases a package of the new variety, and murmurs as he takes it, "Thistle Dew." This is an example of a new hand-made English joke that we are turning out now at this office. We have, in addition to the above highly classic style of mirth, a good, fair, average stoga joke at a much smaller price. Estimates made for almanacs, minstrel shows and funerals. We have a new and attractive mourning joke on hand now that makes death almost a welcome messenger. Send ten cents for catalogue.

—Buy a copy of THE WEEKLY ASTORIAN to-day.

New Establishment.

Mr. D. A. McIntosh, merchant tailor, wishes to announce to his patrons that he will leave to-morrow by the steamer Columbia for San Francisco, to purchase a stock of Foreign and American cassimeres, English and Scotch tweeds and cloths. Also, a first class line of gents furnishing goods, hats, clothing, etc. He will open in the new store of the Occident Hotel block, which will be ready for occupancy about the first of March.

Pilot Charges, Foreign and Domestic

In an article entitled "Port Charges on American Shipping" published in a recent number of Bradstreet's the following table is given exhibiting the main features of the pilotage systems in force in the principal ports of the United States, as compared with the same in the leading ports of Europe:

Port.	Rates per foot of draft.	Detention of pilot per day
Boston	$1 10 to $5 00	$3 00
New York	2 70 to 6 50	3 00
Philadelphia	3 00 to 4 16	3 00
Baltimore	3 50 to 5 00	3 00
Norfolk	2 15 to 4 50	3 00
Charleston	2 85 to 10 00	4 00
Savannah	3 29 to 6 26	4 32
Mobile	3 50 to 6 00	......
New Orleans	3 50 to 4 50	......
Galveston	5 00 to	......
San Francisco	5 00 to 500 tons; over, 4c per ton addtional	8 00

The above rates are compulsory. Philadelphia charges one-half pilotage if pilot is not taken. San Francisco exempts whaling and fishing vessels. The remarkable uniformity in the detention charge is to be noted. It represents the assumed value of a pilot's time when detained unnecessarily.

The following are the charges at some of the principal ports of Europe: Liverpool, $1 to $2 25 per foot draft; coasters, half rates. London, $5 to $140 per vessel; including channel pilotage, $5 to $75. Glasgow, 37½c 75c. per foot draft. Havre, $5 20 per 100 tons. Amsterdam, according to draft and season. Rotterdam, vessel of 20 feet, in and out, $175.

The above rates are compulsory. Reduction of from 6 per cent to 25 per cent is made in favor of steam vessels in tow. The English channel pilotage is not compulsory. The most casual inspection reveals the disproportion between foreign and American rates.

A Liberal Creed.

"I don't believe that God made this world and then made shipwreck of it and sent out churches as a kind of lifeboats to pick up as many as they can and let the rest go to the bottom. I believe that all can be saved that will. There is no damnation for a man that lives in love and usefulness. My salvation does not turn on any minute examination such as have been oftentimes urged on men. It turns on my sympathy with my kind and with my God, and if I am in perfect sympathy with these it is all well with me." — Henry Ward Beecher, Brooklyn, Feb. Feb. 5, 1882.

—From headquarters comes the news that the Queen of the Pacific is expected to arrive here late in May. She will immediately be put on the Portland-San Francisco route, together with the Oregon, State of California and Columbia, and one steamer will leave each port every four instead of every five days. The City of Chester will continue on the route carrying combustibles.
