—April 1st.

—Volume XVII.

—Who catches the first salmon?

—Seattle has thirty-seven saloons.

—Republican primaries next Saturday.

—No more duck shooting after to-day.

—The O. R. & N. Co.'s stock is going up. 'Tis quoted at 142.

—How do our cannerymen like the Astoria mail facilities?

—And now it is a girl famine that Astoria is afflicted with.

—4000 Chinamen go to Victoria from Hongkong this season.

—"A regular swarm of men" arrived on the Willamette yesterday.

—The smelt have gone further up the river this season than any time since 1875.

—Parties from upper town who come for their mail should bring a lunch with them.

—The Willamette came in yesterday morning. A large crowd got off at this place.

—Remember Saturday evening prayer meeting in the Young Men's rooms. All cordially invited.

—Inyo, Alpine and Mono,—three broken down California counties ask to be joined to Nevada.

—Wheat is $1.56 per cental in the Sacramento valley, and $1.62½ in the Willamette valley.

—The trains between The Dalles and Walla Walla have been blockaded by a sand storm, and all mails are delayed.

—The steamer Golden City burned to the water's edge at Memphis, last Thursday morning: over thirty lives were lost.

—Any girl that can make a batch of biscuits and boil some coffee, can have her pick of half-a-dozen places if she wants to work.

—The Oroville Cal., Mercury, has stepped from the shadow of neutrality into the sunlight of independence, and is a good paper.

—The fragment of some fierce and far off climate struck the town yesterday afternoon, and toward sunset the storm cloud rolled in from the south, and the rain descended in torrents.

—A New York lady advertises that "having been recently married," she has "a cat, a monkey and parrot" for sale. She must have secured a rara avis.

—Miss Nellie Sloan, who was "married" to Lawrence in this city some time ago, has left him at Berne, Switzerland, and intends going to her uncle who lives in Illinois.

—"Grant is opposed to the Chinese bill;" so says the telegraph. Let us see—it must be two weeks since he asked the country for anything. He should give the country—a rest.

—We hear of several valuable cows being recently poisoned near Olney. Mr. Shively lost a fine animal that way this week. A man that would poison his neighbors cattle could be "Seattled" without much injury to mankind in general.

—Dennis Sullivan, mate of the Ivy, now discharging at the O. R. & N. Co.'s dock, was arraigned in the district court at Portland last Thursday on the complaint of four sailors. The charge was cruelty on the high seas, and it being sustained he was sentenced to pay $200 or two months in the county jail. He chose the former and came down to Astoria last evening.

Jewell Notes.

JEWELL, Or., March 29, 1882.
EDITOR ASTORIAN:

On Saturday, 25th inst., Mr. J. L. Moore, of this place, while making a wooden wedge to split open a rail, accidentally struck his ax handle on something behind him, causing the ax to come down on his left thumb next his hand, severing it completely, except a small piece of skin; not having any hopes of it growing together he went to W. A. Fosters and had him finish the job. Mr. Moore is a hard-working man. He leaves here to-day for Astoria to have the wound examined.

Mr. Brouse of Pittsburg, on Nehalem, who owns a grist and sawmill, brought down two raft of lumber yesterday, one for here and the other for Mishawaka. Mr. Rupert, of the same place, came down with a raft of shakes and shingles. The Nehalem is at a good stage for rafting. Mr. Brouse intends coming down with some more lumber as soon as he can get back.

Last week I sawed off a rail-cut from a yellow fir which was 6½ feet in diameter 40 feet from the ground. I couted the growths and found it to be over 400 years old. Just think of it standing here on Nehalem before Columbus discovered this country.

RESIDENT.

Memorial Exercises.

Those who attended the memorial exercises at Miss Brown's school yesterday afternoon enjoyed a treat. First on the programme was the reading of an essay, in which many points of interest were given regarding the life and education of the departed poet; this was followed by quotations, declamations, and select readings from his most familiar writings. The children did great credit both to themselves and teacher. And the hour spent in that school-room yesterday afternoon will be long and pleasantly remembered by both pupils and visitors. At the conclusion several of those present expressed their feelings of gratification. One word must be said of the way in which Miss Brown has decorated the barren and unfurnished walls of school-room, giving it a homelike and cheerful look for the little folks.

Police Court.

March 31st.

Emanuel Porrelto, violent and disorderly manner; tried, found "guilty" and fined $5, or two days in the city jail.

William Harrison, violent and disorderly; deposited $5, no appearance, deposit forfeited.

—The W. J. Rotch, now en route for the Columbia waters, gets $20,000 to carry a load of laborers from Hongkong to Portland.

—We understand that the steerage passengers that came up on the Willamette are still suffering from indigestion, having been fed too plentifully. The commissary department needs a little attention as well as mail transportation on the ocean route.

—In the justice court the case of the State of Oregon vs. Geo. Day, on a charge of larceny of 228, fathoms of web, the prisoner was held to answer, under bonds of $500 and being unable to furnish that amount he was remanded to jail. He will have quite a stay in the bastile as the court does not meet till August.

—It has been decided by the engineers in charge of the Canadian Pacific, to adopt the Moberly or Columbia river route, which will cross the mountains about 100 miles north of the boundary line, instead of the more northerly route heretofore favored. The Moberly route will cross the Columbia twice at the great bend.

—Fifteen vessels cleared from Astoria during the month of March. These vessels carried 70,553 barrels of flour, 744 cases of salmon, and 585, 105 bushels of wheat: the aggregate value was $909,550. The Columbia river foreign exports for '82 have, thus far, been to the value of $3,128;413—not a bad showing for three months.

—The Vancouver Independent says, men desiring to serve Uncle Sam at the very liberal figures and splendid inducements which are offered for recruits will now find ample opportunity to don the uniform, as a recruiting officer has been designated for each post in the department, for either branch of the service within its limits.

—Frank Fabre has oysters in every style. Stew and pan roasts a specialty.

—Dr. Whittemore may be found at any hour, day or night, at Capt. Rodgers, two doors above the THE ASTORIAN office.

—M. D. Kant, our popular merchant tailor and clothier, has returned from San Francisco and will open in a few days the largest, grandest and best-selected stock of clothing, furnishing goods, clothes, hats, caps, boots and shoes, etc., and will give a full description of styles and prices, in these columns.
