THE CITY.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN will be sent by mail at 75 cents a month, free of postage. Readers who contemplate absence from the city can have THE ASTORIAN follow them, DAILY or WEEKLY, at a very low rate with no additional expense.

The Emily Chaplin went to sea yesterday afternoon.

Sheriff Twombly gives notice to sundry delinquents this morning.

We are informed he was not arrested, as alleged. It was a mistake.

J. F. Barrows is getting up a neat little boat, "The Daisy," for his rapidly increasing trade.

The fire box and other massive machinery for the new boat building for the I. S. N. Co., was moved to place yesterday.

Business of every kind is brisk on our streets, and as soon as a little more money gets circulated among the boys, a fair sized boom will be under way.

The Portland politicians are in sad need of a political issue, when they seek to drag in the action of that municipality, looking to the placing of a loan for the purpose of improving the Columbia river.

We received our usual consignment of over 1,700 pounds of paper by the last steamer and are prepared to do anything in the way of job printing that is desired.

The late earthquake seems to have been confined to Oregon and Washington Territory, no accounts of any internal disturbance having been received from California.

Opposition in the sealing business off Cape Flattery is being carried to such an extent that the Indians now demand a bonus of twenty dollars each from those employing them before they will stir a peg.

The clang of the fire bell started the department up Chenamus street on the double-quick at 8:30 yesterday morning. A burning flue in F. D. Winston's house was the cause of the alarm. There was no damage.

Jamae McBride, who has been employed as a porter at the Occident, was arrested yesterday, charged with stealing a $60 suit of clothes from the hotel. He will have a hearing before his Honor to-day.

Decoration day will be celebrated in an elaborate manner at Vancouver. It will be the most imposing military spectacle ever witnessed in Washington Territory, and it is thought that upward of 10,000 visitors will be in attendance.

The new steamer Montemano, which left here last Thursday for the Chehalis, arrived at Montesano on the same day. She made her first trip in good shape and will be the means of opening up a good trade to the merchants of this city.

A delegation of the city fathers went to Clatsop Plains yesterday to select a site for a cemetery. Several suitable places were seen, but no definite action will be taken until further information be given in reference to prices, etc.

On the Portland boat, yesterday noon, there was a man who had shipped in that city to go on board the Storm King, lying at Smith's Point, and who had received his advance money. Upon his arrival here he was placed in a Whitehall boat, and while being carried down to the vessel, the boat was intercepted by fishermen who took him away from those who had him in charge, and secreted him. At a late hour last evening he was arrested on a charge of desertion and conveyed to jail. As the man cannot speak a word of English it was impossible to get at the inside of the matter further than we have stated.

Stationery and blank books, all styles and prices at Carl Adler's.

A Grand Performance.

Manager Stechhan deserves credit for having brought up such a 11 performers as constitute the combination that finished an engagement at Liberty Hall last night. A good many who had about concluded that we couldn't see a first-class minstrel performance without going to San Francisco were agreeably surprised upon finding on the stage as able an array of artistic talent as any place could boast. The overflowing mirth that characterized the first night's entertainment was well sustained last evening, and the old, dim, worn-out gags that have done three-bare duty so long for the and men, were replaced by jokes and smart sayings that had some life to them. Reed, Ryan and Haverly can make genuine fun, while Bishop, Dixon, Fresh and Lawless have sufficient musical ability in a vocal way to satisfy the most critical. The stage business from the olio to the last sketch is good, and a complete orchestra gives a refreshing contrast to the piano and violin accompaniment of some, so called, "minstrel troupes." This company is a strong one and will do well.

An Earthquake Story.

We've waited and listened to all the earthquake stories that were told us ever since Monday morning, and in our rounds collecting, have secured some choice reminiscences of "gone-but-not-forgotten" shakes. One, which was told us by a young man with a blonde moustache and a stiff hat, struck us as being—well, unique. "In the winter of '76," said this youth, "I was running a car in the Raymond and Ely mine in Pioche, Nevada. This mine was 1200 feet deep. An earthquake struck the town from the south and knocked it galley-west. Chimneys tumbled, walls cracked, men jumped, women fainted, and so on; but down where we were there wasn't a quiver. It was only when we got to the surface that we knew that there had been any earthquake. Now, how do you account for that? We didn't account for it. Who can!

No Show for a Conflagration.

We of Astoria are to be congratulated on being so well protected from the ravages of the fire fiend, as heaven and earth stand in together on every occasion of an incipient fire. When the fire bell sounded at half-past 8 yesterday morning the boys went whirling out to Winston's house. There were a few lazy-looking clouds loitering around the hillside near the cemetery and off toward Uppertown, but at the first clang of the tower bell they pulled themselves together and came sweeping on as fast as their misty wits would let them, and about the time that any well-developed fire would have begun to roar and crackle, a driving shower was deluging that part of the town in the vicinity of the fire, while up toward Tongue Point everything was as dry as a bone.

The Earthquake at Westport.

WESTPORT, May 1. EDITOR ASTORIAN: Last night, at about 10:30, two severe shocks of earthquake were felt in this vicinity. We were in a fishing-boat on the river. The river was smooth, and the moon shining. The undulations seemed to move from S.W. to N.E., with a loud, rumbling noise, as if the boat was going over rapids and grating on the bottom. The fish were jumping in all directions, and sharp reports on land, as if the mountains were breaking and timber falling, were heard. I looked at my watch and (by my time) it was 29 minutes after ten. ITEM.

Across the River.

FORT CANBY, W. T., May 1. EDITOR ASTORIAN: Last night at 10:50 p. m. this place was visited by an earthquake of some severity, lasting from 10 to 30 seconds, vibrating I think from east to west. It shook things up pretty lively in my quarters, opening doors, and spilling water out of a tumbler on a stand. No damage was done. A very slight shower followed the shock in about half an hour, but a dense fog came up immediately after. W. S. B.

Police Court.

May 2nd. Thos. Smith, using obscene and abusive language in a public place; fined $20 or ten days in city jail. On the hurry consequent upon editing our earthquake department yesterday, we said that one pane of glass 6x13x1/2 inches had been placed in the new Knights of Pythias building. It should have mentioned two panes of such dimensions as adorning the front of the aforesaid building. This is a painful correction. Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria and Canker Mouth. Sold by W. E. Dement.

The Salmon Catch for April.

William Hume, the pioneer packer of the river, informs us that the run of salmon for April has been the smallest he has ever known here, and Capt. James B. Booker, a man of fourteen years' experience on the river, corroborates the statement. The preparations and facilities for catching fish this year are greater than ever before, yet the pack for April is fully 15,000 cases short of the packs of 1880 and 1881 for the same month. The following canneries, from which a fair estimate of the entire work of the whole river is indicated, report as follows:

- Wm. Hume, for April, 1882, 369 cases short of 1881. George W. Hume, for April, 1882, 962 cases short of 1881. Eureka Packing Co., for April, 1882, 1015 cases short of 1881 (over 50 per cent). Astoria Packing Co., for April, 1882, 500 cases short of 1881. Anglo-American Packing Co., for April, 1882, 200 cases short of 1881. Wetherly & Thomas, for April, 1882, 2,300 cases short of 1881. Fishermen's Packing Co. for April, 1882, 450 cases short of 1881 (50 per cent). J. G. Megler & Co., for April, 1882, over 1200 cases short of 1881 (over 50 per cent).

The foregoing list includes all canneries from which we have obtained figures, but the probabilities are that others could give corresponding reports with, perhaps, one or two exceptions.

Having other business that demands my attention I offer for sale my chophouse, situated in this city. J. M. FROEDMAN.
