—The Chinese steamer is reported outside.

—There are two vessels loading salmon for Liverpool.

—The Reporter cleared for Queenstown yesterday.

—A party of Russian Jewish refugees are en route to Portland.

—The Yaquina crossed in yesterday afternoon from Tillamook and Coos bay.

—Mrs. I. N. Foster, of Jewell, who has been dangerously ill is recovering.

—Judge Stott has set the 16th of June as the time for the Carrie Bradley trial.

—It begins to look like business across the street from our office, with derrick, blocks and tackle for the land driver.

—The Walla Walla went to the Sound yesterday to load with coal for San Francisco.

—The man who will expectorate tobacco juice on a lady's dress cannot expect to rate as a gentleman.

—There will be a regular meeting of Temple Lodge No. 7, F. & A. M., this evening, by order of the W. M.

—The British bark Glengarry, Bernier master, which sailed from Melbourne on the 14th of February via Guam, arrived in last evening.

—The Portland board of trade has appointed a committee to telegraph a memorial to the secretary of war praying for an appropriation of $25,000 to "scrape" the Columbia river bar. Capt. Powell, it is understood, will endorse the request.

—Reports from New Mexico indicate that the Apaches are defeated and crushed. During the previous two weeks they killed 140 whites and Mexicans, captured five hundred head of stock, and destroyed over $75,000 worth of property, but on April 29th they were totally routed near Lordsburg.

—Capt. Tod, of the British steamer Glamis Castle, which arrived in San Francisco last Thursday from China, states that there are between 80,000 and 90,000 Chinese at Hongkong awaiting an opportunity to come to this country, and vessels are being chartered at enormous rates. The fact that Chinese do not arrive by the thousand every day is because there are not sufficient vessels to be had to bring them over.

—A dish washer and a waiter can find employment at the Weston House.

—The gentleman who got the wrong Derby hat at the rink Thursday night can call at this office and exchange for his own.

—Stationery and blank books, all styles and prices at Carl Adler's.

—Go to Roscoe's and try the Boston Crystal Ice Cream. Occident Block.

—Just received direct from New York a large stock of Nottingham lace curtains and upholstery goods at Chas. Heilborn's.

—See those new rubber spittoons at E. R. Hawes.

—Parties wishing groceries, provisions or merchandise of any description, should leave their orders with A. Van Dusen & Co. as they are prepared to deliver goods in any part of the city on the shortest notice.

—Freshest and finest cakes, fruit and candy at the Astoria candy factory.

—For the genuine J. H. Cutter old Bourbon, and the best of wines, liquors and San Francisco beer, call at the Gem opposite the bell tower, and see Campbell.

—Ingersoll's lectures and "What Must we Do to be Saved?" at Carl Adler's.

—A large consignment of the best brand Red Cross coal oil just received at Jno. Rodger's, Central Market.

—Anyone wishing plain sewing done can be accommodated by applying at Mrs. Hepburn's, over the City book store.

—You want to get some of Roscoe's ice cream to-day: fresh made and nicely flavored.

One Pledge necessary.

In the approaching election the success or defeat of either party is of importance mainly to those who are personally interested in the result. There are certain principles above all party considerations; principles that are delicately touched upon in party platforms, and quietly ignored in party discussions; among such principles directly affecting the common prosperity of this community, of this part of Oregon are, first the necessity of such legislation as will make railroad corporations forsake the dog-in-the-manger policy that they pursue whenever allowed to do so, and, second, the necessary of requiring from all candidates for legislative honors a pledge that they will not accept any free passes from transportation companies. We believe that this is simple justice. Our people in this part of the state have considerable political influence. Let it not be thrown away. Demand of the man who asks you to send him to Salem that he will pay his way and will accept no favors from any corporation that would be proffered him by virtue of his position. There is no half-way house to this business. A public man whether judge or legislator that will take a pass from a railroad company is not dealing fairly with the people who elect him. John Smith, so long as he is private citizen John Smith pays three cents a mile for his railroad rides, or is thrown off the train. But let him, by the vote of his fellow citizens, become Judge John Smith or Hon. John Smith, member from Clatsop, and he pays nothing. Every time he enters a car or boat he, in effect, receives three cents a mile for the trip, as the company's addition to his salary. The people give him so many dollars a day for being their representative, and the company gives him so many cents a mile for being (t). He is thus in the pay of the people and in the pay of the transportation companies. The people pay him for his services to them. The company pay him for his services—to whom? That is the question.

Let us not be understood as evincing any hostility to corporations of any kind. They are good when not allowed unlimited power—and the county needs such combination of capital to help develop its resources and bring people here to fill up. No one admires more than we the enterprise that places us in almost semi-weekly communication with San Francisco, or more fully appreciates the convenience of rapid communication with points to the east. But it does not follow that public servants should be carried free. Of course it will be said "that is not the business of a newspaper; if the railroad company wants to give Jones or Brown a free ride, that's all right." It is not all right, and it is a newspaper's business to say just what it thinks on all public questions. We can write with perfect consistency. Whenever we travel we put up the coin for our ticket, and can grumble at the accommodations or praise them just as we find them.

The charity of a railroad company is as carefully calculated as a set of insurance tables. It is founded on the old doctrine of the elect. It begins precisely where the interest of the railroad begins, and it ends there. Free passes are given to those, and only those, who are in positions to do the roads good or to do them harm.

A free pass is not given as a mark of regard; it is a sort of tacit retaining fee and SOILS THE HAND OF HIM WHO TAKES IT, if he hold an office to which he was elected by the people.

For this we say that whatever ticket a man's name may be on, we think that in the interest of Clatsop county, by reason of the neglect or refusal of the corporation holding the Astoria land grant to comply with the terms of the agreement, he should give a full and unequivocal pledge that if elected he will accept no favors as a legislator that would not be extended to him as a private citizen.

George's Sentiments

In a letter to an Oregon friend suggesting that he canvas the state, Congressman George says: "Referring to your suggestion as to the necessity of my pairing with some Democrat, and returning to canvass Oregon in the event of my nomination, I must state such is out of the question. To pair would merely neutralize politically on a few questions, but for me to leave congress would be to neglect my duty as a congressman and as a member of committees now overloaded with general business, and also all material interests which I represent for the people of Oregon. Our river and harbor appropriations, our commercial interests, and our various bills for the benefit of our state and the people generally now before the committees in congress and requiring constant attention, to say nothing of department business for our citizens in the land, census, pension or postoffice business—in short, it would be to neglect my duty in my first term in order to secure a re-election. I would prefer defeat rather than neglect the work already placed in my hands by the people of our state, therefore to my generous and partial fellow-citizens to whom I owe all I am, I must trust the future."

Some Duty and Tax

Strolling into the U. S. bond warehouse, says the Standard, we found U. S. Appraiser T. McF. Patton overlooking a band of Chinamen as they pasted the necessary internal revenue stamps on a lot of alleged tobacco lately imported from China. The owner of the tobacco stated that it cost 20 cents per pound in the "old country," and, before he could sell it here, he was obliged to pay a custom duty of 50 cents per pound and paste 20 cents worth of revenue stamps on each pound. These little items, added to freight, insurance, etc., made the stuff quite costly to the consumer. If there could only be a duty of 50 cents per pound placed on the rice the heathen import, and a 1 cent revenue stamp on each kernel, the great Chinese problem which is causing so much excitement would soon be solved.
