

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

TUESDAY, JULY 18, 1882.

J. F. HALLORAN, Editor.

Come Down.

The New Tacoma Ledger of the 14th, has a boasting editorial about two barks which sailed into the Sound to load with coal.

"Could they do as much against the bar and the current and the shoals of the Columbia?"

Of course they could. The same day that the question was written two barks of far heavier tonnage and deeper draught sailed in "against the bar and the current and the shoals of the Columbia," and in a few weeks they will go out with wheat and flour for Europe.

One of the Fruits.

There is trouble among the working people in all the protected industries, and more especially in those where protection has been most steadily and abundantly accorded.

A LONG ISLAND minister has discovered over one hundred families in his vicinity who never saw a Bible and two persons who never heard of Jesus Christ.

JAPAN should have the sympathy of Christendom. The government is adopting "the medicines of civilization."

glers. An order from Washington for the release of the opium thus making the venture a success, will not create such a surprise, written about the "idea of Garfield" and conflicting opinions are advanced, but all agree that it was not his idea that offenders against the federal laws should not escape punishment, though they might be political bosses.

A KANSAS liquor seller, who was sentenced for violation of the prohibition laws to a fine of $100 and costs and thirty days' imprisonment, shot himself shortly after his release from jail.

A CONNECTICUT liquor law began with these words: "Every person who shall sell liquor to a minor."

Sir JOHN HOLKER, the English lord justice of appeal, just deceased, was very popular in the house of commons, because he always talked sound common sense, and was greatly inclined to sink the lawyer in the man of the world.

A LONG ISLAND minister has discovered over one hundred families in his vicinity who never saw a Bible and two persons who never heard of Jesus Christ.
