 —Seventh Sunday after Trinity.
 —But seven days more in which to fish.
 —Divine service in every church in the city, to-day.
 —Chenamus street was lively yesterday evening with outside attractions.
 —The Walla Walla Statesman local has finally got to work. He labors under an impression.
 —Presbyterian church preaching by the pastor at 11 a. m. Sunday school at noon. No evening service.
 —The Clara Parker leaves this morning at 9 o'clock on what promises to be one of the pleasantest excursions of the season.
 —Rev. J. W. Walters will preach at the Congregational church to-day at 11 o'clock. Sabbath school at noon. All are cordially invited to attend.
 —Regular meeting of the Y. M. C.
 A., at their rooms at 2:45 p. m. this afternoon. W. C. Chaitin, agent for the Oregon Bible society will lead the services.
 —New Jersey residents of Washington city tendered Governor Newell, of Washington territory, a reception last Thursday, and presented him with a gold watch and chain.
 —The barks Glengary and Wolfe, which have been lying in the stream for several weeks, have been chartered by parties here to load at Astoria with salmon, direct for London.
 —The conference report of the river and harbor bill cuts down the appropriation for Yaquina bay from $100, 000 to $60,000, and for the Cascades canal from $300,000 to $265,000.
 —The Portland papers have a good standing item which forms a "pickup" for the boys. It is about a man named Welch, an alleged saddler, whose present address is indefinite.
 —A dispatch dated Friday, July 21st, from Alexandria, says that Arabi Pasha has cut off the water supply from the city. This entitles the Alexandrians to the warmest sympathy of Astorians.
 —Senator Miller, of California, urges an amendment to the harbor appropriation bill, setting aside $15,000 for the erection of a light house at "Point Hanson on the south side of the entrance to Gray's harbor." —Hen's eggs 1,200 years old have been found in St. Elmo, France.
 We've always maintained that something more ancient than Portland eggs would some day be reported, and, behold! here we have it.
 —There will be a bankers' convention at Saratoga next month, at which the matter of securing the repeal of the bank-check tax will be discussed.
 There are 7,000 banks in the country and the question is an important one.
 —It seem to be the impression in congress that in this or the next congress the grant of the Northern Pacific will be forfeited. Whether the rumor is put out to get up a corner on the stock, or is an inking of the truth is an open question.
 —Yesterday morning a Finn who has been working in Mead's saw mill, in upper Astoria, and whose name we could not learn, had two fingers taken off his right hand by a buzz saw which he was operating. He received surgical attention at the hospital.
 —We are informed that Cutting & Co. have bought 180 feet of beach front just west of J. C. Trullinger's saw mill, on which they will put up a new cannery this fall. It will be possessed of all the modern appliances and be one of the largest on the river.

Captain Roper's Troubles

Captain Roper, of the Anjer Head, is ill, and he was heard to remark that his sole ambition was to ship a salmon about a dozen San Francisco reporters. "You can't open your mouth, you know, but what the bloody cannibals have to print it, you know." Saturday night, in the establishment of a Democratic politician, he, it is reported, made offensive remarks against a certain nationally, when a listener struck him in the eye, causing the surroundings of that tender portion of his anatomy to take a darkened hue. Since that time the captain has kept to the seclusion of his cabin, positively refusing to receive the public, and more particularly the reporters. So many visitors boarded the boat yesterday that a quartermaster was stationed at the cabin door of the Anjer Head to keep them out.—S. F. Coll.

Costly Book.

The Government is going to the expense of getting out a very costly book on the fisheries of the United States. It will be too fine for common folks, but will be distributed to congressmen, each getting one copy.
 Prof. Baird says of it: "Had the data now presented been in the hands of the American commissioners at Halifax in 1877, no award of damages would or could have been made." It is well known that the fishery studies of late years have resulted in enormously increasing the fish food of the country, not only by stocking the rivers, but by bringing neglected varieties into favor at the markets, they have also added millions to our annual export trade; but now it seems that a knowledge of these statistics would have saved us the $5,500,000 codfish dinner which we were obliged to give John Bull. However, the subject is still practical, for the twelve-year treaty expires in 1885.

Fraser River Salmon.

A New Westminster paper says that Fraser river is everywhere full of salmon, and all the canneries are taxed to their utmost capacity. We are informed that some of the canneries have had to take a portion of their fishing boats, as the catch was greater than they could handle. Several of the canneries are putting up 500 cases each per day. It is estimated that no less than 45,000 salmon were delivered at the six canneries in the vicinity of New Westminster on Thursday. The run is considerably larger than it was last year—and last year was a great year for salmon.

—There will be divine service at Grace church this afternoon and evening; Rev. John Rosenberg officiating.

—Two of the six men mentioned have received the £2 awarded by the English government for their bravery in helping rescue the crew of the Lanarlaw last November, off Shoal water bay.

—Arabi Pasha is quite a sanguinary individual. He proposes to kill all the Turks in Egypt, and says he will begin at once. He is the mildest mannered man that ever settled ship or cut a throat. That he loves an adventurous life's variety, he is such a loss to good society.

—Long biographies of Astor are published in eastern papers. Bolled down, they came thusly: John Jacob Astor came from Germany to New York with six flutes; sold them back; invested in furs; kept on; i. e.
 i. some more. Sent him to Oregon, invented Astoria, grew rich; died; exit Astor.

—Mr. H. N. Keene, of Walla Walla, is having a little time of his own in Portland. He was robbed the first night he visited the metropolis.
 Was sent to jail drunk the next, the night after he had the snakes in his boot—had 'em bad—and the next day he received word that his wife had lit out for Salt Lake.

—The Presbyterian Sunday school will hold their annual picnic to-morrow. The children and friends of the school are requested to meet at the Y.
 M. C. A. room at 9:30 a. m., where the hacks will be in readiness to convey them to the grounds. An invitation has been extended to the Congregational and M. E. schools to participate.

—Rev. H. K. Hines, of Portland, favored us with a pleasant call yesterday afternoon; he is to preach the dedication service at the Methodist church to-day, and will also officiate at evening service. Mr. Hines is the editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, and for twenty-eight years, with voice and pen has labored for the building up of God's Kingdom. The pastors of the other churches in the city are invited to join with their Methodist brethren in the evening service.

A Determined Protest.

We are in receipt of a communication from Mr. Chas. H. Dodd, of the Portland Board of Trade committee, in which that body emphatically protests against any attempt on the part of cannerymen to fish in the Columbia river after the 31st inst. Following is the address:

The Board of Trade of the city of Portland, at a special session, held on the 15th day of July, 1882, in consequence of rumors, that various persons engaged in the salmon fisheries of the Columbia river, intended and threatened to violate the laws of this state by fishing for salmon during this year after August 1st, 1882, adopted unanimously the following resolutions: Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed by the chair to draft an address to all persons engaged in the salmon fishing business, and the canning of salmon on the Columbia river and its tributaries, expressive of the sense of the Board of Trade, in reference to unlawful catching and canning of salmon in said waters, and the determination of the Board of Trade to vigorously prosecute all violators of the law in such cases made and provided.

And thereupon the chair appointed a committee, as contemplated by said resolution, consisting of the following persons: Chas. H. Dodd, N. Inger-sol and J. W. Whalley. In pursuance, therefore, of our duty as such committee, the undersigned beg leave to state to all engaged in the salmon fisheries of the Columbia, in any capacity, that the threatened act alluded to is calculated, if carried into effect, to strike a blow at one of the material interests of the state.

It would be it idle to argue what, to every candid man acquainted with the fishery interest, must be an axiom. After great delay Washington Territory and Oregon have each passed a law to restrain the catching of salmon after July of each year; but it is claimed by those who desire to violate this law, either that the law itself is nugatory, or that the practical difficulties in the way of its enforcement are such as to render it ineffective. It is claimed that, as in most cases the county lines of the counties of Oregon which lie on the south bank of the Columbia river extend only to the center of the ship channel, there can be no successful prosecution in Oregon for the catching of salmon north of that line, for the reason that the crime would be one neither committed nor triable within any county.
 This assumption is fallacious. The jurisdiction of its, the state's right, as to criminal jurisdiction, and hence such crime, though it may not be committed within the geographical lines of any such counties, is yet a crime triable therein. Such, as your committee is advised by the district attorney of the fourth judicial district of this state, as his view of the law, and this opinion is concurred in by some of the oldest jurists in this state.

It is hoped that every honest, right-thinking man will set his face "like a flint" against the threatened robbery of the state and posterity; that their efforts shall unite with ours to bring to justice violators of the law; that private greed shall not work an irreparable public injury, and that reason may deter the unthinking from producing the folly of killing the "goose which lays the golden egg." But if not, this Board of Trade will, at least be true to its mission, and, whether successful in the contest, or not, will, as far as lies in its power, strengthen the hands of those to whom is committed the duty of enforcing the law, with the moral and material support of its members.

CHAS. H. DODD,
 J. W. WHALLEY,
 N. INGERSOLL,
 Committee Portland Board of Trade.

THE ASTORIAN has defined its position plainly, and endorses the above as being in unison with its views.
 From conversation, however, with several cannerymen yesterday, we are of the opinion that there will not be any great effort to catch after next Sunday; for, this, a good many reasons may be assigned, but we will give but one, the most important—it won't pay. The fish are not large enough, nor the quality good enough to justify the expense, for it costs as much to can small, poor quality fish as large, firm ones, the price being the same in both instances.

This Season's Building.

A few seasons more of such building as the present one has seen will result in transferring Astoria into a completely built city. Among the most prominent buildings just completed and under way may be mentioned the Pythian castle, dedicated a few weeks ago; this building cost $17,000 and is an ornament to the place. Just west of it A. M. Johnson is putting up a substantial structure, which will cost $8,000, when completed. Above on the corner of Greene and Jefferson, Hansen Bros. are putting up an 88,000 hall for Theo. Bronson; close beside it the new M. E. church which will be dedicated by Rev. H. K. Hines, to-day. On the corner of Cass and Jefferson is a fine residence now being finished by H. J. Hansen. On the corner above our office Capt. Rogers is putting up two buildings, one for a workshop, the other for a dwelling.
 Directly across the street from us, the Odd Fellows are putting up a building that, when completed, will have cost (including the lot and foundation) $42,000. We speak of the Odd Fellows' building with more than ordinary interest; first, because, like the Knights of Pythias, the order deserves great praise in erecting what will be the handsomest lodge building north of San Francisco; second, because the constructing of the first brick building makes a new era in the history of Astoria. "A starter" is all that is wanted, and we look to see other brick buildings built here of brick manufactured from the excellent clay in this vicinity.

On Chenamus street Capt. Flavel is putting two new warehouses, one is finished; the planking is laid on the other. On Main street, Mr. Boelling is building two stores on the lot adjoining Bergman & Berry's, and Capt.
 Brown is about ready to begin the framing of a large warehouse. The piles are driven, the floor is laid, and the sides will soon be in place. Further up the street is the new Presbyterian church, in a beautiful location, and in a comparatively short time its bell will summon all inclined to hear the dedicatory sermon. Next season we shall chronicle the building of a schoolhouse worthy the place, and would be glad to note a move toward building a theater that would be a credit to our little city.

THE MAGIC BALM.

Professor Scott, the Australian Pain Autocrat, arrived in this city yesterday morning and gave his first lecture and "concert" last evening on Chenamus street. The Professor's motive in giving this concert is to introduce Magic and the Professor's odd sayings kept the audience convulsed throughout.

 Messrs Lawrence and French, two gentlemen possessed of very fine voices, sang some beautiful ballads and comic songs and were cheered.
 Prof. Scott gives another entertainment to-morrow evening and should be heard. He is stopping at the Parker House where he can be consulted.
