J. F. HALLORAN & COMPANY, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS.

Terms of Subscription: Sent by Carrier, per week, 5 Cents; Sent by mail, four months, $2.00; Sent by mail, one year, $7.00.

THE CITY.

THE DAILY ASTORIAN will be sent by mail at 25 cents a month, free of postage. Readers who contemplate absence from the city can have THE ASTORIAN follow them, DAILY or WEEKLY, Address to our post-office with an additional expense. Advertisements may be inserted at a special rate, if desired. Leave orders at the counting room.

The Wolfe has 2,100 cases salmon aboard.

The Elwell has 29,800 cases salmon aboard.

The Columbia takes out 9,775 cases salmon this morning.

The Jas. G. Bain took on 2000 cases of salmon from Devlin's cannery yesterday.

The Gen. Canby has had a new propeller put in, and been otherwise rejuvenated.

The recent drought interfered considerably with the dairy interests of the Chehalis.

Beautiful lot of house plants to be sold at Holden's auction sale at 10 o'clock this morning.

Remember the furniture auction sale this morning at 10 o'clock at Holden's auction rooms.

The Clara Parker will make an excursion to Youngs river falls and the Claskanine, next Sunday.

Mr. A. T. Brakke tells us that it is the intention of the charterers of the Triumph to have her take on the most of her return cargo in coal, and to finish with half a million feet of lumber.

P. D. Moore, who gave us such a glowing account of his black sand gold extracting machinery at Gray's Harbors, says that he started up on the 24th of July. Good results are looked for.

Returns made to the surveyor general's office show that during the past year over 4,500,000 acres of land have been surveyed in this state. This is about twice as much as has ever been surveyed in any previous year.

Those who predicted a big run of salmon the first week in August were right in their prophecy. There is an immense lot of fish going up stream.

Two who went out in a boat for two hours last Wednesday night "just to catch a few for their own use," came in at the end of that time with 140 big fellows.

The city book store presents a very neat appearance, and the new stock of goods is attractively arranged on its shelves. Messrs. Stevens & Co., the proprietors, are evidently determined to take the lead in their line, and the many novelties they constantly receive meet with ready sale. We notice, also, a full line of popular novels.

Figuring on the salmon pack of '82, by men who have access to accurate figures, results in the conclusion that there were 521,000 cases of salmon packed on the Columbia during the season just closed. This may be considered as accurate. Last year the pack was 555,983; this year the average value per case may be set down at $5.25; though it will not be over $5 to the cannerymen; at the former figure the season's pack will represent a value of $2,735,000.

Robt. Crawford, of the lower Nehalem was in yesterday morning with some specimens of glassy coal from that section. He says the vein is forty-six inches in width, and can be traced for four miles. The coal is of fine quality, but no one cares to take hold of it, or to develop the mine, because that devilish squeeze "The Astoria Land Grant" covers the territory through which these coal measures run, and, of course it bars every one else out. We believe this is the only country under the sun where such a swindle would be allowed to go unpunished.

Special Notice.

Parties desiring of attending the real estate auction sale this afternoon should take special notice that it takes place on the property to be sold. If it rains there will be found a good shelter in which to conduct the sale. The upper Astoria stages will be on hand at the proper hour at the incident hotel and one of them will start with the auctioneer from his auction rooms at half-past one o'clock, and the sale commences at two o'clock sharp. A plot of the recorded map will be on the ground.

CIRCUIT COURT.

FOURTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS. Bergman & Berry vs. Chas. LeRoy, foreclosure. Verdict for plaintiff.

A. Van Dusen et al. vs. City of Astoria, Brough for profits, and Fulton for debts. Perpetual injunction.

Willamette Steam Mills Lumbering & Manufacturing Co. vs. Charles Dimpree, law. Verdict for plaintiff.

Bergman & Berry vs. S. Glaser, appeal. Verdict for plaintiff.

M. Olsen vs. O. Hansen, appeal. Verdict for plaintiff.

Referred to F. J. Taylor to take testimony and report facts and law.

Adjourned until to-morrow p. m. Tuesday.

To-Day's Sale.

Everybody who wishes to invest a little money judiciously, should be sure to be present at the auction sale of building lots this afternoon at two o'clock, in the new town of Alderbrook, the western boundary of which joins the eastern boundary line of the town of upper Astoria.

It requires neither experience nor acute observation to know that all available building lots along the river front, all the way from Tongue point to the mouth of Young's bay, must soon be in demand and necessarily increase in value; therefore our steady fishermen, or even speculators, need not fear a good return for any money they may invest at this important auction sale.

How it Was Done.

In regard to the Cummins murder at New York Bar it appears from the looks of the cabin that a large knot had been knocked out of the door and several shots fired through it, two taking effect in the bedstead, one in the wall just above his breast and one in his face.

The parties evidently robbed him after attacking him, and had left him for dead. He then revived and sat on the bed making the bloody tracks on the floor, but becoming weak had laid down on the bed and died. The pursuer from one of the O. R. & N. Co.'s steamers is now at the bar; and he estimates the company's loss at $1,000. Cummins probably had $400 of his own money.

Killed in Oregon City.

PORTLAND, OR., Aug. 3, 1882.

Chas. Stafford was shot and killed in Oregon City to-day. He had been presented in Portland with a gold watch and chain for saving a man's life who was fishing on the bar. I suppose somebody killed him for the watch and chain. In his pocket was found on a piece of paper, "I leave one friend in America: N. O. Borglin." He also had a cousin in Sweden; the place is called Lon. The name of his cousin is Gravenstein Roseri.

A Good Idea.

Paul Schultze, manager of the Bureau of Immigration, has issued a circular calling on farmers, producers and millers, to assist in securing a selection of specimens of grain in the wheat and in the berry; native and cultivated grasses, and of all sorts of fruit and vegetables. These may be delivered to any agent of the O. R. & N. Co. They will be sent free of charge to the sender if addressed; "Bureau of Immigration," Portland, Oregon." All specimens will be promptly acknowledged on receipt. They should be marked with the name of the sender, the yield per acre, when sown and when harvested with such other particulars as will enable the bureau to answer all questions concerning them. It is hoped all interested will engage in the work of furnishing the specimens requested. Nothing is so more convincing force upon the new comer, of those seeking homes among us than the sight of specimens of our varied products. Clatsop county can send some splendid specimens.

Any one wishing wells cleared or logs removed quickly and in good shape, will enquire at John Rogers, Central Market.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Some Outspoken Statements of Great Value from Parties of the Highest Standing.

When the people of America become so thoroughly aroused, and on a subject of such serious importance as the preservation of their lives and health, it is but natural that the ones who have been largely instrumental in the origin of this movement should speak frankly and directly to the people most interested. It is for this reason that we present some before the public and make the following revelations.

Every careful observer who has sought to keep pace with the health of events, has noticed a alarming increase of certain peculiar physical troubles within the past few years. These troubles have come at unexpected moments and in a most treacherous way. They have manifested themselves in innumerable forms, but they have always had the same cause. They have always had the same origin in the straggle of the system and their work has usually been as prompt as it is fatal. Their treacherous and deceptive nature has often prevented a careful analysis of what causes them, and, as a result, intense suffering and final disaster have usually ensued.

The real cause, however, has been a derangement of the kidneys, and all of these troubles are, in fact, the first symptoms of the terrible Bright's disease, which has cast its shadow over so many homes in the land, and have gone directly to the straggle of the system and their work has usually been as prompt as it is fatal.

Their treacherous and deceptive nature has often prevented a careful analysis of what causes them, and, as a result, intense suffering and final disaster have usually ensued.
