The new steam tug Pioneer is expected to arrive to-day. C. H. Page has been appointed a notary public, by Gov. Moody.

The Mandalay got off yesterday afternoon, without sustaining any damage. The Queen of the Pacific is due from San Francisco this morning.

The State leaves for San Francisco to-day. The pastor being absent there will be no service in the Roman Catholic church on next Sunday, Oct. 1st, 1882.

The U. S. steamer Dispatch is now engaged in transporting material for the construction of the telegraph line between here and the cape.

Deer are plenty and in fine condition. A party who returned this week report killing seven elk the third day out, while on the upper Nehalem.

The Gen. Miles arrived in last evening from Tillamook with a large cargo of agricultural produce, staves, hoop poles, 1,200 cases of salmon, and a good list of passengers.

The Oregon and California extension is open for traffic to Riddleville, thirty miles south of Roseburg. This will probably be the terminus for Ronge river freight during the present season.

By order of the President the Malheur reservation has been thrown open for settlement. It comprises about 3,700 square miles of good land in eastern Oregon, and will, doubtless, be soon taken up.

The Lanocfield was towed to Baker's bay yesterday morning. The City of Sparta came down. The bark Mandalay and Lanocfield have cleared for Queenstown with 112,566 bushels of wheat, worth $106,549.

We regret to chronicle the death of Cora, the little daughter of T. R. Coon; She was ailing for a long time, and died yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place at the residence of the parents at three o'clock this afternoon.

Justus H. Rathbone, the founder of the Order of Knights of Pythias, is an active citizen of Detroit. He was a school teacher in Michigan when the idea of the Order, which now has a membership of about 100,000, occurred to him.

According to the New Remedies, a root is found in the mountainous regions of California, Oregon, Utah and Montana, which, if all that is stated of it is true, bids fair to become somewhat of a rival to quinine. The miners, who call it "Oregon Grape Root" (Berberis aquifolium), use it in the form of a decoction for "mountain fever." It is reported by them to be effective in this form of malaria and to break up its recurrence.

The building of such a structure as is now going up opposite our office, wherein iron, brick and granite form a part, marks a new era in Astoria's history. There was, up to the present season, no other place in the United States of equal size, we believe, built entirely of wooden material; and, contrary to the opinion of a good many, it is now a demonstrated fact, that where the tide ebbed and flowed a short time ago, there will soon stand a building that for strength of structure and beauty of finish, will compare favorably with any building in the state. We are specially glad that it is due to the enterprise and capital of our own citizens that this new departure is made feasible, and look to see other unsightly rookeries on prominent corners, supplanted as the Odd Fellows' building supplants the old Monitor, by stately brick structures, to give an air of solidity and strength to the seaport of Oregon.

The purity and elegant perfume of Parker's Hair Balsam explain the popularity of this reliable restorative.

The Senatorial Election

The joint convention last Thursday gave Mitchell 42, a gain of one—N. H. Gates, of Wasco; Prim, 28; Failing 18; Bonham, 1; Boise, 1. In the house, Plummer introduced a resolution calling for an investigating committee, to inquire into the alleged attempt to bribe Nichols to vote for Mitchell for senator. Messrs. Plummer, Truitt and Jamison were appointed as such committee. They met Thursday afternoon in the office of the clerk of supreme court. H. Y. Thompson appeared for Nichols, who was present, as was also Mitchell. Nichols' testimony was to the effect that his conversation with Ford at the start indicated a desire on Ford's part to bribe him to vote for Mitchell, and that finally Ford asked him if he would vote for Mitchell for $8,000. That his answer was that he couldn't think of entertaining a proposition for less than $10,000, and that in answer Ford said he could get $8,000 "any way." Nichols went on to testify that upon this he told some of his colleagues about what Ford had said, and that one of them—Plummer—told him Mitchell wanted to see him, and that upon meeting Mitchell he told him (Nichols) that he was no way privy to any such transaction, that he was not even acquainted with Ford, and that the whole thing was an effort on the part of his enemies to injure his reputation. That in no instance had he used any undue influence with any member of the legislature. He said that Mitchell further stated that he was not disposed to use money in the election, and that if $20,000 would elect him he could not be elected, as he did not have that amount. At this point the committee adjourned till 7:30 p. m., when Nichols went on, asserting that Newson and Prime tried to make him vote for Mitchell by saying that if he didn't, Mitchell's friends would defeat a measure that he had on hand for dividing Wasco county.

Here Mitchell cross-examined him, putting several direct questions to him with the intention of showing that Ford, in any of his alleged conversations with Nichols, didn't speak with authority; that he in no way made positive statement that he was given authority from Mitchell or any one else, to offer him money for his vote, and that beyond indefinite promises of what would be done for him in a general discussion of imaginary circumstances, nothing tangible was offered for his consideration. The investigation was then adjourned till Friday morning. The conclusion that anyone arrives at after reading the account of the examination, as published in the Oregonian, depends entirely upon their feeling toward Mitchell. To us it would seem as if the committee had, thus far, failed to elicit anything directly tending to criminate Mitchell or his acknowledged adherents in the matter under discussion.

In regard to Senator Gates, of Wasco, voting for Mitchell, the Standard says:

"It was not his place to go to Mitchell because he could not elect a Democrat. No one expected to secure the election of a Democrat when there is eighteen Republican majority in the legislature, but it would be in order for the eighteen Republicans to go over to Mitchell after they had exhausted their power to defeat him. But no Democrat has that right. The Democrats will not be responsible for the failure to elect, nor will they be responsible to the people for the delay in the transaction of business in the legislature. The Republicans must answer to the people for this, and not the Democrats, while each of the five Democrats who have forsaken their party and betrayed the trust confided in their hands will never again be placed in a position where they can do so."

Unlike other cathartics, Dr. Pierce's "Pelllets" do not render the bowels constive after operation, but, on the contrary, establish a permanently healthy action. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. By druggists.

A Good Idea

A registration law is contemplated by the present legislature, and is one of the needful measures. The bill now before the house among other things, provides for the appointment by the county court of a board of registration in each precinct, who shall also act as judges at the election, and two clerks, who shall also act as clerks of election. The members of this board shall not all be appointed from one and the same political party. They are to meet in the several precincts on the first Monday in March preceding each general election, and continue in session five consecutive days, for the purpose of registering the votes of such precincts. Provision is made for a report to the county authorities and the transcribing of the name of each voter in a great register. Provision is also made for registering voters who were absent at the time of the sitting of the board, because of sickness, etc. It also provides for one challenge of each political party at the polls during the holding of an election, and the exclusion of all other persons from approaching within one hundred feet of the polling places, thus enabling voters to place their ballots in the box without the interference or bulldozing of hired strikers or roughs.

A Delicious Appetizer. That ensures digestion and enjoyment of food; a tonic that brings strength to the weak and rest to the nervous; a harmless diarrhea cure that don't constipate—just what every family needs—Parker's Ginger Tonic.

Peruvian Bitters

Quinchona Bitters. The Count Clinch was the Spanish Viceroy in Peru in 1630. The Countess, his wife, was prostrated by an intermittent fever, from which she was freed by the use of the native remedy, the Peruvian bark, or, as it was called in the language of the country, "Quinchona." Grateful for her recovery, on her return to Europe in 1632, she introduced the remedy in Spain, where it was known under various names, until Linnaeus called it Cinchona, in honor of the lady who had brought them that which was more precious than the gold of the Incas. To this day, after a lapse of two hundred and fifty years, science has given us nothing to take its place. It effectually cures a morbid appetite for stimulants, by restoring the natural tone of the stomach. It attacks excessive love of liquor as it does a fever, and destroys both alike. The powerful tonic virtue of the Cinchona is preserved in the Peruvian Bitters, which are as effective against malarial fever to-day as they were in the days of the old Spanish Viceroys. We guarantee the ingredients of these bitters to be absolutely pure, and of the best known quality. A trial will satisfy you that this is the best biter in the world. "The proof of the pudding is in the eating," and we willingly abide this test. For sale by all druggists, grocers and liquor dealers. Order to: Loebl & Co., agents for Astoria.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits. Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S CATHARTIC has enjoyed for so many years. It is the best vegetable alternative, with the addition of Potassium and Iron, and is the most effectual of all remedies for chronic, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain in its remedial effects, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Granulations, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irrregularities, and is a potent renewer of vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the most available medicine for the suffering sick, anywhere.
