

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1882. ISSUED EVERY MORNING. Monday Excepted. J. F. HALLORAN & COMPANY, PUBLISHERS AND PROPRIETORS. Astorian Building, Cass Street.

Terms of Subscription: Sent by Carrier, per week... $3.00 per month... $9.00 per year. Free of Postage to Subscribers.

Advertisements inserted by the year at the rate of $1.50 per square per month. Transient advertising, by the day or week, fifty cents per square for each insertion.

—Foard & Stokes advertise a stray skiff. —Utsalady is illuminated by ten electric lights. —The Astoria Social Club will have another pleasant meeting to-morrow evening.

—Hon. M. C. George is on the Queen of the Pacific on his way to Washington. —Mr. C. J. Trenchard has resigned his position as agent for the tug Pioneer. Mr. Cherry succeeds him.

—Are you going to the baby show to-night? Where! At the M. E. fair and festival at Liberty Hall. —The British ship Peter Stuart, Vanstone master, 1447 tons, 50 days from Otago, arrived yesterday.

—Work on the railroad on the southern gap between Redding and Roseburg has closed for the season. The prevailing murkiness cleared off yesterday; the clouds rolled northward, and, now, at four P. M., slow sniks more lovely ere his race be run, aslant Astoria's hills the setting sun.

—The champion boat of yesterday's regatta was the Sullivan, supposed to be the fastest sailer and rower of the class on the Columbia river. The sailing of the match was entirely scientific.

—Mr. J. H. Whitcomb, of Woodard's Landing, W. T., says that the heavy rains give some prospect of a fresher which would be extremely desirable in that section to those who want to float down their logs.

—The Queen of the Pacific arrived down yesterday afternoon, and leaves out this morning. The Highland Light arrived in from Guaymas. The Empire came down; the Mississippi will probably be down to-day, and will go to Seattle to load coal.

—The first weigh on Capt. Flavel's new scales was that of Robt. Carruthers' horses, one weighing 1400, the other 1390 pounds. They—the scales—are delicately adjusted and will weigh anything from a truck load of salmon to the unexpressed thoughts of an infant.

—We notice that despite the present dismantled condition of the roadway, Mr. T. P. Powers is able to go up and down by means of a new style vehicle expressly invented and built for the purpose. He went up and down to and from upper Astoria twenty-five years before any roadway was built, and doesn't propose to be barred out now.

—Yesterday afternoon a new boiler was launched from the boiler works of the Astoria Iron Works. It is nothing but a boiler, just a plain boiler, but it is the first one ever built in Astoria, and therefore deserving of special mention. This one is for Messrs. Humble and Shiveley's new boat. Anyone who contemplates building a steam craft on the Columbia or up or down the adjacent coast need send no farther than Astoria for a boiler.

—A sensational article entitled "An Ocean Horror," appeared in Tuesday's Standard concerning the alleged cruelty practiced toward a sailor named Gorman, on the Josie Troop, while that vessel was at Guaymas. He jumped overboard and swam ashore, the vessel proceeding to sea without him. He is now in this port having arrived last evening on the Highland Light.

—The extraordinary success attending the rendition of "Ten nights in a bar-room," last Tuesday night, justified the management to announce a repetition, which was given in admirable style at Liberty Hall last evening. "The Home Dramatic association of Astoria" deserve to be congratulated on their earnest and successful efforts to develop histrionic talent and aid a worthy cause. We understand it is the purpose of the organization to produce another domestic play in a few weeks.

The Lecture.

A good audience was present at Dr. Well's lecture last evening; after a chorus had been rendered by a party of ladies and gentlemen, and a solo "O Salutaris Hostia"—brilliantly executed by Miss Katie Flavel, the lecturer was introduced and immediately started in medias res by stating the scope and purport of his lecture "The glory of young men under sixty." He spoke of the physical glory of man, of that wonderful organization that gave him control over material nature and paid tribute to the attributes of humanity that humanity is most apt to admire; then, speaking of the intellectual development he paraphrased the aphorism "Knowledge is power," and demonstrated its appliance. The moral aspect of the trinity of humanity next received his attention, and in fitting phrase and rounded periods of diction he spoke of the grand attributes that raise the human soul to kingly heights of sway, that mould the minds of millions and give its owners that peace which nothing earthly gives or takes away.

The lecturer interspersed his discourse with local allusions that were well put, and kept the audience interested to the close. He is a pleasing speaker and one to whom we would again gladly listen.

A Just Decision. The secretary of the Interior has made a decision in the case of Wenzell vs St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railroad Company, construing the third section of the act of April 21st, 1876, which declares valid homestead and pre-emption entries within the limits of expired grants that may have been made at a time subsequent to the expiration of the grants. The secretary holds that the language used in the act, "at a time subsequent," refers to the dates in the various granting acts to the railroads as the date at which the roads should be completed, and not to the time when by legislative or judicial action, the forfeiture might be declared. He further holds that settlement or filing constitute entry within the meaning of the act of the year 1877, as well as under the general practice of the Land Department. As Wenzell made his settlement and filing in accordance with the pre-emption law, his entry is held to come within conformity to the provisions of the statutes.

If such ruling can be made to afford a precedent in the case of the Astoria Land Grant, it may tend to simplify matters a good deal in solving the present problem.

Dropped Dead. Jas. McGill, foreman of C. Leinenweber's tannery at upper town was in the city yesterday afternoon, and before returning went around to Thomas' drug store, when, as he was stepping in the door, he fell suddenly forward. Medical assistance was immediately summoned, but he died instantly. The coroner's jury verdict was that he died of heart disease. Deceased was aged 41 years. He will be buried from Rescuer No. 2's house to-morrow at two o'clock.

In a recent decision the secretary of the interior holds that a contest for a land title instituted by a parent cannot be transferred or inherited by the child, even though it shall appear that the contest was instituted for the child's benefit.

A Clever Invention.

Some illuminated buoys introduced in European waters have been made to burn thirty days, and some four times that period—those of a certain size containing gas sufficient to furnish the light for one year, the flame being constant and steady night and day, and requiring no attention whatever after being once put in operation. The lantern attached to the buoy admits air enough to feed the flame, but not a particle of water can enter. The most violent gales, or the greatest force of the waves, produce no effect upon this light; it burns with undimmed brightness as long as gas is in its reservoir, and the light, it is asserted, can be thrown six or seven miles in clear weather. The refilling of the buoy at certain intervals, which is performed by a tender, requires but a few minutes time; it is accomplished by simply passing the gas from a storeholder, by means of a flexible tube, into the buoy.

A Cold Winter Ahead. "How do you tell when its going to be a cold winter, Uncle Abel?" "I mostly tells by de fish. I been a fisher all my life, ever since I been a little niggab so high; an' if you notice a catfish in de fall you will see dat sometimes de skin on his belly is thick and sometimes it is thin. When it's thick dar's gwine to be a cold winter, an when it's thin dar's gwine to be a warm un' I nebber know'd dat sign to fail."

"How is their skin this winter, Uncle Abel?" "I'm mighty sorry to say, chile, it's mighty thick."—Louisville Commercial.
