Struck Paradise.

About forty miles from Green bay, on a highway blazed through the woods, and no house within six miles of the spot, a Boston Pineland man met a family in a onehorse wagen with ragged cover, and drawn by a horse so thin that the grinding of his ribs could be plainly heard.

"Stranger," called the immigrant, are there any lightning-rod men in this section?"

"Guess not." "Any life insurance agents?"

"No."

"Any sewing machine sellers?" "Haven't seen any."

"Any temperance reforms, marriage associations, divorce courts, politics, horse races, lawyers or doctors?"

"I think not. This is a new township, and I don't think it has a single settler yet."

"Then whoa, Lycargus!" called the man as he drew rein. "This is the place I am looking fur! Unload the children Sally Ann, and I'll get out the bed and cook stove and git ready to squat! If this ain't next to heaven it's about as nigh as our family will ever git."--St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A Chicago detective is diligently searching the state of Nevada for ex-Senator Spencer, a missing witness in the star-route trial. An exchange say that Spencer has been able, by means of the receipt of cipher dispatches, to keep pretty well posted on the movements of the prosecution and has successfully evaded arrest. He is now believed to be somewhere in the mountains above lake Tahoe

NEW YORK. 1883.

More people have read THE SUN during the year just now passing than ever before since it was first printed. No other news-paper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by so many men and women. We are credibly informed that people buy, read, and like THE SUN for the following reasons, among others:

read, and like THE SUN For the Price of the the wisdom, the philosophy, the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving nonsense—all the news of the busiest world at present revolving in space.

Because people have learned that in its remarks concerning persons and affairs The SUN makes a practice of telling them the END and the theory of the persons and affairs The SUN makes a practice of telling them the exact truth to the best of its ability three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, before election as well as after, about the whales as well as about the small fish, in the face of dissent as plainly and fearlessly as when supported by general approval. The SUN has absolutely no purposes to serve, save the information of its readers and the furtherance of the common good.

Because it is everybody's newspaper. No man is so humble that The SUN is indifferent to his welfare and his rights. No man is so rich that it can allow injustice to be done him. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt fron the strict application of its principles of right fand wrong.

Because in polities it has fought for a dozeny years, without internission and sometimes always alone among newspapers, the fight that has resulted in the recent overwhelming popular verdict against Robesonism and for honest government. No matter what party is in power, The SUN stands and will continue to stand like a rock for the interests of the people against the ambition of bosses, the encroachments of monopolists, and the dishonest schemes of public robbers. All this is what we are told almost daily by our friends. One man holds that The SUN is the best religious newspaper ever published, because its Christianity is undiluted with eant. Another holds that it is the best Republican newspaper printed, because it has already whipped half the riscals out of that party, and is proceeding against the other half with undiminished vigor. A third believes it to be the best mazzine of general literature in existence, because its readers miss nothing worthy of notice that scurrent
