

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON. THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1882. J. F. HALLORAN, Editor.

Pressing Needs. Few things better illustrate the doctrine of utter uselessness than the present session of the forty-seventh congress, now sitting in Washington.

And yet how great the demands for legislation! Apart from local considerations, aside from the pressing necessities of our own locality and state, the affairs of the nation at large, require legislative aid to free them from financial burdens.

Railroad Facilities. To-morrow the third railroad across the continent will be finished, and by New Years the traveler can step into a palace car at San Francisco and ride over a steel-rail, stone-ballasted, well-equipped road to New Orleans.

A RAILROAD which runs through Gilmer and Pickens counties, Georgia, builds culverts of white marble and lays its ties on a bed of the same material.
