ASTORIA, OREGON:

THURSDAY.....JANUARY 18, 1883

—Read that "pome" on the fourth page.

—The Seaton, W. T., convicts are to be employed in making water pipe.

—In the circuit court, yesterday, a jury was impaneled in the Bain case, which goes on trial to-day.

—Sternwheel steamers are now interdicted from making trips between Victoria and Frazer river.

—There are localities in California that have had but one-quarter of an inch of rainfall this season.

—The schooner Sparrow, from Humboldt, Cal., loaded with redwood, arrived in yesterday afternoon.

—The Northwest News has a choice assortment of advice on hand, and it is worth just what it cost.

—Wm. De Lashmutt, Frank Horne and Jack Stewart were taken to the penitentiary yesterday morning.

—It always pleases the average human when a witness gets the best of a lawyer who is trying to twist him up.

—Read the adv. of C. A. McGuire. To those contemplating a purchase there is offered a rare opportunity to get a good farm.

—At Coos Bay recently, the tide ran with a ten-knot current, probably caused by the government work a short distance above.

—Beebee, the Portland lawyer charged with attempt to bribe a juror in the Carrie Bradley case was acquitted last Tuesday.

—"Uncle Tom's Cabin," the jackass, and the dogs and all the rest of it went to San Francisco yesterday on the Queen. A precious lot.

—The Northern Pacific company offers a reward of $500 for the apprehension of Homer S. Michaels, the absconding Montana express messenger.

—The Ger. bark Fulda cleared yesterday for Queenstown, with 14,513 barrels of flour, worth $65,701. The Queen of the Pacific left here at 4 P. M.

—F. R. Stokes, who with his family arrived on the last steamer, announces that he has purchased the interest of J. J. Stokes, Jr., in the firm of Foard & Stokes.

—According to the recent census of the United States, the total value of the catch of fish, with the marine products, was worth not less than $45,000,000. This result shows that our fisheries produce more than any other country.

—Preparations are being made on an extensive scale to hold a grand triennial conclave of Knights Templar at San Francisco next August. The Oregon commanderies will charter a steamer and live on board while in San Francisco.

—In reference to the duty on tin, our attention has been directed to the recent action of the ways and means committee of the house, which on the urgent showing of importers, has recommended that the duty be set at one dollar and five cents a box, a slight decrease from the present duty.

A Cold Day.

Though we hear of no one getting left to any great extent, yet it is manifest that yesterday was a cold day in Astoria. Tuesday evening the mercury was dropping zeroward, and by midnight a cutting southeast wind made belated travelers hasten homeward. Yesterday morning, to the general surprise and inconvenience of many, the water pipes were found frozen and much trouble ensued. The proprietors did all they could to remedy the inconvenience, and by noon water was flowing freely in the principal mains. Throughout the day travel was a scaly undertaking, and every one was unanimous in the assertion that "it was a cold snap." The schools, court-house, and other places of popular resort kept roaring fires, and the wood supply in many instances run short. Last night the stars had a steely glitter, the planks creaked with frost, and the last man who put off buying a blanket till eight o'clock was obliged to put his overcoat on to keep the goose flesh off his lank shanks.

PROBABLE MURDER

Testimony and Findings of the Coroner's Jury.

In Coroner Franklin's rooms yesterday afternoon, an inquiry into the cause of the death of Andrew Kortensaluin, who was found dead on the beach near the Occident Packing Co.'s cannery last Tuesday afternoon, was held with the following result:

TESTIMONY.

I, Frank Bentila, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Was acquainted with deceased, Andrew Kortensaluin; saw him beat twelve o'clock last Sunday night in my saloon; Martin Harper was with him; they stayed in the saloon about an hour; he seemed to be a little under the influence of liquor; don't think he took more than one glass of beer in my saloon; deceased and others were skylarking in saloon; deceased called a man by name of Sing Sooner, bad names and seemed to be a little angry; Victor Mustig, J. Mattison and Sing left saloon together; they left saloon about ten or fifteen minutes before deceased; three of us—Martin Harper, myself and deceased—left saloon together about one o'clock A. M.; after leaving saloon, deceased left us and I went back to saloon and went to bed; that was the last I saw of him alive; heard no fighting or other noise after I locked up saloon.

FRANK BENTILA.

Astoria, Or., Jan. 17, 1883.

I, Martin Empo, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Went home last Sunday night about quarter to twelve o'clock; deceased and Martin Harper, and Gust Crolten, and Jacob Mast were at my saloon; they shook dice for drinks a couple of times, then they went out; deceased was a little under the influence of liquor; all seemed to be in good humor; this is all I know about the case, and did not see deceased alive again; heard no noise or fuss of any kind; I saw deceased when he was found, yesterday, near Occident Packing Co.'s cannery.

MARTIN EMPO.

I, Andrew Barry, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Was acquaintedwith Andrew Kortensaluin, deceased; last saw him alive last week some time; I then saw him yesterday, Jan. 16, 1882, in the water near the Occident cannery, where I picked him up; have seen him intoxicated several times when alive; this is about all I know about his character; he was about thirty feet from roadway when I picked him up; water was about knee deep. ANDREW BARRY.

I, John Snygg, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Was in Bentilla's saloon with Mattson, Mustig and myself playing cards; Kortensaluin asked me to treat; I told him "you've had enough to-night;" he said, "you've got no money;" I said, "that's none of your business;" then he pulled a dollar out of his pocket and said he could treat himself; after that Mattson, Mustig and I went home together, to Victor Anderson's, abrest of the West Coast Packing company; we left deceased, Frank Bentila and Martin Harper in the saloon; this is all I know about the matter. J. SNYGG.

I, Fredrik Tenhunen, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Am watchman at the Occident cannery; Was at the cannery last Sunday night; heard nothing unusual on that night except persons walking along the roadway.

FREDRIK TENHUNEN.

I, Charles McCarty, being duly sworn according to law, depose and say: Am watchman at the Columbia Canning Co.; was there last Sunday night; was in Bentila's saloon probably about ten o'clock; do not remember of seeing deceased that night; passed the saloon on this evening as Bentila was closing up; heard no disturbance on this night at all; this is all I know about the matter.

CHARLES MCCARTY.

DR. TUTTLE'S STATEMENT.

This is to certify that I have this day made a careful examination of the body of a man, at the request of Coroner B. B. Franklin, and in the presence of a jury by him empanelled to make inquiry as to the cause of death: That I find a cut over the left eye made by some blunt instrument and resulting therefrom some infiltration of the connective tissue about the eye causing swelling. I find a recent fracture of the lower jaw about three-fourth inch from the center on the right side. I find a fracture of bones of the right forearm near the wrist and this fracture is a recent one. I find some blood coming from the right ear. I find a small piece of skin knocked off from the second joint of the second finger of the left hand. I find the muscles of both legs and both arms tensely contracted as if in violent struggle. I observe no other external marks of violence. I am of the opinion that the deceased came to his death by external violence, and that he was not drowned, though found in water; that his body was in water but short time, not over 48 and probably not 36 hours; that he has been dead but little longer than that time.

JAY TUTTLE, M. D.

Astoria, January 16, 1883.

INQUEST BY CORONER'S JURY.

In the matter of the inquisition upon the body of Andrew Kortensaluin, deceased, we, the undersigned jurors summoned to appear before B. B. Franklin, coroner of the precinct of Astoria in Clatsop county, State of Oregon, on the 16th day of January, 1883, to inquire into the cause of his death, and having been sworn according to law and having made such inquisition, after inspecting the body and hearing the testimony adduced upon our oaths, each and all do say that we find deceased was named Andrew Kortensaluin, was a native of Russia, aged about 33 years; that he came to his death on or about Jan. 15th, 1883, in the county and state aforesaid, from external violence and that this jury think the violence was caused by some person or persons to us unknown.

All of which we duly certify to this inquisition in writing by us signed this 17th day of Jan., 1883.

Temperance Billiards.

Having fitted up the rooms lately occupied by Carl Adler's Bazar, next to Geo. Hume's store, I would be glad to see any of my friends who wish a nice game of billiards or a good cigar in a quiet and orderly place. A competent person will be in attendance to give instruction in billiards to those who may wish it. JAMES MACOMBER.

Notice.

Any parties wishing to have graves in the cemetery cleared, can be accommodated by applying to M. CONLEY, City Sexton.

Frank Fabre's Oyster and Chop House.
