

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1912

Justice and police court business runs light since the new year.

San Francisco restaurants have "fried atypoon" on the bills of fare.

Judge Green has been nominated by the president for the position of chief justice of Washington territory.

Though the comet is moving away at the rate of 20,000 miles a second, it is still visible in the gray of dawn.

The Salem Statesman denies the charge that it was paid $500 to oppose the election of John H. Mitchell. That is all ancient history now.

A collision in San Francisco bay, last Wednesday, between the British ship Benmore and the American ship Florida, damaged the latter vessel $5,000.

Captain Wm. Mace, one of the old-timers on the Columbia, and well known among river men in early days, died recently while on his way to Panama.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the British Columbia Packing company will be held at the Occident Hotel at two o'clock this afternoon.

The Priscilla came down yesterday; the schooner Sparrow went up; the Columbia is due this morning; the Eskdale and Pendragon will probably sail to-day.

In the supreme court last Tuesday in the case of Ann R. Wilson, et al, appellants, vs. J. M. Shively, et al, respondents; Motion of appellants' counsel for a modification of the judgment herein overruled.

A real estate agent advertises in a Dakota newspaper: "I can be found at the Gold Mine playing 'freeze-out'; at Mitchell's Exchange, betting on the age of 'old hosses' with Brown, or at my residence on Oak street, perusing the Scriptures."

The taxable wealth of Portland has been increased by improvements during the year about two million dollars, and by extension of city boundaries four million dollars. The ways and means committee estimates that taxes will be reduced this year from ten mills to eight mills.

A New Tacoma gale, last Wednesday, broke the hawsers of the Carrollton and Glendon, sent the El Dorado half a mile high and dry on the flats, broke the boom of the Tacoma mill, drove the Oriental ashore, and smashed things generally. Damages, $25,000. Nice place.

The tariff bill has been reported to the house from the ways and means committee, and comes up for immediate consideration. The duty on tin plate is reduced: Pennsylvania and West Virginia tin-plate manufacturers ask that the present duty be retained.

Under date of the 15th inst., Capt. S. C. Mitchell writes us from South Bend that in consequence of the extremely inclement weather, he has been delayed in the finishing up of his vessel, far beyond his anticipation; "but at last we have very nearly mastered the undertaking. And if the weather is favorable we shall be ready to launch on or about the 23d of this month. I have every reason to anticipate a successful launching. The new schooner's name is Sailor Boy."

During the recent trials of the parties charged with kidnapping, there were 110 men summoned before the court to appear as jurors. Out of this number, in answer to questions put them by counsel, 105 said that they read THE ASTORIAN, and three had it read to them. Here we have 108 out of 110 that read their home paper, a state of affairs satisfactory to us and highly creditable to our patrons. The inference is that 98.18 per cent. of Astoria's population read THE ASTORIAN.

During the month of December, 38 vessels, bound to or from ports in the United States, met with misfortune. Of this number 30 were wrecked, 4 abandoned, 1 sunk by collision, 1 foundered and 2 were burned. One of the vessels in the list was the Fiona, wrecked in sight of destination with a cargo of California wheat. Another was the Lennox, laden with coal, and burned while on the way from Dundee to San Francisco. A third was the schooner Golden Rule, owned at San Francisco, and wrecked on the northern coast. The losses for the year were 207, including 26 steamers, 28 ships, 108 barks, 33 brigs and 119 schooners.

The Bain Case.

The trial of John Bain, indicted for murder in the first degree was before the circuit court yesterday, and attracted extraordinary attention. Our readers are already familiar with the main points in the matter. On the 12th of last April Alexander Lowrie Alexander, a teamster employed by Wm. Joplin, drove up to C. H. Bain's mill with some machinery on the truck; that while unloading it some words were passed between deceased and defendant, resulting in personal collision, the final result being that defendant threw a hand ax at deceased, severing the tendons and entering the flesh of the abdomen. Alexander was removed to the hospital where he died April 22. At the coroner's inquest the verdict was that he came to his death at the hands of the defendant; and the next grand jury found a bill against him. The trial began on the 21st of last August, and lasted four days, the jury disagreeing, the last ballot stood six for conviction of manslaughter and six for acquittal. Bonds were furnished for defendant's appearance at this term of court, and last Wednesday his second trial began. The following witnesses were examined yesterday morning: J. H. Johnson, C. H. Bain, the father of the accused, Geo. Johnson, Jas. Johnson, Jay Tuttle, and A. C. Kinney; at the conclusion of the latter's testimony court took a recess to allow the jury to examine the prisoners. Upon re-assembling at three o'clock the trial went on; the testimony is substantially the same as given at first trial, and reported in full in THE ASTORIAN at the time. Following is the jury: Perry Titus, T. B. Morrison, L. H. Parsons, John McCann, W. L. Stone, Thos. Dealey, John O'Brien, R. D. Sales, Andrew Van Dusen, G. W. Raymond, Ira Coe, Jas. McCarty. The defendants counsel are C. W. Fulton and J. Q. A. Bowley.

E. J. Hart, who arrived yesterday afternoon on the Fleetwood, went on the witness stand at half past three, and after his testimony was concluded the defendant made his statement. Dr. Kinney was recalled to testify concerning an attack of typhoid fever, from which defendant suffered in October, '81. This is the only new testimony thus far adduced. Judge Bennett instructed the sheriff to provide all suitable accommodations for the jury and adjourned court to 9 o'clock this morning.

Bursting Boiler. The steamer Josephine, en route from Seattle to the Skagit river, blew up last Wednesday afternoon, in Port Susan bay. The boat was completely wrecked. Captain Bailey, Pilot Johansen, Steward Bollins, Assistant Sparks, Fireman Kavanagh, and two passengers, S. E. Cannon and S. Babbitt, were instantly killed, and several others were seriously injured. No cause is assigned for the explosion.

Balfour, Guthrie & Co., advertise salt, tin plate, block tin and soda for sale.

The Chinese steamer C. T. Hook will be down to-day, sailing hence to Hong Kong.

The Tam o' Shanter is down from Ranier, loaded with piling. She is to be taken to sea to-day.

The Astoria chamber of commerce has come to be one of the institutions of the country. It is an intelligent and active body, and has accomplished the greatest benefits for the state and for Astoria. It is gratifying to note that as an organization it is prosperous, with a large list of membership and a full treasury.—Oregonian.

Yesterday the wind was N. N. E., and blew keenly all day; fires and overcoats were in demand, and much grumbling was heard among bachelors, both young and old. The thermometer was 24 degrees above zero at five o'clock, with every promise of a cold night. At points up the river the low temperature suggests a freeze-up all along the line. At Portland it was 17 degrees above zero yesterday morning.

F. E. DeMill, Jr., of Detroit, the engineer in charge of the construction of the works of the Astoria Gas Light Co., is in the city. He contemplates beginning operations next Monday. The lots, which lie on Fifth and Wall streets, are each 50x100 feet and afford plenty room. The main building will be 25x45; the gas holder will be 40 feet in diameter and 15 feet high, with a working capacity of 30,000 cubic feet. The large pipe will run along Wall to Main street, and down Main to the Parker House; lateral branches will be run along Chenamus, Squemoqua, and other streets.

How He was Caught.

Kay, a rascally warrant clerk in the county clerk's office of Alameda Co., Cal., whose bogus county warrants, to the extent of $14,000, kept him in pin money to meet the incidentals of his fast life for the past year, was captured Saturday evening, at room 45, Chester House, San Francisco, and something over $1,300 recovered. He had laid in a good stock of canned provisions, with a view to maintaining a strictly quiet and private sort of life for a few weeks, until the excitement of his offense should so far subside as to enable him to slip away on some outgoing vessel. His manner of arrest was rather a neat piece of detective work. It was known that a very friendly relationship existed between him and a Miss Julia Bader, who resided on Valencia street. Accordingly Julia was "shadowed" for several days. On Saturday evening she went down town, and after visiting several stores, and zig-zagging around several blocks, she arrived in front of the Chester House, and dogged in at the private entrance. The house was soon surrounded by the minions of the law, and Kay's game was up. As the honey bee laden, with stolen sweets, leads its captor to his precious stores, so did the sweet Julia unwittingly give her captive calmer away.

Hadn't Lost Faith. In days gone by 'tis told that a Philadelphia Quaker, who was also a large ship owner, suddenly dropped all his insurance on his vessels, and when beset by the agents to explain his singular conduct he said: "I have come to the conclusion to depend upon the Lord for the safety of my ships."

No argument or explanation could move him from his purpose, and things went along for five or six months without a loss. Then one ship was destroyed by fire, and another was driven ashore, and close upon the heels of these disasters came the destruction of a valuable cargo. It was then that the old man sent for an agent and said: "Friend Thompson, the 'Rover' is about to sail for Liverpool."

"Yes."

"And then may make out a policy for $50,000 on her."

"Yes."

"And then they may also make ready to insure her cargo."

"Just so."

"I do not desire thee to understand," continued the old man, "that I have lost faith in the Lord, but it is more to save him the bother of keeping track of my sailing property."

"DO LIKEWISE." Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y. "Five years ago I was a dreadful sufferer from uterine troubles. Having exhausted the skill of three physicians, I was completely discouraged, and so weak I could with difficulty cross the room alone. I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and using the local treatment recommended in your 'Common Sense Medical Adviser.' In three months I was perfectly cured. I wrote a letter to my family paper, briefly mentioning how my health had been restored, and offering to send the full particulars to any one writing me for them and inclosing a stamped envelope for reply. I have received over four hundred letters. In reply, I have described my case and the treatment used, and earnestly advised them to 'do likewise.' From a great many I have received second letters of thanks stating that they had commenced the treatment and were much better already."

Mrs. E. F. MORGAN, Newcastle, Me.
