he dowing good toy conq etter where we are as mits correctness can I che d'or" Many years a. at the time of a great ceremony. Windsor Castle was honored with the presence of three sovereigns. After breakfast the three potentates walked and talked on the celebrated "Slopes," and were, of course, in "mufti." They were delighted with the grounds, and presently entered into conversation with a gardener, who evidently took them for a party of "gentlemen's gentlemen," out for a stroll. After some little affable talk. The could not resist the query: "Now, who may you gents be?" "Well," said the spokesman, "this gentieman here happens to be the king of Prussia; that one standing by your side is emperor of Austria; and for myself I am emperor of Russia." This was carrying the joke too far, thought the gardener. "I've seen a lot of queer furrin gents here lately, but this beats me;" so he burst out into a rather rude guffaw. "Well, my friend," said the Emperor Nicholas, "you seem amused; perhaps you will tell us who you are," "Oh, certainly," so taking up the skirt of his coat with the action of a great eagle spreading out his wings, and spinning around on his heels, he said: "If you are all what you say you are, why I am the Great Mogul!" The three majesties roared with laughter, and returning to the castle, told the story at the luncheon table, to
