ASTORIA, OREGON:

TUESDAY FEBRUARY 20, 1803

N mobiols Confesses.

Too first of the week it was bannel, says the Albany Domo cont, that Numelick, who has been thred in the county juil since last October, under an indictment for the murder of Thos. Ray, in the forks of the Santiam, bas contessed to the killing of Ray. We immediately inquired into the matter and ascertained the truth of the fact, and also that he claims it to have been accidental. It will be remembered that young Ray's body was found in the river a raile and a half below where his gun was found, on the Santiam. about eight miles from Scio. There were seven buckshot in different parts of his body, and circumstances at the time showed conclusively that he had been shot by some one. Mr. Nimchick, an illiterate German, at least as far as our language is concerned, gave bimself up, and was indicted by the grand jury for the murder of Ray, although he denied having anything to do with it. But now, he admits that he shot Ray, but says they were hunting together in a friendly spirit, and had scared up some deer when he noticed a brown object ahead of him, and raising his gun, shot, when he was harrified to find that instead of killing a deer he had shot young Ray. He claims that he was so seared at what he had done, and not knowing much about our ways, that he was afraid to admit that he had done the shooting. He states that there had always been the best of feeling between him
