

The Daily Astorian

ASTORIA, OREGON: SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1883

Road Max Wagner's notice. Lloyd's bondsman surrendered him yesterday.

Potatoes are thirty-five cents a bushel in Seattle, so the papers say. Sheriff Twombly is willing to make out a tax receipt to any one desiring the same.

The Shubrick goes down on the bar this morning to shift buoys and take soundings.

The resources of the English language fail to suffice for the Walla Walla editors' needs; they call into service French and Latin.

Everyone was out yesterday enjoying the sunshine. When the weather lays itself out to be fine in Astoria it discounts anything in the way of beauty that drier climes afford.

The Umatilla and Queen of the Pacific arrived in yesterday; both steamers with freight for this place; few things better illustrate Astoria's growth than the increased quantity of freight put off here. The El Capitan was taken down to the bay.

The Kate & Anna is in port, having new condensers put in and being otherwise overhauled. She goes to Portland on Tuesday. The Ona came down yesterday afternoon on her way to Yaquina. The Miles brought over 42 sacks oysters for Portland.

Yesterday morning the second mate of the El Capitan while laboring under a temporary aberration of mind attempted to take his life by cutting his throat. The colored steward who wrenched the razor away had his hand badly cut in the attempt. The mate's neck was sewed up, and no unpleasant consequences will result from his rash act.

The new schooner Coquille, built by C. Donaldson at Coquille, Oregon, has been measured as follows: Gross tonnage 103.10 tons; net tonnage, 97.95. The registered length is 62.9 feet; breadth, 29.5 feet; depth, 6.4 feet. She is owned by A. Parshbroke, one-half; L. Solomon, one-quarter, and A. Machado, one-quarter, and will go into the coasting trade.

A steel engraving containing the Lord's Prayer with symbols of the order of I. O. O. F., is being offered for sale by Jos. M. Wolfe, affording an excellent opportunity for members of the order to secure a work of art that would be an ornament to every home. It is executed by one of the finest artists in the country, and in design and finish is of sterling merit.

At 11:15 last Thursday night Fred Swarz was shot and killed in the bar-room of the Palace variety theater in Portland. A saloon keeper named Frank Wheeler is under arrest. He says that he was having some words with a man he did not know, and they came to blows. The stranger picked up a chair and Wheeler drew his pistol, when the other man struck his hand and discharged the pistol, but it glanced and the shot hit a man twenty feet away, and then he fled. As he was leaving the room two shots were fired at him. He was locked up. He was suspected from the first, and officers James and Barry were sent to hunt him up, but could not find him at his house. Wheeler heard that he was wanted and gave himself up. He said he did not know that he had killed any one.

The Military Telegraph. Lieut. Frank Green, who has had charge of the construction of the telegraph line from here to Cape Hancock since its inception is now putting down the river cables. Yesterday he cabled Young's river, and were there a battery at the other side of that stream messages could now be received from that point. To-day the work of laying the cable across Lewis & Clark's goes on. The line will soon be completed and an operator will be placed in charge. Lieut. Green has fitted up a telegraph office in room No. 4, Pythian building, and in a short time there will be daily weather reports from the cape. Unless the parsimony of congress interposes seriously with the utility of the signal service it is the intention to have as complete a system here as on the Atlantic coast. This line from Astoria to Cape Hancock, and the line to Cape Flattery are but the avant couriers of others, with a head office at San Francisco.

Furnished or unfurnished rooms for rent. Inquire of Hansen Bros. Boston Baked Beans at "Jeff's" Variety Chop House every night.

The Knappa Dance

The dance at Knappa's place last Thursday night was well attended and afforded an occasion of pleasurable remembrance to those who were there. A large party went up on the West-

The boat got aground about half-past six, but the beauty of the evening and the merry party aboard caused the inconvenience of delay to be less seriously felt. Dancing had begun when the Astoria guests arrived, and continued with but little cessation except for refreshments till 4 o'clock yesterday morning. Among those who went up from here were Miss Alice Pope, Miss Laura Worsley, Miss Katie Davidson, Miss Louisa Pinshower, Miss Clara Bender, Miss Strang, Mr. J. C. Ross and wife, Geo. P. Wheeler, J. A. Davidson, F. L. Parker, Clark Laughey, J. C. Lidwell, and A. E. Shaw. The Knappa folks who also enjoyed dancing were present in goodly numbers, among whom were Miss Lottie Spear, Miss Riddell, Miss Hill, Miss Anna Spear, Miss Ross, Miss Laura Knapp, Miss Annie Owen, Mrs. S. G. Spear, Mrs. Bender, Mrs. Minaker, Mrs. Stenson, Mr. and Mrs. Payne, J. Lough, D. G. Ross, W. J. Ross, J. P. Ross, D. T. Ross, J. W. Crow, Jas. McIntosh, Perry Harvey, John Harvey, J. E. Miller, Chas. Spear and others.

Chinese Funeral. Before Coroner Franklin's door yesterday stood a two-horse wagon in which was a stained spruce coffin which held all that was mortal of Ah Lee Wong, late tree and head beater in one of the Chinatown supply stores. By the side of the coffin was a bundle of matting in which were rolled up the dead man's clothing and bedding; these articles were to be cremated as a peace offering to the gods. Back of the box were four baskets; in one was a haunch of pork and a fustoon of red paper, in the other a chicken and some curiously shaped cooking utensils; a third contained two fat tin dishes filled with boiled rice; in the fourth, which the guardian angel of the cortege held with jealous care was a large quantity of colored paper and fringe. The boss mourner was busily engaged in tearing up small strips of white muslin and keeping off the crowd of sacrilegious white folks who were not allowed to desecrate the sacred surroundings with unanctified hands. The hour having arrived, the chief engineer of the funeral uttered a peculiar chirp and handed the little strips of muslin around. These were placed on the hats of the attendants, little squares of paper were scattered on the ground and the procession moved.

Something New. When that much-married and illustrious monarch Solomon declared that there was nothing new under the sun he was no doubt correct in his statement, but that was a long time ago. New things are continually happening in this day and generation, but the most remarkable case of novelty lately developed, transpired yesterday. As previously reported the two seductive females who appeared before Judge Fox on the charge of appropriating John Welch's money were held in $200 bail to answer before the next term of circuit court. The bail bonds were duly furnished and one of the parties signing the same was the said John Welch. It is something unheard of for a prosecuting witness to furnish bail for a prisoner, and in addition to the many singular attributes of the situation the charm of novelty is conspicuous. Bender, who turned state's evidence seems to be in the worst fix of the lot. His companions, male and female have skipped lightly to their lairs while he who "gave them all away" still languishes in a dungeon cell, being held in bonds to appear and testify next August. Verily, it is a sad wicked world, and he who lives the longest outlives the most.

On the line of the N. P. R. R., a terminal station has been established at Horse Plains, M. T. All trains now run through to that station, 579 miles east of Portland. The end of the track is four miles east of Horse Plains. The grading on the Clark's Fork division is about completed. Five bridges have yet to be built on the division, which will be finished by March 1st. Hallet has 1,500 men at work on the Missoula division. At the third crossing a large scow has been built and everything is in readiness to begin driving piles for a temporary bridge at that the last crossing of Clark's Fork river.

WANTED.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms for light house-keeping in a private house—to be occupied March 15th. Address W. E. T. ASTORIA'S OFFICE.

Carpenters' tools. Diston's saws, Bailey's planes; builders' supplies, at A. Van Dusen & Company's. New goods constantly arriving.

WANTS INFORMATION. ALBION, MICHIGAN, Feb. 14, 1883. EDITOR ASTORIAN:

Charles E. Bull left Tacoma, California, May 20, 1881, in bad health, since which time I can hear nothing from him. Any person knowing any thing of him will please notify his affectionate mother, Mrs GERTRUDE BULL. Albion, Mich.

A young man named Chas. Bull was in this city last summer, and we believe, went to the Sound.

How dear to my heart is the school I attended, And how I remember, so distant and dim, That red-headed Bill, and the pin that I bent, And carefully put on the bench under him!

And how I recall the surprise of the in-ster When Billy gave a yell, and sprang up with the pin, So high that his bullet head busted the plaster

Above, and the scholars all set up a grin. That active boy, Billy, that high-leaping Billy; That loud-shouting Billy that sat on a pin.
