worse than no defense at all, unless or it can be shown that the charges when they were brought in the first place were thoroughly refuted, A or that they do not raise a primafacie case. When a man has nothing to say in answer to serious charges against himself, except that they were brought ten years or five years or one year ago, he simply announces that for ten years or five years or one year he has sat down in silent submission under the charges. That a charge is old if it has gone unrefuted creates a presumption not that the charge is false but that the charge is true. To cite the age of the charge as a defense to it indicates there is no other. Sometimes it indicates only the confidence of the man who enters this plea that, since he is still at large, it will not be possible to bring him to punishment on a charge which is still untried. It is merely a confession and defiance. Now that congress has ad journed and there is no chance to PARKER HOUSE, "protect" auything, not even the American workingman, it is with peculiar regret we learn that certain Swiss villages raise money by taxes to send their aged, crippled, FIRST CLASS HOTEL insane and hopeless paupers to the
