

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1883

Use up all your three cent stamps by October 1st.

An English bark is outside, supposed to be the Ullock, which is over due.

W. H. Bash has been appointed postmaster at Montesano, Chehalis Co., W. T.

A town in Colorado advertises for an attorney-at-law, guaranteeing him a good practice.

There will be a special meeting of the city council this evening at half past seven o'clock.

The Helicon went to sea yesterday morning. She was towed off shore about twenty-five miles.

Messrs. Megler & Wright, proprietors of the Occident, give notice concerning the price of board.

A few salmon have made their appearance on private tables in the vicinity. They are of the usual fine flavor.

Morrison & Phipps, of Kansas, have bought A. H. Webster's cranberry marsh of seventy-five acres near Olympia. The price paid was $1,500.

T. M. Reed, of Olympia, has brought an action against the Janet Gold Mining company to foreclose a $12,000 mortgage given to secure bonds.

Reports from the Willamette valley concerning the crops are of the effect that nearly all the wheat was killed by the frosts in January, but has been resown, over almost the entire area and the outlook for a good yield is good. Rain is badly needed.

In the injunction suit of Wells Fargo's express company against the Northern Pacific R. R. Co., restraining defendants from preventing plaintiffs carrying on their express business over defendant's lines, Judge Deady, on Monday granted a provisional injunction in favor of the express company, on condition of the company giving bonds in the sum of $20,000.

The California Grocer and Canner says: "It is reported that Geo. W. Hume is about to retire from the salmon business; that he has already transferred his business to other parties." Mr. Hume has been in this city for the past week on a mission looking toward that consummation, but as yet no arrangement of the kind has been made.

During the twenty days of March that have elapsed there have been but two deaths in Astoria. Of these two, one was a hospital patient from across the river, and the other was a case of drowning; so that there was really no instance of death from what might be termed natural causes. We know of no city of its size in the Union that has a more satisfactory mortality record than Astoria.

Last Saturday, at a point a little above Skanockwa, George, a Greek, working for Nicholas Andrews, was drowned. He was in a skiff, and it capsizing flung him and his partner into the water; his comrade managed to get to the upturned boat, but the unfortunate young man sank before assistance could reach him. He was 22 years of age. His associates spent all Saturday and Sunday in ineffectual attempts to recover the body.

Good San Francisco authority says the reports from the Sacramento river concerning this year's run of salmon are not encouraging: "A large run is not looked for this season unless we get rain soon, and lots of it. The river is very low, in fact lower than has been known at this season for many years. The snow on the mountains amounts to little or nothing, so the volume of water must be small. It is a well known fact that high water is required for good salmon fishing."

Gas and Billiard Fixtures. Silver-plated basin cock, etc., very elegant and cheap, at Loryea Bros., Plumbers and Gas Fitters, Chenamus street, opposite Dement's Drug Store. Go and look at them.

New Millinery Spring Stock. Mrs. Malcom has just received a splendid new stock of spring millinery, which she is selling at prices so low that ladies will find it to their interest to give her a call before going elsewhere.

Wood Choppers Wanted. Men who want to contract for cutting timber into cord-wood can get a chance for a contract by calling on JAS. BELL, Upper Astoria.

Rawling's fruit stand has been removed from the old location to the building next E. A. Quimby's, on Main street.

The New Postal Order.

The new postal note or money order for the transmission of sums less than $5, just authorized by Congress, in accordance with the recommendation of the postmaster-general made two years ago, will be found of great convenience to the people. The order costs but three cents, is obtained without any written application, and is made payable to bearer at the office on which it is drawn. No notice is sent by the postmaster who issues the order to the office where it is made payable, except the order itself. Hence, as to safety in transmission, it in no manner differs from a greenback, or paper fractional currency. Following is a rough form of the new order:

Form for a new postal order, including fields for amount, date, and recipient information.

POSTAL ORDER FOR SUMS LESS THAN FIVE DOLLARS. Pay to Bearer, at any time within three months from the last day of the month of issue, the sum of Four and Thirty One-Hundredths Dollars.

Table with columns for denominations: Dimes, Pennies, Cents, and Mills.

The office of issue, amount, date and office at which payable, on the left of the order, represents the stub to be kept by the postmaster, and which is his only record of the transaction. To prevent the amount of the order being fraudulently changed the figures on the right, in dollars, dimes and cents columns, will be punched by the issuing office, as in the above order—4 in dollars column, 3 in dimes, and 0 in cents, making $4.30, and rendering a change impossible. Its great advantage is in its economy and convenience.

Big Bones. While blasting out for railroad construction at Albina last week a tusk, jaw and rib of an alleged mastodon were found. The reporter saith that it is thought "the living animal must have far exceeded in dimensions the genus chalicotherium with which Marsh submits the Miocene beds of Oregon are invested."

We can hardly expect that our osteological friends will forward the bones to us, for classification, but cannot refrain from suggesting that the genus chalicotherium is manifestly a first cousin to the uimatherium, and that which Marsh refers to as investing the Miocene beds of Oregon is evidently the same alluded to by Bogg and Peatland in their disquisition on the Eocene couches of our Webfoot state. An inspection of the binomial maxillary if procurable would be of value in determining the era of this prehistoric mammoth.

Good News.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17, 1883. CARL ADLER:—I send by steamer twenty baby carriages on sale at nearly one-third of regular price. An eastern factory having suspended we bought their stock for a mere song. Be sure to sell them as we have no room to store them. We also send you velocipedes, bird cages, and a variety of other goods which you will sell regardless of price. Will send you another lot shortly, as these prices will sell the goods on sight. Yours,

FIEGENBAUM & Co. Referring to the above I would respectfully inform the public that I will sell the carriages and other goods on their arrival on incoming steamers, at 20 per cent. less than the same articles are now marked. Call and examine the goods. CARL ADLER.

English Salmon Market.

The Liverpool Grocer says: "There has been a fresh arrival of salmon during the week, the ship Banffshire having reached this port from the Columbia river with about 9,000 cases. Other expected arrivals are so distant that it is not thought likely that the market will be materially affected by them. The arrivals expected in London are very large, and although the fish will be from outside rivers, it will find market somewhere, and prevent the steady drain of Liverpool stocks by London buyers as in former seasons—23s. to 25s. 6d. for Fraser river, and 25s. to 26s. for Columbia river fish, are the current rates. Some disappointment has been expressed by holders of sardines at the comparatively insignificant demand, and do not appear able to account for it; but the fact that Columbia river salmon is very good and much cheaper may probably explain this."

London advices are to the effect that business is kept somewhat in abeyance by the firmness of holders in refusing to sell at any concession in value, and none of the cargo of Columbia river fish per Glengarry has yet been sold under 25s. to 25s. 6d. per case. A further portion of the shipment of Fraser river salmon per Lady Head, has, however been taken at 23s. for fair quality, and another arrival, per Albany, from Victoria, B. C., with over 21,000 cases of the same description of fish, is now at hand, in course of landing at the West India docks.
