

The Daily Astorian

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1888

San Francisco weather. Astoria Engine Co., No. 1, will hold a special meeting this evening.

There will be a special meeting of Council No. 965, A. L. of H., this evening.

Ruddock & Leake have received some fine gas fixtures which they advertise.

The Oregon arrived in from S. F., yesterday afternoon. The Queen sails this morning.

H. B. Parker has some A 1 cedar shingles for sale. Also lime, cement, brick and sand.

The A. B. Field sails for Tillamook from Main street wharf at six o'clock this morning.

The schooner Sparrow, loaded with redwood lumber from Eureka, Cal., is in the stream.

Two hundred people are taken in here every day in the week. Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Services in the Scandinavian language each Saturday night at 8 o'clock, in the Methodist church.

Portland printers are going to picnic June 16th. Down here we picnic every day in the year.

Last Wednesday the agent at St. Paul sold the first through ticket to Portland over the Northern Pacific.

Judge Bonham, of Salem, is in the city. This is his first visit to Astoria, though a resident of the state for thirty years.

R. M. Wooden was in the city yesterday, and said he was "in after a dentist to bring him out and pull every tooth on the Nehalem."

The bark Regale finishes loading to-day, and will immediately proceed up stream. She has been chartered to load flour, and—possibly—salmon.

The assessment roll of King county, W. T., makes a very good showing. In 1882, the aggregate was $3,685,565; in 1883 it is $8,810,200.

Frank Fabre advertises that he has an ice depot, and will accommodate all who wish it at 2 1/2 cents a pound. He also makes excellent ice cream.

Capt. John C. White, 1st Art., is in San Francisco. He has been granted permanent leave of absence, pending his turn to be placed on the retired list.

The First National bank of Astoria will begin operations within thirty days. An election of officers takes place next week. I. W. Case will be the manager.

There is trouble in the Portland post office. W. L. Chittenden, the deputy postmaster, and the real head of the concern has resigned, the resignation to take effect June 1st.

In the case of Chas. Anderson, on trial in Portland for the murder of Archie Clarke, the jury last Thursday brought in a verdict of "manslaughter." Anderson will receive his sentence next Monday.

The Shubrick was coaling at Flavel's wharf yesterday. To-morrow she goes to the buoy depot, and will start on a cruise to the south as far as Cape Blanco, replacing buoys, etc. Captain Davis will go on a tour of inspection.

The Occident and Parker House are being fixed up in good shape for the season. The Parker House is having considerable addition and improvement, and is now one of the largest hotels in the northwest, being 50x138 feet, and containing over eighty rooms.

The first Masonic Lodge instituted on the Pacific coast was Multnomah No. 1, at Oregon City, the second was at the Sandwich Islands, the third at Sacramento, the fourth at San Francisco, the fifth at Marysville, and the sixth one was at Sacramento. Standard.

Delegates and firemen in attendance at the forthcoming meeting of the Firemen's Association and tournament to be held at Salem will be granted a reduction of 80 per cent. on return tickets over the lines of the N. P. R. R., the O. R. & N. Co., and the P. C. S. S. Co., upon the presentation of certificates signed by the secretary, stating that they have been in attendance, etc. Fire apparatus will be returned free on like certificates.

An exporter expresses the opinion that freights for October and November loading will be 70s per ton in the Columbia river. That is too high a figure to give producers much show. There is already considerable tonnage in the Columbia river and at San Francisco, and it will augment before harvest comes, but the surplus of forty millions of bushels to be exported calls for a great fleet to handle it. It is not possible to make close calculations on a point so indefinite as crops three months before harvest, and ships that have not pointed this way.

Willamette Farmer.

The Columbia Water Company.

D. P. Thompson who has been superintending the construction of the Columbia Water Company's works, went to Portland yesterday. The men are at present working at Bear Creek, about ten miles southeast of the city and about three miles back from the Columbia. At this point the creek or river debouches into a lake of some six or eight acres in extent, which acts as a natural reservoir for the water. About a mile below the lake the main pipe, a ten inch tube, will begin. This source of supply is 412 feet above sea level. The pipe runs down Bear creek, through A. C. Fisher's place, and comes out at Burnside's place, thence along the shore to Tongue point, and down the beach to Upper Astoria, where minor pipes will be laid. From there pipes will be laid to the reservoirs which are to be built in the neighborhood of Cockcomb hill, one of which will be 250 feet above the city, the other, the Welch reservoir, enlarged. For the present the water will come exclusively from Bear creek, the waters of which are reported pure and wholesome. As the city increases in size should this supply prove inadequate in a few years, Mr. Thompson can lay other mains from Young's river falls. He calculates that he can supply a city of 125,000 people with pure sparkling water, and by the nature of the work so far demonstrates his faith in our future. The works will be in operation as soon as the largest number of men which can be employed to advantage can complete them. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in getting teams, and material on the ground, but this season will assuredly see Astoria supplied with an abundance of pure water.

Asking Some Questions

ED. ASTORIAN: I would make a suggestion to three "seaport" towns, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland.

Did you hear from Mr. Villard at Walla Walla? Didn't you know before that railroad was not practicable from east of the Cascade mountains only through the pass of the great Columbia river by way of The Dalles, Portland, Columbia City, Westport, Clifton, Knappa and so to Astoria the seaport of the Northwest.

Stamped pass, the lowest pass to Puget Sound, is not practical for freight handling. When a railroad reaches Columbia City by way of Portland that road is within 60 miles of Astoria. Can you make a land lubber believe that a railroad train can be ferried across the Columbia river, then 110 miles over rail to Tacoma, then tow ships 150 miles from the ocean and that freight can be thus handled cheaper than by taking 60 miles direct to Astoria without crossing the Columbia river and reach deep water at Astoria's docks that are free from the ravages of the teredo; where there is safe anchorage and quick dispatch.

When the railroad is connected between Corvallis and Junction, and between Roseburg and Redding, and the Northern Pacific connected, will people and freight come by way of Union and Central Pacific rail to San Francisco, then steamer to Portland, or will they come direct by the Northern Pacific to eastern Oregon and Washington and Idaho. The question is certainly a very easy one. Gentlemen do you understand!

NOT A BULLWACKER NOW.

The Coming Fourth. When in the course of human events the anniversary of our national independence approaches, a due regard for the eternal fitness of things impels us to suggest that Astoria celebrate the coming Fourth of July in a manner befitting the occasion. Last year the Fireman's tournament was the feature of the occasion. We all had a good time, everybody went home satisfied. This year we know of nothing except a grand ball and parade of the Knights of Pythias, which is contemplated. There are several reasons why Astoria should celebrate the 107th anniversary of the nation's birthday, and no reason why it should not. One prominent citizen yesterday, in speaking about it, said: "I'll put my name down for $50, whenever the paper comes round." Let us celebrate.

Death of a Pioneer.

Wednesday, about noon, says the Salem Statesman, P. S. Herren, aged about fifty-one years, known by old settlers of this country as "Sim" Herren, died suddenly at his brother's residence, J. B. Herren. He crossed the plains in the year 1845, together with his father's family, coming by what is known as the "Meek's cut off." He leaves a wife and four children, who are now at Colfax, Washington Territory for the last fifteen years. At one time he and his eldest son published a newspaper at Spokane Falls, Washington Territory. The funeral took place Thursday.

The Gen. Cady is advertised to make an excursion trip to Fort Canby, and Ilwaco, to-morrow.

Last Evening's Entertainment.

Liberty Hall was crowded last evening: and those present enjoyed an intellectual treat. The entertainment began by an overture "Murmuring of the Forest," performed by a quartette, Miss Nellie Flavel, piano, Prof. A. L. Francis, violin, D. A. McIntosh, cornet, Mr. Neff, bass viol, which was well received. A recitation "Liquor Traffic" by Edith May Conn was rendered in that little lady's inimitable style; and was followed by a song "Magnetic Waltz," by Miss Katie Flavel whose clear, musical voice gives evidence of rare vocal talent. In response to an encore the singer gave "Comin' through the Rye." Miss L. L. Allen's recitation, "An old story" was warmly applauded, when the famous "Broom Drill," was given by twelve young Misses under the captainship of Miss Worsely. Those who claim that ladies cannot learn army tactics should have seen the ease and dexterity in which those young ladies handled their favorite household exercise.

The marching and counter-marching of these little folks reflected credit upon themselves and their fair captain and elicited the continuous applause of the audience. Following are the names of the division: Agnes Stockton, Annie Callender, Olga Heilborn, Rosetta Sherman, Zoe Carruthers, Minnie Warren, Alice Stockton, Myra Stevens, Ethel Merryman, Katy McKean, Alice Wood, Ella Belcher.

The second part was opened by a song, "In the meads," well executed by Mr. Gillig, after which came a selection from the "Bohemian girl," Mrs. McIntosh, piano; Prof. Francis, violin; Mr. McIntosh, cornet; Mr. Neff, bass viol. A feature of this selection was the rendering of the obligato, "Then you'll remember me." The favorite duet "Lurboard Watch" was sung by Miss Katie Flavel, and Mr. Gillig, and heartily applauded, after which Miss Dickinson, in a pleasing recitation, answered the query "What then?" Following this, Miss Katie Flavel again favored the audience with a song "What are they to do?" The entertainment closed with "The Caliph of Bagdad," Miss Nora Wilson, piano; Prof. Francis, violin; Mr. McIntosh, cornet; Mr. Neff, bass viol. The performance was an artistic success throughout, and fully demonstrated the fact that Astoria is not wholly destitute of sufficient talent to produce a fine entertainment, even on such short notice as this had.
