

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1888

Public Lands. THERE are large bodies of very fine timber land lying vacant in this county. Our own people should take up these lands and thus save the stampage to residents of the county.

An applicant for timber land can not take up more than 160 acres. He must be a citizen of the United States and must make his application at the land office at Oregon City. Lands thus taken must be shown to be unfit for cultivation and to contain no minerals. Residence on the land is not required. The price any where in this county is $2.50 per acre, which is to be paid after 60 days. It has been intimated that the department will enforce a ruling that no lands can be taken up as timber lands which can be made tillable by the removal of timber. If such a rule could be enforced it would be well for this county, as it would save to the pre-emptor and actual settler lands which are now being filed on for speculation.

Pointers. THE Eternal City celebrated April 21st the 2636th anniversary of its legendary foundation by Romulus.

New Hampshire sold its state lands a few years ago for $25,000. To-day they are worth a million.

A Virginia paper reports a mother in its bailwick who named her baby Mahone, because its reputed father repudiated it.

For several years past the Greenland seal fishing has been practically a failure, and this year there is no improvement.

A genius advertised: "A sewing-machine for twenty-five cents in stamps," and his dupes did not see the point until they received a cambric needle.

The laws regarding divorce are no more lax in Ohio than in any other state, and the statistics show that in 1882 there were no less than 4,500 divorce cases in the Ohio courts.

The Philadelphia News explains the difference between a "news-paper man" and a "journalist." It says "A newspaper man" is one who has been writing editorials for eighteen or twenty years. A "journalist" is one who began to write reports about a week ago.

The Railway Age says: During the first four months of the present year there were 1,450 miles of main track laid, against 2,300 miles during the corresponding period last year. The decrease is owing to the cold winter and backward spring interfering with the work.

New York politicians attach significance to the fact that when John Kelly visited Lowell recently to lecture, he not only dined with Governor Butler, but had the governor introduce him to the audience, all of which is construed to mean that Butler is to be the Tammany candidate for president.

The well-known Parisian editor, M Moigno, has written a paper on the synthesis of the heavens and the earth. In this he makes the deduction that everything originated from ether, which first generated hydrogen. To an impulsion of ether he attributes the existence throughout the universe of the action of gravitation.

Reports from different parts of the country encourage the belief in a veritable shipbuilding revival. The Philadelphia Times speaks of the Delaware-increasing their orders, and states that a new yard has been opened at Port Richmond with contracts already made and work begun on five new ships.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says: "For years we have stood out against blood-spilling in Kentucky. It is a blot, and a deep one, upon our escutcheon. We shall never cease in our efforts to wipe it out. But we hope never to live to see the day when the unwritten law requiring the life of a man for the honor of a woman shall be relaxed."

"For what purpose do political parties exist?" asks the inquiring Chicago Times, and the Philadelphia Press replies as follows: "Well, the Democratic party exists because it is afraid to die, and the Republican party exists because the country can't get along without it." It is time the Chicago papers were getting some light upon this important question. "The plan of numbering the Italian laborers on the West Shore road," says the Kingston Freeman, "works like a charm. Finding it impossible to keep track of them by their jaw-breaking names, the contractors concluded to number them. The number of each Italian is painted in plain figures on the seat of his pantaloons. Before beginning work in the morning and at noon and again at night, the men are formed in line, and the foreman passes in the rear of them and takes down each number, in order to ascertain who is present, as well as who is absent. The plan is beneficial in two ways—the men are easily recognized, and they are also kept from sitting down too much for fear of rubbing out the figures on the seats of their pantaloons."
