

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SUNDAY, JUNE 10, 1883

Notice.

On and after this date D. H. Caswell will have charge of the DAILY ASTORIAN. All subscriptions are payable to him, and he is authorized to receipt for money paid.

J. F. HALLORAN & Co.

June 9th, 1883.

There will be no services in Grace church to-day.

The Colona, from Hongkong, arrived yesterday.

We acknowledge a call from Geo. Von Reinoltz, city editor of the News.

Dr. La Force, dentist, presents his card under new to-day.

Good music may be counted on as among the attractions at Liberty Hall to-night.

Rev. W. B. Osborne will conduct service in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 3 P. M. to-day.

The testimony in the Lappens case is closed and the final argument will be heard on Tuesday.

The adv. of steamer Quickstep, Hobson master, appears among our new advertisements to-day.

The Queen of the Pacific went on the dry-dock at San Francisco yesterday, to repair her broken propeller.

Rev. R. Scheidt of the German Reform church will hold divine service in the Baptist church at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Rev. W. B. Osborne will conduct services in the Methodist church to-day at 11 A. M. Church closed in the evening.

Miss Willard, Miss Gordon, Mrs. Osborne and others are expected to address the youth and children at Liberty Hall this afternoon.

Willie Hall and Willie Clinton returned yesterday morning from a bear hunt on Young's river, and they triumphantly brought a bear with them.

The large foundation timbers for Mrs. Kinney's brick building on Squemoqua street, were yesterday slid into the water and floated in place.

W. L. Pool, of the Olympic saloon has been stricken with paralysis in his lower limbs. He was conveyed to St. Mary's hospital yesterday by his friends.

Laborers are in such demand at present, in logging camps, saw mills and ranches, that the contractors on the Kalama extension have had work to keep full gangs along the line.

A children's meeting will be held in Liberty Hall this afternoon. The time will be announced from the various pulpits. Let all the children and young people come.

I. W. Case had hands employed all day yesterday in removing his banking house furniture to his new quarters in the Odd Fellows' building. A safe weighing 7,000 pounds was successfully removed and placed in position in the new bank.

The bark C. S. Hudbut, built in 1881, goes on the berth to leave for New York direct. If inducement offers she may take on freight at any cannery between Portland and Astoria that has sufficient depth of water at landing, for a vessel of her size.

The annual meeting of the State Pioneer Association will be held at the State Fair grounds near Salem, next Friday. The annual address will be delivered by Hon. W. Lair Hill, of the Dalles, while the occasional address will be by Hon. John Whiteaker, of Lane county.

The Mist is informed that in about two weeks, the Columbia Flume and Lumber Company will commence to build a large steam saw mill on the Clatskanie, about five miles from the Columbia, and that they have secured a large amount of timber on the head waters of the river, which they will cut by small mills and send it down by a flume to the large mill where it will be finished for market.

The Wide West will, on the arrival of the Columbia to-day take on board President Arthur's daughter, Senator Edmunds and wife, T. F. Oakes, vice president, and C. H. Prescott, general manager, of the O. R. & N. Co., and other distinguished parties who accompany them. The steamer E. J. Thompson will take the place of the Wide West to-day for general passenger traffic and leave at 1 P. M. as usual.

A. Olsen, of boat No. 12, Fishermen's Pkg. Co., while sailing home, near the Republic wreck on Friday night was knocked overboard by the boom and drowned. Deceased was a native of Stranstad, Sweden, where he leaves a wife and child. He was known here as a careful and industrious man. The Fishermen's Pkg. Co. advertise a reward of fifty dollars for the recovery of his body.

He Didn't Know.

The proprietor of a Dalles store which had been finely decorated in honor of the Knights of Pythias, was at his door during the recent parade, when an old man lounged up and began:

"Such ignorance. I never saw in all my life! You see that man there—the one with the hat on!"

"Yes."

"Well, he was having a good deal to say, and when I asked him who Pythias was. Would you believe it, he couldn't answer me!"

"C-couldn't he?" stammered the citizen.

"No sir, he couldn't. Think of such ignorance in this enlightened age! When I told him who Pythias was he called me a liar. Now I want to prove that I'm right. You come over and tell him all about it."

"But I—I can't leave."

"Then I'll bring him over here."

"No, you needn't—I'm busy."

"I see you are, but when a man calls me a liar I want to prove that I ain't. I'll have him over in moment."

He hadn't crossed the street before the merchant slid into store and hurried up stairs to keep out of sight for an hour, and it was only after he was certain that the old man had departed that he slipped down and consulted Webster's dictionary to find out whether Pythias was a town, a man, or a temple on a hill.

Misplaced Confidence.

Persons traveling along the roadway leading to Upper Astoria cannot be too careful about hearing their weight against the railing which is placed for safety along the sides. Yesterday, two gentlemen on their way about to upper town, met two acquaintances coming in the opposite direction.

The four stopped for a friendly chat, the two from leaving against the hand rail. It suddenly gave way, and in less time than it takes to write it the two gentlemen found themselves floundering on their backs in about three feet of soft mud to one of water. The fall was not less than fourteen feet the tide being well out. As they broke neither neck nor limb, they were able to pick themselves up and wade through the mud to terra firma.

When they had recovered from their astonishment at the sudden and unexpected fall, they gazed at each other, and realizing the dilapidated and ludicrous appearance they presented enjoyed a hearty laugh at each other's expense, in which we who were on the stage and witnesses of the mishap most cordially joined.

Disappointed.

It is said the farmers in the Farmington and Moscow country, east of Colfax have gone extensively into wheat raising this season, expecting that the Palouse branch of the Northern Pacific would reach them in time to remove this year's crop. But the railroad will not reach them till next year, and their surplus of wheat is expected to be 25,000 tons, for which they have no storage. The most of them are new comers and are unable to buy lumber at the prevailing high prices, to provide shelter for their crops which they cannot sell. Unless they receive some assistance there is great danger that their crops may be lost during the coming winter.

Miss Frances E. Willard.

This evening, at Liberty Hall, everyone who so desires can have an opportunity to hear Miss Frances E. Willard lecture on temperance. Since October, 1875, this talented lady has been elected and re-elected president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Miss Willard is said to be a woman of rare qualifications for the work she is engaged in, of cultivated and polished address, of skill in arranging facts and arguments, of a restrained and impressive eloquence, and she will no doubt greatly interest all who listen to her.

Simple Remedies.

Half a teaspoonful of common table salt dissolved in a little cold water, and drunk, will instantly relieve "heart-burn" or dyspepsia. If taken every morning before breakfast, increasing the quantity gradually to a teaspoonful of salt and a tumbler of water, it will in a few days cure any case of dyspepsia, if at the same time due attention is paid to the diet.

There is no better remedy than the above for constipation. As a gargle for sore throat it is equal to chlorate of potash, and is entirely safe. It may be used as often as desirable, and if a little is swallowed each time it will have a beneficial effect on the throat by cleansing it and by allaying the irritation. In doses of one to four teaspoonfuls, in half a pint to a pint of tepid water, it acts promptly as an emetic, and in cases of poisoning is always at hand. It is an excellent remedy for bites and stings of insects.

It is a valuable astringent in hemorrhages, particularly for bleeding after the extraction of teeth. It has both cleansing and healing properties, and is, therefore, a most excellent application for superficial ulceration.

Mustard is another valuable remedy. No family should be without it. Two or three teaspoonfuls of ground mustard stirred into half a pint of water acts as an emetic very promptly, and is mild and easier to take than salt and water. Equal parts of ground mustard and flour or meal, made into a paste with warm water, and spread on a thin piece of muslin, with another piece of muslin laid over it, forms the often indispensable "mustard plaster." It is a specific for colic when applied for a few minutes over the "pit of the stomach."

For all internal pains and congestions there is no remedy of such great utility. It acts as a counter irritant by drawing the blood to the surface; hence, in severe cases of croup, a small mustard plaster should be applied to the back of the child's neck. The same treatment will relieve almost any case of headache. A mustard plaster should be moved about over the spot to be acted upon, for if left in one place it is liable to blister. A mustard plaster acts as well when at considerable distance from the affected part. An excellent substitute for mustard plasters is what is known as "mustard leaves."

They come a dozen in a box, and are about four or five inches in size. They are perfectly dry and will keep for a long time. For use it is only necessary to dip one in a dish of water for a minute and then apply it.

Common baking soda is the best of all remedies in cases of scalds and burns. It may be used on the surface of the burned place, either dry or wet. When applied promptly the sense of relief is magical. It seems to withdraw the heat, and with it the pain, and the healing process soon commences. It is the best application for eruptions caused by poisonous ivy and other poisonous plants, as also for bites and stings of insects. Owing to colds, over fatigue, anxiety and various other causes, the urine is often scanty, highly colored, and more or less loaded with phosphates, which settle to the bottom of the vessel on cooling. As much soda as can be dissolved in half a glass of water and drank every three hours, will soon remedy the trouble and cause relief to the oppression that always exists from interruption of the natural flow of urine. This treatment should not be continued more than twenty-four hours. We have no more space to devote to this subject now; but it is one of universal interest, and we shall continue it. We shall endeavor to show that most of the diseases and accidents that are constantly occurring could be remedied or avoided by resorting to such remedies and appliances as are to be found in every home.—Hall's Journal of Health.
