Supplying the Demand.

Mr. Beecher in a recent sermon, said of the press, and a vicious public taste: "Do you suppose newspapers ever print anything that won't sell? They know you better than you know yourselves. There is a flavor in men's wickedness that you relish. It is said that an Englishman hangs his game up by the tail feathers till it drops. They like the flavor of it then."

Who are the heroes? The men who are convicted of murder! A man may be a saint; he may have gone out Sabbath after Sabbath to hospitals and jails--to bind up wounds unhealed; but if he has cut somebody's throat he stands a head and shoulders higher than all the saints. What he says is chronicled; how he looks; who visits him; what ladies bring flowers to his cell. He only killed his mistress; and the tears of compassion blossom into flowers, which are conveyed to him on the morning of his execution. We are told what he ate at breakfast, how he looked; how he was dressed, how he walked to the scaffold, what was the particular way in which the rope treated his neck, whether it broke his neck or didn't. This loathsome necessity of justice is paraded with all detail, column after column. But men are found to read it. The merchant, before he goes to business cannot stop for a thousand little kindnesses, but he cannot go until he has read the whole account of that execution. They do rejoice in iniquity, and in all the history of it. But the newspapers which collect this news are no more to blame than you are who demand it. The men who read it are more culpable than the men who collect it. The latter are but your servants."

How? By getting one bottle of BROWN IRON BITTERS, and taking it regularly according to directions.

Manufact, Ohio, Nov. 4, 1881. Gentlemen:--I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great nervousness on my head, with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidneys, and spleen, but I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It is justly called the King of Medicines.

A WELL-KNOWN PHYSICIAN WRITES: "It does not dry up a cough, and leave the lungs behind, as is the case with most preparations, but loosens it, cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of complaint."

DO NOT BE DECEIVED BY ARTICLES BEARING SIMILAR NAMES. Be sure you get DR. WISTAR'S BALM OF WILD CHERRY, with the signature of "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper.

THAT SETTLES IT. Brought into Competition with the World. The Best Carries of the Honors.

At the Great Centennial Exhibition of 1876, the leading products of all branches of the World's industry were assembled at Philadelphia. To carry of a prize in the face of that tremendous competition was a task of no ordinary difficulty. Inventions and preparations for the alleviation of pain and the cure of diseases were present in the greatest possible variety, representing the skill and the profoundest study of the age, and it may be of vital importance to you, personally, to know that the highest and only medal given to rubber Plasterers, was awarded to the manufacturer of BENSON'S CASPIAN RUBBER PLASTER, by the following jury: DR. W. M. BOTH, Surgeon General, Provisionary Army, C. B. WHITE, M. D., New Orleans, ERNEST FLEISCH, M. D., Austria.

The decision was afterwards confirmed by the medical jury at the last Paris Exposition. Knowing the value of such high and unbiased testimony, the medical profession, both in the United States and in Europe, quickly threw aside the old, slow-acting plasters they had been using, and adopted Benson's in their regular practice. That physicians and surgeons of the broadest reputations did this distinctly proves the intrinsic merit of the article.

It is no more than just to add that the average physician of to-day is not dominated by the prejudices which retarded the progress and modified the successes of his predecessors of not more than twenty-five years ago. He accepts hints from all quarters and endorses an adapt, demonstrate, healing agent wherever he finds them. The right of Benson's Caspian Plaster to stand at the head of all external applications whatsoever, for the mitigation of cure of disease, is no longer questioned. Let the purchaser, however, be on his guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CASPIAN cut in the middle.
