THAT SETTLES IT.

Brought into Competition with the World, the Best Carries off the Honors.

At the great Centennial Exhibition of 1856. the leading products of all branches of the World's industry were assembled at Philadelphia. To every off a prize in the face of that tremendous competition was a task of no ordinary difficulty. Inventions and preparattons for the alleviation of pain and the cure of diseases were protest in the greatest the profoundest study of the ago, and it may be of vital importance to you, personally, to know that the highest and only modal given to rubber Perous plasters, was awarded to the manufacturers of BENSON'S CAPCINE PO-ROUS PLASTER, by the following jury: Dr. WM, ROTH, Surgeon General, Prasian Army

J. H. THOMPSON, A. M., M. D., Washing

C. B. WHITE, M. D., New Orleans, ERNEST FLEISCH, M. D. Austria.

The decision was afterwards confirmed by the medical jury at the last Paris Exposition. Knowing the value of such high and unbiased testimony, the medical profession, both in the United States and in Europe, quickly threw saide the old, slow-acting plasters then had been using, and adopted Benson's in their regular practice. That physicians and surgeons of the broadest reputations did this distinctly proves the intrinsic merit of the ar-

It is no more than just to add that the av erage physician of to-day is not dominated by the projudices which retarded the progress and modified the successes of his producessor of not more than twenty-five years ago. He accepts hints from all quarters and endorses and adopts demonstrated healing agents wherever he finds thom.

The right of Benson's Capeine Porous Plas ter to stand at the head of all external applieations whatsoever, for the mitigation of care of disease, is no longer questioned.

Let the purchaser, however, boon his guard against muitations. The remaine has the word CAPCINE ery in the middle. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.

How the Ashuelot was Lost.

The findings of the Naval Court Iot have reached the Navy Delan's accountability and his punishment it is said:

Commander Mulian was tried upon three charges—drunkenness on duty, improperly hazarding the vessel under his command, and in consequence of which she was run to the consequence of upon a rock and lost, and neglect of duty. Under the first charge there were two specifications, the first covering the time from 10 a. M. to 2 P. M. on February 17th, and the second from 2 P. M. of the matter of allowing the vessel to run on an unsafe course, and this, too, was proved. Under the third clarge, there were three specifications, the first treating of the failure to limit the speed as agreed upon, the second with neglect to take soundings as required by paragraph 145, section 5, chapter 5, of the Navy Regulations, or to endeavor to ascertain the currents, see the order to abandon the eleven of the men were lost. The essential part of these three speculations was found proved, except as that portion of the third which and leaving the slap, the court ap-4, chapter 5, of the Navy Regulaner to be the last to abandon his ship in case of accident, which was highly improper, his remaining would have resulted only in his loss and not in the second of the last of the sales of tions, which requires the commanloss, and not in saving the men. Commander Mullan was found guilty of all three of the charges and sentenced to dismissal, which entence has been confirmed by the president. Lieutenant Wyckoff was tried for neglect of duty, but was fully acquitted. Passed Assistant Engineers Entwistle and the Leitch were found guilty of negleet of duty in not seeing their

the ship themselves, and were
