France and England

New York, July 22.—A cablegram from London says: Public feeling in France among all classes has become extremely bitter towards England and the relations between the two countries are becoming decidedly unpleasant and uncomfortable. The cause of it has been comprehensive, including England's general hostility to each step taken by France in her foreign policy, the English attitude in relation to French possessions in Africa, Madagascar and Tonquin, the Pakenham incident at Tamatay and the De Lesseps imbroglio. The two countries separated widely when the Egyptian war opened and circumstances have since multiplied to widen the breach. The canal difficulty, the latest difference that has arisen, grows more and more complicated, and as an element of political difficulty in England promises to be the immediate occasion of the downfall of the present government.

The Cholera Scare.

LONDON, July 22.—Europe is again in a spasm of apprehension at the approach of the cholera. It has spread to Cairo and is raging there with a virulence that may well excite alarm, the deaths numbering hundreds daily, according to a trustworthy observer, who doubts the truth of the government returns and has investigated for himself. New reports come to hand of unspeakable horrors endured by the unfortunate communities which the Khedive, in obedience to the orders of the English government, has selected to enclose with cordons of troops. Heretofore the Musselman cities have met the plague with their usual fatalism and at the worst the people have gone into the desert until the pestilence has passed over. Now a British sanitary whim, having its origin in officialism and not in medical science, confines them to their walls and sends them neither food nor medicine. The rich escape by bribery, while the poor take their chances or rush on the bayonets of their guards to find a preferable death or be driven back into the pesthouse. Damietta and Mansourah are charnel-houses of putrefaction, full of unburied dead and starving thousands—monuments to the new civilization and to Egypt's new Pharaohs. The Indian mails are no longer landed at Brindisi, but are taken directly to England. There is consequently, a great outcry in France against the probable transfer through French territory, by way of England, of infected goods from the east.

A Chilean Victory.

LIMA, July 22.—To-day's Diario Oficial gives the details of the battle at Huanuco as reported to General Lynch. Carceres had 4,000 men, while the Chilean division numbered 1,600. Carceres' loss was from 800 to 1,000 killed and a large number wounded. Of the Chilean force 50 were killed and 104 wounded. Several Peruvian chiefs were killed. Carceres and Riebara were wounded. The Chileans captured 11 pieces of artillery and 800 rifles.

The Yellow Fever.

HAVANA, July 22.—The number of deaths from yellow fever in Havana during the week ending to-day was thirty-nine. The butcher and a coal-passer on the steamer City of Washington died to-day. One of the two sick passengers who was removed from the steamer is General E. O. C. Ord, who is very dangerously ill. General Ord, with the others who are down with the fever, have been placed in a good private hospital.

Mysterious Movements of Freddie and the Lily.

New York, July 22.—The excitement over the threatened departure of Mrs. Langtry has reached fever heat in dudedom. It is rumored that efforts will be made to delay as long as possible the hour of her sailing. Preparations aboard the steamship Alaska are being pushed with great energy, so that everything may be in readiness by Tuesday morning. The latest rumor afloat is that Freddie Gebhardt has sold his ranning horse Cole to Dwyer Bros., and has instructed his bankers to convert $47,000 of his money into English sovereigns. It is further said that his valet has been busily employed in moving small articles of baggage from his Fifth-avenue residence to the steamship Alaska. The all-absorbing question at the clubs is, "will he go with her?" A report, which could not be traced to any reliable source, but which found many believers, said that Mrs. Langtry was now in New York city. One young gentleman who professes an intimate acquaintance with the movements of the Lily says that the Alaska business is only a ruse to throw people off the scent, and that Freddie and the Lily will take their departure from the port of Boston.

Terrible Storm—Loss of Life and Great Destruction of Property.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—A terrific cyclone struck southern Minnesota yesterday, mainly along the line of the Chicago and North-western railroad. The town of Elgin, in Olmstead county, was totally destroyed, every building being blown down or unroofed within one minute after the storm struck the place. Mrs. Thayer was killed and several others wounded. At Owatonna great damage was done, especially at the fair grounds, where all the buildings were wrecked. Several persons were injured. One mile west of that place a passenger train was lifted from the track, turned clear over, and twenty-five or thirty persons injured. A. H. Williams of Rochester, Minn., was injured in the back and chest; W. Rogers, internally; L. Doleman had his skull crushed. These are the only ones feared to be fatally injured. At Kasson the cyclone struck one mile west of the town, blowing down a schoolhouse and several other buildings in its track. At Mantorville three persons were killed and eight wounded, three fatally. At Waukesha there was great destruction of property and one person killed.

MILWAUKEE, July 22.—Washouts have occurred on nearly all the railroads in this vicinity, and it is rumored, two trains were thrown from the track and some passengers slightly injured by being thrown from their berths. Mrs. Grace Faulk was killed at Dodgeville in the downfall of her house, which was struck by a tornado. Another woman is reported to have been killed at a small town near Dodgeville. Buildings were blown down in every direction and crops prostrated.

The Cholera in Egypt.

ALEXANDRIA, July 22.—The sanitary commission has decided that all passengers must undergo medical examination before leaving Egypt. The commission is considering permanent sanitary measures to be enforced against vessels arriving at Egyptian ports from Bombay.

Deaths from cholera, Saturday, 331, in Cairo and suburbs; 33 at Mansourah, 17 at Samanoud, 25 at Mehalua, 93 at Chibin, 22 at Choharat, 33 at Gtich, 4 at Damietta, 11 at Zitfeh, 8 at Menzah, besides 34 in six villages.

CAIRO, July 22.—A sanitary commission, consisting of General Sir Evelyn Wood, Baker Pasha, and General Stephenson will be formed immediately. The inhabitants of the most infected districts of Benlah have been sent to Turrah, ten miles up the Nile, and their houses burned. The officials of the department of the state domains have been removed to Helousa, a few miles further up the Nile, where they are encamped. A great quantity of tar is burned in Cairo every night.

CAIRO, July 22.—Fifteen hundred inhabitants of Bulak have been removed up the Nile. The owners of the burned houses will be indemnified. The natives oppose the removal of patients to the hospital. The disease is very sudden in its effects. People frequently fall dead in the streets. The epidemic is spreading northward as well as southward. The disease is spreading elsewhere. The mortality increases hourly. The inhabitants suddenly driven out of their houses by the police during Friday and Saturday nights were huddled on board barges. Hundreds of them evaded the police and fled to the center of the city, taking with them their filthy bedding. Eight hundred of them landed at Turrah to-day. General Wood's troops compelled the others to return. Since then there has been a case of cholera among General Wood's forces at Turrah. The deaths at Caria really numbered 481 between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday, besides the fearful mortality among the Egyptian artillery. The natives of Abbazy are panic-stricken. The British officers have to bury the dead.

Fire in an Eight-Story Building.

NEW YORK, July 22.—The five upper floors of the Munro building, from 17 to 27 Vandewater street, were gutted by fire this afternoon. The floors below were flooded with water, and every tenant suffered more or less. Total loss, about $300,000. Many narrow escapes, but no lives lost. No one seriously injured. The building is eight stories high and the firemen worked at great disadvantage. Thirteen firemen were cut off by fire and smoke in the eighth floor. They were rescued by means of a rope. Nine other firemen, imprisoned on the same floor, were also rescued in a similar way. The firemen on the roof were ordered off about a minute before it fell. The cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion. About 1,000 persons were employed in the building, but few will be thrown out of employment.

Nothing to Boast Of.

LONDON, July 22.—The Telegraph, referring to the international rifle match, praises the courage with which the Americans, who have cultivated military shooting for a comparatively brief period, came to struggle with experienced shots. "It is possible," says the Telegraph, "that the Americans were defeated because their weapons were inferior at longer ranges. The English should not boast of their victory, as, at what may be considered military ranges, they were beaten on their own ground."

MOTHERS, READ.

GENTS:—About nine years ago I had a child two years old and almost dead. The doctor I had attending her could not tell what ailed her. I asked him if he did not think it was worms. He said no. However, this did not satisfy me, as I felt convinced in my own mind that she had. I obtained a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE (genuine). I gave her a teaspoonful in the morning and another at night after which she passed seventy-two worms and was a well child. Since then I have never been without it in my family. The health of my children remained so good that I had neglected washing their actions until about three weeks ago, when two of them presented the same sickly appearance that Fanny did nine years ago. So I thought I might be worms, and went to work at once with a bottle of DR. C. McLANE'S VERMIFUGE between four of my children, their ages being as follows: Alice, 8 years; Charles, 4 years; Emma, 6 years; John, 5 years. Now comes the result: Alice and Emma came out all right, but Charles passed forty-five and Johnny about sixty worms. The result was so gratifying that I spent two days in showing the wonderful effect of your Vermifuge around Vtici, and now have the worms on exhibition in my store.
Yours truly, JOHN PIPER.

NEVILLE & CO.
Pacific Net and Twine Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 11th, 1883.
DEAR SIRS:
For general convenience, we have sent a supply of No. 30, 12-ply Genuine Scotch Salmon Net Twine, to the care of A. M. JOHNSON & CO., Astoria, which will be sold at low enough figures to make it an object for all net fishermen to use it for repairs, in place of the more costly No. 40, 13-ply.
Fishermen who have heretofore used this grade of twine for repairs, claim that the durability of the patch is equal to the balance of the net, after the latter has had a few weeks use. We think it will be money in your pocket to try it. For prices and samples apply to
