The Harmlesss, Necessary Yankee.

The following from the Memphis Appeal appears to show a budding sense of the Southerners' reliance upon northern brains:

When they retire at night they inhutton Yankee buttons to Yan-- made coats, waistcoats, patashirts and drawers. They off Yankee boots with Yan boot-jacks and divest their teet of Yankee socks. They maren to Yankee headsteads, turn down Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness. Yankee coverlets and Yankee blankets, prostrate themselves upon Yankee matresses and lay their heads upon Yankee pillows. The bedbugs are the only things not made by Yankee bands and imported from the land of the Yankees. On rising in the morning we tread Yankee carpets, stumble over Yankee chairs and sofas, build a fire from Yankee coal taken from Yankee scuttles to Yankee grates, catch the ashes in Yankee pans and use Yankee pokers. Yankee shovels and tongs. We repair to Yankee washshstands pour water from Yankee pitchers into Yankee bowls and wash with Yankee soap; then use Yankee towels and tooth-brushes. Next we march to a Yankee bureau and use Yankee combs, Yankee brushes, Yankee powder and Yankee cologne in Yankee bottles.

We sit down in a Yankee chair to a Yankee table, covered with a Yankee cloth, Yankee knives and forks, Yankee dishes, and feed upon Yankee food. We call for Yankee tooth-picks, seize Yankee hats from Yankee racks, twrn the key to Yankee locks, open a Yankee door, enter a Yankee buggy, seize the Yankee reins to a Yankee harness and repair to our places of business and spend the day in trading upon Yankee industry.
