

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1883

—The Miles starts for Tillamook this morning.
—East Portland is going to buy a $3,500 Sibley steam fire engine.
—F. D. Winton has been appointed notary public for Clatsop county.
—E. C. Holden advertises a sale at N. Johansen's beginning Saturday, the 25th inst.
—Mrs. Daniway, who has been visiting in Pacific county, returned yesterday morning.
—The Oregon is due from San Francisco to-morrow. The Columbia sails hence the same day.
—A Washington Territory pioneer association is about to be organized with headquarters at Olympia.
—Henry Villard has telegraphed to the Seattleites that he would be with them on the 15th of September.
—A fine of $50 is the penalty imposed upon those caught violating the law in regard to fishing on the Sacramento out of season.
—The Oregonian hears that the steamer Lurline is to be taken to Puget Sound this fall, to remain permanently in those waters.
—Information comes that the San Francisco board of underwriters has officially removed the restriction against the Rosenberg jaeger.
—The Clara Parker brought down the schooner Maid of Orleans last evening. She brought in a cargo of redwood, and leaves loaded with deals.
—Geo. D. Smith: Your brother recently died at Lathrop, Missouri, and left you some property. Write to Kearney, Missouri, and be enriched.
—The annual excursion and picnic of the Y. M. C. A., takes place today. The picnic will be at Young's River falls. The Clara Parker will leave at half past eight this morning.
—On her first trip from San Francisco to Honolulu, the new steamer Mariposa made the run in five days, twenty hours and thirty minutes. The distance is 2,082 miles, and the speed between the two ports is unparalleled.
—The editor of the Columbia Chronicle keeps a lot of newspapers on hand containing an account of the lynching of McPherson, to send to those writing for a copy of his paper, from which to learn "the advantages of the country."
—About half past ten yesterday morning, a man was found lying at the corner of Chenamus and Cass street, and, it being impossible to get him into a perpendicular position four men carried him to the city jail. He was dead—drunk.
—We think the daily papers do not serve any good purpose by hiding the fact that the channel from Portland to the sea is almost impracticable for commerce, and that unless something is done to tear away the bars Portland will be as much an inland town as Salem.—Welcome.
—The Portland newspapers are commenting on the peculiar garb that seems to be coming into fashion among the ladies; from one extreme to the other in the matter of skirts does seem to be the rule, but no one objects to it. Variety is the spice of life, and of dress.
—Kinney's new brick business building, and Carruthers brick residence are going ahead, the former being almost completed. The brick-makers of Messrs. Pugh & Co., struck for higher wages last week, but the work of making brick is but temporarily delayed. Next season will see several brick buildings in Astoria.
—Yesterday morning a twelve-year old son of L. Hartwig while examining a revolver, sustained a painful wound, the revolver discharging a bullet into the palm of his left hand. The little fellow displayed great courage, and without saying anything to any one, went to a physician's office and had the ball which, had lodged in the muscles of the back of the hand, extracted.
—A good deal has been written concerning the mortgage law. The general expression of opinion is that the law should stand, that there is no difference between a note and a mortgage as an evidence of indebtedness, and that as notes have always been taxed at their face value so should mortgages. A like unanimity of opinion exists as to the arbitrary valuation of land, though no remedy is suggested to obviate what is doubtless an existing evil.

Girls Wanted.

Among those who should come to this Northwest are girls capable and willing to do housework. At this office there is an almost constant inquiry like this:
"Can you tell me where I can find a girl to do housework?"
And we cannot. It is probable that one hundred girls, capable and efficient, could find places just now in this city.
The men folks are getting anxious to have near a bright, chatty, cozy-looking girl in the kitchen and about the house generally, for more reasons than one, the chief being that the season is coming apace when the early mornings will be chilly, and a fellow doesn't like to bounce out of bed at 5 o'clock and make a fire. A man would a good deal rather lie cuddled up in half a dozen blankets until the tea kettle begins to sing the breakfast reveille. There is no better time than the early morning hours to lie quiet and concoct schemes for getting ahead of your fellowmen. At this hour conscience has not fully awakened, and one feels particularly elated.
The lady who last inquired for a servant girl says that she is willing to give a girl a fair show if she will come along. She says her husband shall light the fire—with a very pronounced emphasis on the "shall" that bodes dire calamity to that rooster if he dares to whine. She says the girl can have her choice of all the dresses in the wardrobe, each Sunday out, two other evenings of the week, the run of the parlor and the latest music. When the minstrels come along the girl shall have a front pew, with chocolate caramels thrown in. If it is a box, then a box goes. If the girl will do the work, and let the lady have her husband, she can command a fair salary and any number of favors.
Candidly, we know of no place this side of the New Jerusalem where a hired girl can be so completely happy in all her surroundings as here in Portland. She has little work, plenty to eat, a good salary and nineteen chances in every possible twenty of being struck by Cupid lightning before she has closed the first fiscal year in service.—Standard.

The Water Works.

By main strength 1882 pieces of pipe have been dragged up from the bottom of the river beneath the O. R. & N. dock, and conveyed to Tongue Point, there to be doctored into something like what they originally were. Pipe-laying goes on at the rate of eight hundred feet a day, and the line now extends to within a short distance of the Scandinavian Packing company's building.
The St. Lucie will drop into Kinney's wharf to-day and begin unloading. She has 246 tons of pipe on top; principally four-inch and two-inch mains, and this pipe, as soon as possible, will be laid through the streets of the city.
—The Spanish Students, of whom so many favorable notices have appeared, will give an entertainment in Occidental Hall next Friday evening.
—The circuit court was yesterday engaged in hearing a case wherein Mollie Moran and Mamie Hart were charged with larceny from the person of A. J. Welch. The case was given to the jury at four o'clock; at the hour of going to press they were still out.
—The run of salmon has commenced in the bay and now the fishermen go for them nightly; but thus far the boats have not averaged a catch of more than about six each per night. The best haul reported to us was made by Samuel Anderson last Thursday night, when he caught ten large salmon and two sturgeon, weighing respectively about 25 and 50 pounds. The salmon taken at present are excellent and of large size, and the market is well supplied at the usual rates. Last week Anderson quartered some of his large fish and sold the pieces at 25 cents each.—Coast Mail, (Cous Bay).
—The man that falls in a fit and after coming to, asks four bits from the bystanders, is in the city. He will be followed by the individual who buys two bits worth of soap, wraps it in pink tissue paper, gets some envelopes with blank tickets in them and sells the two bits worth of soap for $17.50. After him will come the man on the steamer who was robbed, and wants to get back to some of the cow counties where his friends would take care of him. Then will appear the woman that lost her husband in the summer of '79 and is steadily declining superior inducements in the hope of finding James and proving that love lasts as long as life itself. About the same time the tailor who gives such splendid fits heaves in sight and wants your measure, and after him comes the man who has a brother or a sister or a cousin sick in Portland and won't the O. R. & N. Co., please give him a pass.

Lost.

A Parrot, with gray back and scarlet breast, on last Friday. Return to D. A. McIntosh's, in Occidental block.

Opening.

Aug. Danilsson opens his new place of business to-day, and as he is the first to reopen after being burned out, so he will be the first in accommodating old and new friends. The best brands of liquors and cigars always on hand.

Jay Cooke Invited to Attend the Completion of the Road he Planned.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.
PRESIDENT'S OFFICE, NEW YORK, July 10, 1883.
JAY COOKE, Esq., Philadelphia, Pa.
My Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find two cards of invitation to participate in the ceremonies connected with the opening of our main line from Saint Paul and Minneapolis and Lake Superior, to Portland Oregon and Puget Sound.
I welcome with special gratification this opportunity of manifesting my high regard and admiration for the man to whose initiative the creation of the Northern Pacific railroad is mainly due, and without whose energy and enterprise in its early days I should not now hold the position it is my good fortune to fill.
I hope that I shall have the satisfaction of seeing you on my right when the last spike is driven into the main track.
I expect to be able to tender you the privilege of a private car, and will advise you shortly of the exact date of departure.
Very truly yours,
H. VILLARD, President.

To the above letter, Mr. Cook made the following reply:
BEACH HAVEN, N. J., July 17, '83.
HENRY VILLARD, Pres. N. P. R. Co.
MY DEAR SIR: Your most kind letter inviting me to join in the excursion proposed, upon the completion of the Northern Pacific road has been sent me here. For your personal reference to myself and the recognition of my past services in this great enterprise, I cordially thank you. My faith in the Northern Pacific Co. has never faltered, and I have rejoiced in your success and have admired your pluck and energy.
If possible, I will accept your invitation; and as soon as I hear further from you as to the time of starting, will, if possible, put aside other plans and engagements and go on the trip, and will notify you.
Sincerely yours,
JAY COOKE.

A Decision in Favor of Poor Men.

Mr. Charles Davis "proof" for a homestead, 12 miles from town, has been rejected by the general land office—not on account of internal deficiency, for many are gaining titles to government land on weaker showing of residence and improvement, but because it was held that, being a man of means, he has no sufficient excuse for not remaining most of the time on his claim and so improving it as to fully manifest an intent to make a permanent home. Those young men of the city who have little means, and who are holding claims by periodical visits at such times as they can pass away from their employment and who are unable to pay for more extensive improvements than a small cabin, and a few acres for plowing, would seem to have in this decision no cause for alarm, if they are proceeding in good faith. However, the decision in Mr. Davis' case is unique, in that seldom if ever before has the department made distinction between rich and poor in the matter of homestead residence and improvement. Most every one heretofore is familiar with instances of homestead proof accepted from persons in good circumstances whose evidences of good faith have been inferior to those exhibited by Mr. Davis. The inference is either that the department has become lately bent on a closer drawing of the lines, or, what is more probable, that the special agent now here, by inquiry into particular cases, is affording the department evidences heretofore unobtainable, upon which intelligent conclusions may be based. If the result of his efforts shall be a check to the prevailing looseness of ideas regarding the taking of government land—a demoralization, by the way, which owes much to loose laws and rulings at Washington—this neighborhood will have reason to bless Mr. Grass and his mission. It is a little rough on Mr. Davis, though, that he should have to figure as a horrible example, when many predecessors, of more money and less good faith, have secured titles to homesteads without encountering a single embarrassing question.—Walla Walla Journal.

"A Drop of Joy in Every Word."

DE R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Three months ago I was broken out with large ulcers and sores on my body, limbs and face. I procured your "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Purgative Pellets" and have taken six bottles, and to-day I am in good health, all those ugly ulcers having healed and left my skin in a natural, healthy condition. I thought at one time that I could not be cured, although I can but poorly express my gratitude to you, yet there is a drop of joy in every word I write.

Yours truly,
JAMES O. BELLS, Flemington, N. J.
