

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 23, 1883

The Spanish Students are on the incoming steamer.

The Columbia's tributaries are all low, but it makes very little difference at Astoria.

Seattle talks of a brick railroad depot, 1200 feet long, and costing $1,000,000.

The Columbia sails for San Francisco to-day; and the Oregon is due from that city.

The Vandator announces that East Portland is the actual terminus of the Northern Pacific railroad.

The Oregon Short Line has crossed the Owyhee river and its track is laid to within fifteen miles of Boise.

Millard Stout, aged 23, was shot and killed at The Dalles last Tuesday. John Clanton, the murderer, is under arrest.

At the last term of the circuit court held in Portland, there were forty-four jury trials, and two acquittals.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the O. F. L. & B. Association will be held at the hall of Beaver Lodge this evening.

A building 25x70 is building on the southwest corner Squemoqua and Olney streets to be occupied by J. G. Charters upon completion.

The good ship Highland Light arrived in from Guaymas on the 22d of November, 1882, and has been lying at Kinney's dock ever since.

The Glenberie is about finished. She will take about 22,000 cases. The Kate F. Troop has a large cargo aboard, something over 50,000 cases.

An inspection of the county records shows that there are twenty deeds to one mortgage recorded, a fact that speaks well for the community.

The longshoremen will have an excursion to Knappa on the Clara Parker next Sunday, leaving Main street wharf at eight o'clock A. M. See adv.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the White Star Packing company will be held in the company's office at upper Astoria at ten o'clock this morning.

In the matter of business failures Astoria furnishes creditable comparison with other communities, but one failure having occurred here since January 1, 1883.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Gardner Bros. 165 First street, Portland. This well-known music house has an established reputation and guarantees its sales.

A Washington territory exchange talks of a "widow woman." The fact that a widow is necessarily a woman, suggests tautology in the phrasing of our esteemed contemporary.

Oscar Wilde says: "Music to be charming should be unexpected." That shows just how much he knows about it. Let an organ grinder suddenly strike up, or an accordion break in upon one's dreams, and where's the charm?

The Northwest for August is on our desk. It is a neat looking publication, but the map of the N. P. R. R., where Astoria is left out, and "Kalama" substituted, spoils its claim to veracity; but, probably, the poor fellow that runs it must do as his employees bid him or get out.

Mr. Villard is to strike the last spike once for each 100 miles of Northern Pacific road—the line is 1,930 miles in extent. This will make 19 full blows and one light one. The driving of the last spike—that is the blows that are given—will be heard in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Portland and Kalama.

Grant county, in this state, is a county of magnificent distance. It is 204 miles in length, 90 miles wide, and has a superficial area of 18,360 square miles. It is more than thirteen times as large as Rhode Island, and nearly two and one-half times as large as Massachusetts. If the county were divided into farms 160 acres each, there would be 73,440 of them.

E. A. Noyes, the Astoria agent of the O. R. & N. Co., received a telegram last Tuesday night that on and after Saturday, the 25th inst., the Northern Pacific R. R. Co. will receive through freight from Astoria to all points east, and that freight will be sent through from all eastern points to Astoria. One furniture dealer informs us that he will have a car load of furniture through on one of the first freight trains, and no doubt merchants in other lines of business will find it to their interest to buy in bulk and get the benefit of through rates.

Y. M. C. A. Excursion.

The annual picnic of the Y. M. C. A., of this city which took place yesterday, was in every sense a success. The party, some ninety in number, started on the Clara Parker at nine o'clock, and enjoyed a pleasant ride to Young's river falls. Arriving there they separated into little groups each enjoying himself or herself to the fullest. The picnic grounds, which comprise a scene of great natural beauty were more than ordinarily attractive to the excursionists, and when lunch was spread everybody who had no neglected the injunction regarding well filled baskets was ready with a zest of appetite that betokened havoc to the tempting display of good things provided. This was more than enough and the fragments filled twelve baskets. The picnickers started home at five, and at seven reached the dock thoroughly satisfied with the day's pleasure and of the unanimous opinion that they had "a real good time."

Bridge Contract Let.

The contract for the six piers comprising the stone work for the Northern Pacific bridge over the Willamette has been let to Hon. D. P. Thompson and R. M. Steel, though the papers have not yet been signed. Cost of the stonework will approximate $500,000. The great work of getting out the stone will commence without delay, though it is not likely that any will be laid in the river before next spring. The method of constructing piers is as follows: First, a caisson is sunk in the river around the spot where the foundation is to be located, and the sand within it is pumped out to the depth of twelve feet. Then piles will be driven within the caisson as closely together as possible, and cut off about twelve feet below the bed of the river. They will be capped and cross capped, and then the first layer of stone will be put on. Thus the base of the piers will be nearly ten feet below the river level. The company will build the superstructure. Oregonian.

Track laying on the Northern Pacific will be finished to-day. This is a little too fine an item, but we know of no statement ever made of any event that will have more influence upon Astoria and the northwest than the above.

The present mail schedule between here and Chadwell has been changed. By the new arrangement, the mail will leave here Saturdays at 12:30 P. M.; arrive at Chadwell by 3:30 P. M. Leave Chadwell Saturdays at 7:30 A. M.; arrive here by 10:30 A. M.

On the 10th and 11th prox., with becoming eclat Portland will celebrate the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad. Round trip tickets, good from the 8th to the 13th, inclusive can be bought at forty per cent. reduction at the Astoria office by those who contemplate going. See adv.

In the circuit court yesterday the jury in the case of the W. S. and M. Co. vs. W. G. Ross, brought in a verdict of $3.00 for the defendant. Chas. Anderson, who had been previously convicted of larceny was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. J. Butterfield was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary.

In the police court yesterday appeared George Hill on a charge of violating ordinance No. 531. Geo. W. Yocum and F. J. Taylor appeared for the defense; city attorney Winton for the prosecution. The case was argued at length, and his honor fined the defendant ten dollars. The case comes up again in the circuit court this morning.

Thos. Savage, an old and well-known resident of this place, died at the hospital yesterday afternoon in the 69th year of his age. The immediate cause of his death was heart disease, though he has been ailing ever since a dreadful accident which occurred to him nearly a year ago, whereby he was badly burned by the breaking of a coal oil lamp. The funeral will be from the hospital at two o'clock this afternoon.

From Salem comes a report that when Thomas Patterson who was sentenced for five years by Judge Bennett, arrived at the penitentiary and was ordered to throw up his hands for the purpose of being searched by Deputy Warden Jackson he refused and showed fight. He was promptly knocked down and the search was made. After which, for his display of obstinacy, he was heavily ironed and placed in the dungeon for twenty-four hours.

When court was called yesterday morning, the jury in the case of Molle Moran and Mamie Martin, charged with larceny, sent word that they could not agree, and asked to be discharged. This the judge refused to do. At six o'clock yesterday afternoon they again sent word that it was impossible for them to agree upon a verdict, but the judge refused to discharge them. At half-past ten last night, it being apparent that they could not agree upon a verdict, the judge discharged them from further consideration of the case. The jury had stood eleven for conviction and one for acquittal.
