

The Daily Astorian. ASTORIA, OREGON: FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1883

No Celebration Yesterday. Though the uncertainty attending the movements of the N. P. R. R. party did not call out the full measure of exertion, yet the preparations made, impromptu though they were, for the reception of the visitors yesterday afternoon were of a nature that must have been a matter of surprise to the visitors and credit to the city, had they seen fit to honor us with their presence.

THE NEW YORK TIMES says James G. Blaine will not be a candidate for the presidency next year, but that he will throw his influence in favor of some man who will make Blaine one of his cabinet ministers. His whole ambition now is to again become secretary of state.

ATTENTION is called to the fact that Jefferson Davis is still on bail, having been released after his capture at the close of the war upon giving good and sufficient sureties, and the bond still holds good.

ASTORIA would have been glad to meet and welcome the distinguished gentlemen who came across the sea to witness a great event, to see a great country and who missed seeing the best of it by their host's sudden change of programme. They have our sincere regrets, and should any of them in their individual capacity see fit to visit the mouth of the grandest Pacific river he will see a sight that will repay him for his trouble and receive a hearty welcome from Astorians who are proud of their city, its position, its growing importance and its future.

THE LONDON TIMES, of the 11th, in its leading article says: "It is difficult to avoid suspicion that the Canton riot was directly connected with the excitement caused by French operations in Tonquin. The time has arrived to more effectually secure British lives and property in China. The Chinese cannot be too forcibly impressed with the truth that all foreigners are not Frenchmen, and that the enormous interests of England should be vigilantly protected. We can no longer postpone substantial reinforcement to our fleet in China. There exists no reason to believe that either France or China is in a mood to invoke England's mediation. The French have not reached the preliminary stage of realizing the perilous course they have entered upon."

ASTORIA presented a beautiful appearance yesterday afternoon, and it was a pretty good sight of itself to see the city decked out, and the splendor of the September sunlight without any further adjuncts. But Astorians feel slighted. Every little cross-road in the northwest had an invited representative except Astoria, and that the second city in the state should be so completely ignored is naturally a little displeasing. When Astoria's big day comes let it be for us to act with courtesy and magnanimity.

THE NEW YORK POST regarding the city church-bell nuisance, says: "The church-bell anywhere is an anachronism, lingering since the time when the priest was the only person in the parish who had, or could read, a watch or clock. In modern circumstances nobody needs a vocal call to church any more than to his office or to the theater."

ASTORIA, you have your unsurpassable fisheries, you have a fine country contiguous to you; develop it, it belongs to you, you are bound to be its distributing point.—Standard.

"No pent up Utica contracts our powers, but," etc., and don't you forget it.

HENRY CLEWS and Jay Cooke are again rich, but Mr. Clews alone is in active business at the old stand. He lost $5,000,000 in one day in September 1873. He was so poor that he had to send his wife to her own family for six months to support. He is worth, to-day, it is said, at least $2,000,000.

THE NEW YORK TIMES says James G. Blaine will not be a candidate for the presidency next year, but that he will throw his influence in favor of some man who will make Blaine one of his cabinet ministers. His whole ambition now is to again become secretary of state.

ATTENTION is called to the fact that Jefferson Davis is still on bail, having been released after his capture at the close of the war upon giving good and sufficient sureties, and the bond still holds good.

DR. SCOTT, the author of the Scott bill in Ohio, says the state will give Foraker 30,000 majority, and that the legislature will be Republican. He finds his measure popular in all parts of the state.

TWO HUNDRED Republican meetings are announced to come off in Iowa, mostly before the middle of September. They call it a "fighting campaign" there.

DAKOTA Territory is four times as big as Ohio, and Alaska is four times as big as Dakota, and the rest of the United States is four times as big as Alaska.

GALVESTON harbor now has a depth of fifteen feet on the bar, due to the jetties which are being built for the improvement of the channel.

UNCLE SAM has 47,932 post-offices, and over a million unhappy sons who have vainly sought positions in them.

NEW YORK city has a population of 1,300,000. There are but 61,052 persons who own real estate in the city.
