

The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1883. One Way to Build the Road.

It is reported that at Salem and other points in the Willamette valley great concern is felt concerning the Astoria railroad, and that residents are just as anxious to have the road built as any Astorian can be.

N. W. AYER & SONS' newspaper annual for 1883, gives a good general idea of the newspaper business of the United States, and contains a good deal of general information of use and value.

EVERY part of the Northern Pacific Railroad has been paid for by the United States, says the New York Star. That is to say, the value of the land under the grant of congress will realize more than the road has cost.

The present amount of tonnage in the Columbia river is sufficient to force the freight rate to a lower point than has ruled for several seasons. There are about twenty thousand tons disengaged and nearly sixty thousand more on the way, or sufficient to move 120,000 tons of wheat.

The tariff upon China rice is $1 12 1/2 per mat of 50 lbs. This is about the same as a tariff of $1 50 upon a barrel of flour—yet the stupid "heatben" are content to work for one dollar a day and persist in eating rice at that figure, when they might live on untaxed flour for half cost!

An editorial, six and a half columns in length, reviewing the session of Parliament, appeared in the London Times of the 25th ultimo.

Villard's Possible Retirement.

About the time that Henry Villard started westward with his party of notables to drive the last spike, came on the wind a rumor that his great triumph was but to end in being shelved, and that at the coming meeting of the railroad directors Mr. Villard would be relieved of the railroad presidency.

THE effect of Villard's retirement would be disastrous to its prosperity. The life and energy that the road and its tributaries possess have been infused by him and after him would exist but in a relative degree.

THE Press' New York special correspondent, who is well "posted" on the Northern Pacific, but of strong feverish proclivities, says the following is the theory put forth on the street concerning the rumor of a Gould-Huntington pool, to secure control of the Oregon Transcontinental: If it is true that Gould has purchased any large amount of Transcontinental he has been enabled to do it through the extravagance of Villard.

THE evening papers say that Villard stocks continue the leading feature of the stock exchange, and sales of immense blocks came out all day. Reports were current that Drexel, Morgan & Co., who had advanced many millions to the company, had called in some of their loans, and that the holders, being unable to respond, the stocks were sold at market.

SALES recorded an aggregate of 1,000,000 shares in the three stocks; about $25,000 in Northern Pacific preferred, 275,000 in the common and 300,000 in Oregon and Transcontinental. Besides this large amount there were immense contracts settled privately with the bears, who reaped a harvest of several million dollars.

A NEW ORLEANS grand jury has made a report which is causing a sensation in the Crescent City. The document sets forth that office holders are corrupt, that vice advertises itself with electric lights, that sluggers abound, that the food of the city is contaminated through the filthiness of the markets, and that the capitalists evade their taxes.

THERE are said to be about 60,000 drummers or commercial travelers in this country, including men who run around selling on commission. Some of them get as high as $10,000 a year and expenses, quite a number get as high as $3,000 to $5,000 a year, and the average salary is about $1,500 and expenses, the latter averaging $6 a day.

SPURKON says that it is possible for a man to be a Christian and belong to a brass band, but it would be difficult for such a man's next door neighbor to be a Christian.

MORE than forty-three thousand books and pamphlets have already been published on the subject of electricity. No wonder we know next to nothing about it.

THE Court at Berlin devoted eight days to the mourning of Chamber, but the Court of Portugal got through the job in half the time.

SINCE the beginning of the century there have been twenty-nine military revolutions in Spain. Very little progress has been made however.
