The Secret

of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it-no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health-in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

Honors at Wholesale.

It is said that while the Rev. James Keene, generally referred to by the boys as Jim Keene, was a resident of the Pacific Coast, a rough looking specimen of the California farmer burst in upon him one day with:

"Say, Kurnel, my wife has got a brand-new baby, and we've named it Jim Keene Thompson."

"Y-e-s," slowly answered the reverend gentleman, as he passed over a $20 gold piece.

In about an hour another man from the same neighborhood entered with the salutation:

"Say, Keene, what do you think? We have built a church up our way and named it the Jim Keene chapel. Can't you come down with a shiner or two?" "Well, I suppose I'll have to,", replied the reverend as he shelled out a $10 piece. Thirty minutes had searcely passed when in came a third man with: "Good morning, Judge. We are building a school house over the creek to be called the Jim tarner Awar, Esca. Salived Cought Keene school. Want to contribute a few?"

"Yes," was the reply as five dollars was passed out.

before a fourth man bustled in and called out:

"Keene, I discovered a new canyon up the country the other PLUMBERS AND STEAM FITTERS day, and I dedicated it to you."

"Look here," said the reverend gentleman, as he turned in his chair, "I want you to go back and hunt up all the new babies, school canyons, lunatic asylums, burying grounds and berry patches in your country which are to be Jim Keened, and come back here and give me the whole lot at wholesale, for I am blanked if I am going to fool with the retail business any longer! Good day, sir!"

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story with a Large Moral One Man who Knew his Own Business.

"No. my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose hend scarcely came up to the level of the "No, my dear, we haven't any red counter. finnnel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses," Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpos quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted

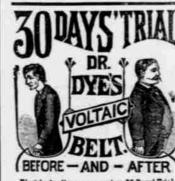

"Have you BENSON'S CAPCINE PLAS-TERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it de sired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and sthe Benon's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as on as it touches the skin."

"Not at present." replied the druggist, geninlly "but, we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and thers-won't one of them do as well?"

"My dear sir," retorted the gentleman with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago for another disease, of which the Capcine has since cured me, I tried all those you mention. with no appreciable beneat. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this that they make plasters with similar sound ing names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me the difference. I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day."

Bo on your guard against imitations. The renuine has the word CAPCINE our cleanly in the middle of the plaster. All others are
