Getting a Criminal Practice.

A murderer in New York can, if he chooses, take his pick from a considlawyers, even though he hasn't a dol-lar with which to pay. "I was five years getting into a profitable crimi-nal practice," one of the men in this line is quoted as saying, "and I succeeded only by serving gratis. I haunted police courts, and to every prisoner committed for trial who had no counsel, I tendered myself. In the trial courts the judge may assign any lawyer present to defend the prison not provided with counsel. I made it a point to be on hand for these assignments. Of course many of the cases were so small that they did not get into the papers at all, and in some that were reported my name would not appear, but usually each hard day's work brought the desired remarks in the world religious to the same of could be the same of the sa ward in the way of publicity. practice grew to immense proportions, but it was a year before I could get enough money out of it in a week to pay my modest board bill on Saturday night. At the end of the second year I had worked up to a barely liv-ing income, but I had a debt left to clear off, and it is only very lately that I have become established firmly enough to refuse all but cash cases. #### Immigration Items.

At The Northern Pacific land office the statement is made that as the winter increases in severity there is a slight falling off in the number of emigrants and settlers seeking homes in the northwest, but the number of letters of inquiry show a marked in-crease. These letters indicate that large numbers of people are making preparations to come to this country next spring, and portend a large influx of population. Most of these inquiries now come from states and countries where the winters are most severe and are of longest duration. A curious fact in connection with the receipt of letters at the land bureau requesting information about the country is that large numbers are always received from regions affected with cyclones, violent showers and blizzards. These letters invariably make their appearance in great quan-tities from a district just recovering from one of these disastrious visit-ations. The number of enigrants passing through St. Paul during November for points west of Spokane Falls average fifty-five per cent This was fully up to the average of the previous month, but slightly in excess of the average for the month

The Best of an Infant.

John Kelley, Esq., Sheriff of Otsego County, N. Y., says that for years he had been a constant sufferer from rheumatism of the knee, and could not sleep. He applied St. Jacobs Oil, and that night he slept as peacefully as an infant. It cured him.

SLIGHT ODDS. A Little Story with a Large Moral One Man who Knew his Own Business. "No. my dour," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any red flannel, but we have some first rate New Or-leans molasses." Softly blitting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted.

TERS?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. 'I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbage, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as oon as it touches the skin." "Not at present." replied the draggist, genially " but, we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsicum and others-won't one of them do as well?" "My dear sir," retorted the gentleman with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a busines man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometime ago. for another disease, of which the Capcine has since cured me, I tried all those you mentiou with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meanest act of the proprietors of some of them being this that they make plasters with similar sound ing names to decrive the unwary into believ-ing they are the same thing.
